OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF KLAMATH FALLS

Let us have faith that right makes might, and that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it—Abraham Lincoln

TO THE YOUTH OF KLAMATH

Klamath would, indeed, be proud to send the pick of its youth to the pride of a nation's military institutions—the Naval Academy of Annapolis. It is an honor not often accorded. Each year every United States Senator and every Congressman is given the appointive power of one candidate.

High school boys of Klamath, we urge you to compete with youths of other sections of the state for the appointment Congressman Sinnott has so generously tendered.

Unfortunately, it is not often a Congressman or Senator has been liberal enough to open the road to any youth in the state. Usually he has some political friend's boy to whom he shows preference, providing he can make the grade.

There is plenty of brawn and brain among the youth of Klamath between the ages of 17 to 21. We would like to see you make it boys, and the pride of a city would go out with you, wishing you success when you leave for the splendid manhood-making training at the Academy.

ENCOURAGING TIMBER PRODUCTION

The unfair burden of annual property taxes is an insurmountable handicap in the growing of young trees for our future timber crop. An annual tax on growing forests is equivalent to taxing farm lands thirty or forty times between the seeding and harvesting of crops.

Two southern states have recognized the necessity for revising taxes on land being reforested, and in these states such lands are put under contract with the state and "set aside, used, managed and protected as reforestation, or timber production tracts," at a fixed annual assessment on the land for a specified period, not to exceed forty years. A yield tax, based on the appraised value of the timber at that time, is paid when the timber is cut from the land.

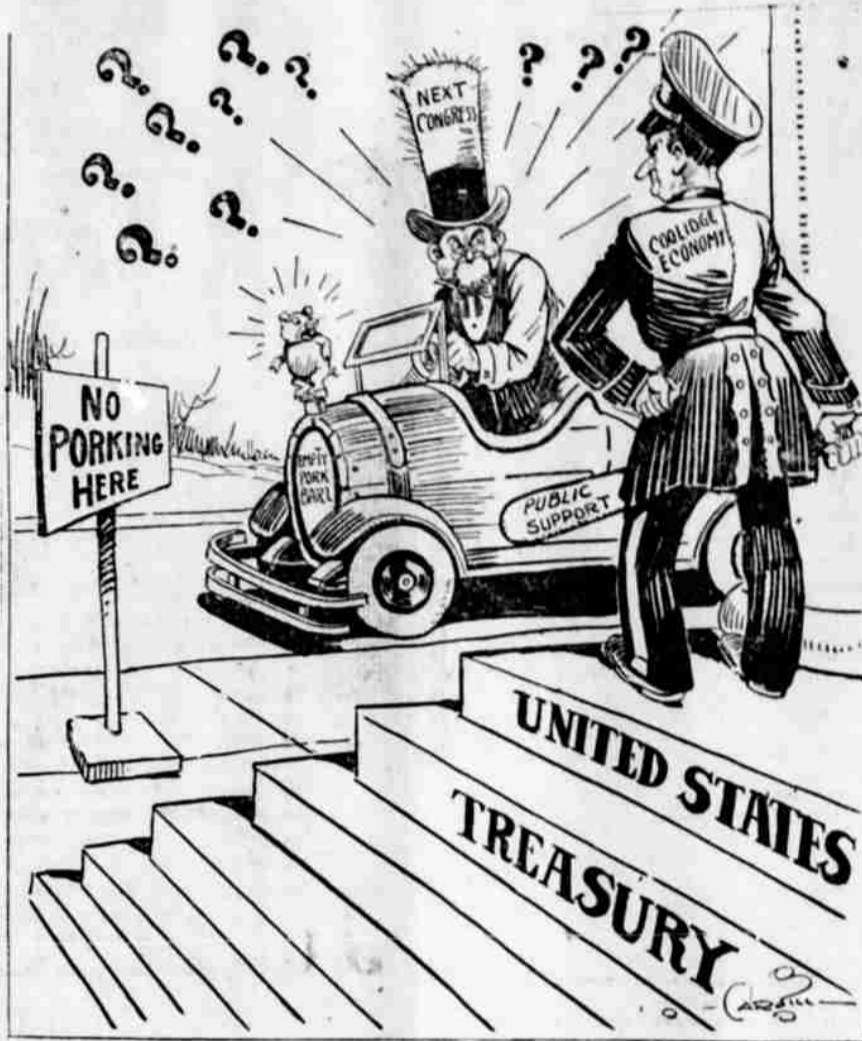

Some such policy will have to be generally adopted if private reforestation is to be encouraged.

