PIRATES DEFEATED BY GIANT ROOK KENT GREENFIELD IN SOMKY CITY

Walter Johnson Pitches Senators To Victory In Last Game Of Doubleheader After Uhle Blanks Senators In First Clash

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(United News)—As the Pittsburgh constables swung their batons at the grandstand gamblers in the Pirates' ball yard Thursday, to forestall another outbreak of shady rumors, the Giants took a paste at the Pirates in retaliation for some wallops they have received in the course of their western tour. For the last few seasons the governors of the National league have been especially touchy about gambling on critical games of ball between the leading teams in the late weeks of the season. And a series involving the Pirates and Giants is likely to invite very close watching because the tight competition between them is certain to interest the gambling talent.

Kent Greenfield, a pitcher of this year's crop, operated for the Giants in Thursday's game, holding the Pirates to five hits, and a score of 4 to 1. That victory set the Giants forward one complete notch, but they still are 4½ games behind the Pirates, and have six more defeats against them than the Pittsburgh team has. Less than two weeks ago the Giants were leading, and now they must depend on their New York series with the Pirates about two weeks hence, as a chance to regain the top.

There was only one other game in the National league, the Cubs defeating the Cardinals, 8 to 5.

The Senators muffed an ornate opportunity to close in on the Athletics. They divided a double header with the Indians, while the Athletics were losing to the Browns 5 to 4. The Indians, with Uhle pitching, shut out Buckeye Harris' team 2 to 0, in the first game. Washington made only six hits. In the second, Walter Johnson, Gregg and Firpo Marberry, the pitching pall-bearer, took parts in fabricating a 5 to 4 victory.

The Senators might have gained 1½ games by winning both times, and this would have placed them just one game to the rear. As it was, they gained only half a game and are still two games to the bad. Furthermore they have played one game more than the Athletics and have lost three more than Connie Mack's class has dropped.

The rain cancelled the other two games on the American league program.

The Fight Is On; The Fight Is Off; Publicity Goes On

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—(United News)—Although Floyd Fitzsimmons, the Chicago promoter, claims to have Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills, virtually signed up for a fight in the middlewest Tex Rickard is maintaining his usual calm as he awaits Friday's meeting of the New York fight commission, which seems to hold a stoutlash over Dempsey.

Fitzsimmons has dickered with Dempsey in Los Angeles and with Paddy Mullins, the manager of Wills, in New York. Mullins said Thursday that he was satisfied with the terms that Fitzsimmons offered for Wills, but said he wouldn't sign until he was first assured that the New York commission assented to the arrangement. Jack Kearns although disavowed by Dempsey is expected to address the commission Friday and standing on his rights as Dempsey's manager under the contract will probably offer to sign articles for the Wills match on the champion's behalf. The name of the promoter may be left blank in this document to permit Rickard and Fitzsimmons to bid against each other.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

BY NORMAN E. BROWN

When Eddie Rommell, Athletic pitching ace, is in his real form he is one of the greatest pitchers in the game. He has, among other assets, the best controlled and most knuckle effective ball in existence.

Right now Eddie is in form—and has his knuckle ball working.

Considering this, the fact that he has run up a string of 18 or more victories to date, does not startle those who know the smiling Edwin Americus, as he was christened.

He has already reached the mark he set for the entire campaign last year, and also the year before. And he still has close to two months to go. Which means that he has a good chance to surpass his great record of 27 victories, hung up in 1922, when he showed the way to all the pitchers.

Rommell's failure to come within a few games of that mark in 1923 caused considerable disappointment in Philadelphia, as it looked for a time as though the Athletics were ready to cop.

No one was more disappointed than Eddie, when he failed again last year, although he set a mark of more than 20 victories. He was handicapped, however, by the collapse of the team.

While Eddie has been plugging along with this, that and the other combination tried out by Connie in the five years that Rommel has been with the outfit, up to the present campaign Eddie had won 86 and lost but 77 games, for an average of .528.

Unless he runs into some mighty bad luck this season, he ought to increase his distance from the .500 mark, as he is running close to a .775 average.

When mention is made of the fact that the Giants once had a chance to keep Rube Walberg, now one of Rommel's fellow teammates and a star, it might be well to point out the fact that Eddie himself, made a trip south with the Giants in the spring of 1919. He was not the property of the New York club, however. He was owned by the Newark club at the time, and the Mackmen bought him from that club at the close of the 1919 campaign, after Rommel had won 22 and lost 15 games for the International league club.

Lee Ellenberger, one of the new pitchers bought by the Brooklyn Dodgers in their quest for youngsters, carries whatever distinction there is to being the first member of the Blu Ridge league to be grabbed off by the majors this season.

Ellenberger has been pitching good ball for the Hanover club in that minor circuit. If he makes the grade he will run into another ex-Blue Ridger when Brooklyn visits the Giant field. For Hack Wilson went up via the same circuit. Lu Blue, Detroit first sacker, is another star who got some of his early training at least, in that circuit.

Some wiseacre has said that baseball is the most uncertain game in the world. Which remark is called to mind by Jack Quinn's recent activities.

Lee Fohl, Red Sox manager, released the veteran hurler a short time ago. Gave as his reason later the fact that Quinn could win a few games in the spring and some in the fall, but couldn't stand the heat of a mid-summer day.

The Athletics grabbed Jack at the waiver price and the wise old flinger proceeded to grab off a few victories for himself.

And Philadelphia hasn't the name of being a cool summer resort.

Thirteen consecutive victories. But one defeat before that run. That is Stanley Coveleskie's answer to the queries raised last spring as to whether he was sincere in his belief that he could prove to the owners of the Cleveland club in particular and fandom in general that he was not through. An emphatic answer from the old spitballer, we would say, as he helps keep Washington in the pennant fight.

LOCAL SPORTSMEN TO COMPLETE PLANS FOR VENISON BARBECUE

Complete arrangements for the venison barbecue to be given at the Crooked Creek hatchery Sunday, September 13, will be made Monday evening in the chamber of commerce when members of the Klamath Sportsmen's association will meet at 8 p. m.

The main feature of the meeting will be a report of the secretary of his recent visit to the Tumalo irrigation project, six miles above Bend.

The venison barbecue will be held all day Sunday with all members of the Sportsmen's association, their families and friends invited.

Race Riots Feared In Missouri Cotton Town

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 13. (United News)—Word that serious racial disorders were impending in Bragg City, in the heart of the cotton section of the state, was received here in a telegram, asking Governor Baker to act.

The message came from Mayor George Brown, and indicated the situation had outgrown the efforts of local authorities to cope with it.

The homes of three negroes have been dynamited and several women and children injured, the message stated. Planters declare it is a move to frighten the negroes out of the town before the cotton season opens. A request for troops was made.
