WHY CHIROPRACTIC?

A fall, a sudden jar or any apparently trivial accident may result in the displacing of one or more vertebrae, causing undue pressure on certain nerves.

It is but natural that the parts of the body in which these nerves terminate should be affected as a consequence.

CHIROPRACTIC, the new science, through simple, painless adjustments restores the displaced vertebrae to their normal positions.

The unnatural pressure removed, the nerves and affected parts will function as nature intended and health will be restored.

Rheumatism, lumbago, goitre, constipation, headaches, are but a few of the many common complaints that are relieved by chiropractic.