THE LAND OF PROSPERITY

The National Industrial Conference Board, Inc., finds that the American wage earner is the best paid worker on earth. On a chart showing what labor will buy of all the comforts of life, the wage scale of Philadelphia was taken as 100 per cent. On this basis wages in foreign cities and countries are as follows:

Philadelphia, 100; Sydney, Australia, 70; Ottawa, Canada, 69; London, 45; Copenhagen, Denmark, 41; Oslo (Christiania), Norway, 38; Amsterdam, Holland, 37; Stockholm, Sweden, 36; Paris, France, 33; Berlin, German, 29; Prague Czechoslovakia, 29; Brussels, Belgium, 28; Lodz, Poland, 27; Rome, Italy, 23; Vienna, Austria, 23; Warsaw, Poland, 23; Milan, Italy, 21.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

EX-FIANCEE BARS THEIR WAY TO LOVE
 Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been keeping company with a young man for over a year, but not steady, because he lives in a different town; and this winter I went away to school and we didn't get to see each other so often. I love him with my whole heart and soul and he returns my love, but there is another girl who stands in our way. He went with her about two years before I met him. He does not love her, but she will not give him his freedom, as they were partially engaged. She is much older than he and she has threatened to take her life if he gives her up. I love him so much that it would break my heart to give him up and I am sure he loves me in the same way. The other girl knows all of this, but she will not give him up. He has told her he doesn't love her but she will not listen. Do you think it would be wise for us to get married and go to live in a different town or what shall I do?

MUSICIAN: As I have stated in this column many times, I do not reveal the names or addresses of correspondents.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWERED.

A BROKEN DATE
 Dear Mrs. Thompson: A friend of mine asked me for a date several weeks ago and broke it. But later he said it wasn't his fault that he broke it. But I can't understand why, because that day I saw him with another about an hour after I was to meet him. Well, now he's begging for other dates. Should I give them to him? My girl friends all say that I'd be a fool if I gave him another date.

BETTY.
 It looks as if the young man deceived you; but unless he gave you a definite explanation, as he should have, you cannot be sure. If you like him enough, give him another chance, but if the offense is repeated, there should be no doubt in your mind what to do.

MRS. E. Perhaps you misunderstand this habit of your father; I hope so. If it is true, it certainly is one you should influence him to break himself of. If you are

MRS. C. E. M. I am unable to prescribe for the ailment of your tomato vines. Write to the agricultural experiment station, at the state college of agriculture.

DINNER STORIES

The inexperienced maid was instructed to jab each sausage so it would not burst before being served at breakfast. She seemed surprised at the instructions, so her mistress said:
 "Just stick a fork in each one."
 The girl nodded comprehendingly.

Imagine the family's astonishment when her Sunday morning breakfast a dish of sausages was served with a kitchen fork standing upright in each sausage. One diminutive sausage had a corkscrew in it, there being a shortage of forks.

An aged, gray-haired and very wrinkled old woman, arrayed in the outlandish calico costume of the mountains, was summoned as a witness in court to tell what she knew about a fight in her house. She took the witness stand with evidences of backwardness and proverbial Bourbon veridancy. The judge asked her in a kindly voice what took place. She insisted it did not amount to much but the judge by his persistency finally got her to tell the story of the bloody fracas.

"Now, I tell ye, judge, it didn't amount to nuthin'. The fust I knowed about it was when Bill Saunder called Tom Smith a liar, an Tom knocked him down with a stick o' wood. One o' Bill's friends then cut Tom with a knife, alicin' a big chunk cut o' him. Then Sam Jones, who was a friend of Tom's, shot the other fellow and two more shot him, en three or four others got cut right smart by somebody. That natchly caused some excitement, judge, en then they commenced fightin'."

During the cross-examination of a witness in a case tried in New York the examining lawyer demanded rather pompously:

"Now, sir, did you or did you not, on the day in question or at any other time, say to the defendant or to any one else that the statement imputed to you and denied by the plaintiff was a matter of no moment or otherwise? Answer me, yes or no."

The witness seemed bewildered. "Yes or no what?" he finally managed to gasp out.

TODAY'S RECIPES
Cornmeal Waffles—Pour one and three-quarters of a pint of boiling water into a pint of cornmeal. Stir this mixture rapidly as it thickens. Then cook it for a half hour, adding a teaspoon of salt and a heaping tablespoon of butter. When it is done, set it aside to cool. Beat into mush four whites, first the yolks, then the stiffly-beaten whites, a cup and a half of milk, a teaspoon of baking powder and a pint of flour sifted in slowly. If the batter seems a little thick, a small amount of milk may be added. Pour the batter onto a well-greased waffle iron and cook in the usual way. Serve whipped cream and maple syrup with these waffles.

Succotash—Take two cups of green beans, broken in small pieces, one cup corn (raw) cut from the cob, one-half cup bacon cut in small pieces, salt and pepper to taste. Add enough water to cover and simmer over low flame for at least three hours, adding water as it boils away.

Carried Lima Beans—Cook one cup of lima beans with a small onion sliced and one-quarter cup of diced meat. Next add one-quarter cup of rice, one-half cup of sweet corn, one cup tomato soup or three whole tomatoes and one teaspoon of curry powder. Simmer, slowly until vegetables and rice are done. Season and serve with toast.

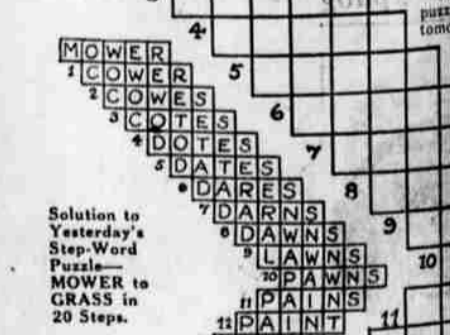

This same recipe makes a very tasty dish if served with steak. Omit the diced meat, and prepare all together. Place on cut of steak and roll. If the mixture is not of the right consistency, add bread crumbs, bake until tender.
