

PLANS MADE FOR COUNTY FAIR

Meeting of the fair board will close late Thursday night with important decisions on the rounding out of the coming county fair. H. Galloway, chairman, decides the location of the fair at the Altamont dance grounds. Contract for music for the fair is secured. The fair will add some brass instruments to the dance orchestra, and a trombone, that will add needed weight to the large spaces of the use of the race track will be upon. Running horses will be used of the track from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. after 4 p. m. or later if convenient by Superintendent. From 9 to 10:30 a. m. will have free sway and after August 31, racing on the track from 10:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. will be the condition of the track as left by auto. It is necessary to drag the track after each day's use by the fair. Cereals, the hours of the fair will be early. The fair will be with string and the fair will be for the past two weeks of the fair and development of the fair as they become a dozen more running horses, horses have the reservations during the advertising was authorized by the board and the striking red and black of the press was disseminated of the out of town for their contribution in the fair. The Klamath county state fair were discussed the recommendations of Henderson, who has in charge, favorably act. It was suggested that by the board representatives Josephine, Coos and together early in the year, dates for county would start with Klamath northward toward at Salem, might be arranged, thereby in stock and racing men transportation without back over the route, as if they intend to show counties and the state fair. It is to be hoped that be passed and acted upon of all exhibitors at sea. It was also mentioned with the completion, then cut-off that exhibits, and visitors would be from the Willamette valley.

Dyer was named for head of the livestock pavilion. Henderson visited him during prior to the opening and the three days requests for space to growing and attractive of the county have been by dint of much request. Henderson County Agent, Henderson Leader Boston managed to make available four booths for industrial display on the west side of the exhibit annex. Two of these have already been taken by the Link River Electric company and the Swan Lake Lumber company. General admission to the fair will be 50 cents.

SEAT SALE ON FOR PIRATES OF PENZANCE

The seat sale for the Pirates of Penzance opens this morning at 10 o'clock at Southwell's. This is the big attraction, under the auspices of the Kiwanis club, to be given as a night show during the fair, Sept. 3 and 4.

The Kiwanians want everybody in Klamath Falls to see this show, for even now they are mighty proud of it, and with that end in view have made the prices extremely low.

General admission to grandstand (unreserved) is 75c; including reserved seat $1.00; box seats are $1.25; children 50c.

When Director Hazelrigg was seen last night he said: "You have seen this rehearsal and can judge for yourself what the show is going to be. I never had a finer bunch anywhere. I'm only afraid the people of Klamath Falls don't realize what a really big thing this is going to be. There are more than 50 of your best young people working day and night on this thing and you folks are going to be most agreeable surprised when you see the show. More than that, unless I miss my guess, you're going to be all puffed up with pride to think you possess so much talent here. So make it as strong as you like, this is going to be a regular show. We have always claimed, over at Medford, that we had more and better talent than any other town on the coast, but when we finish this performance, Medford people are going to 'sit up and take notice.'"

In this week's Saturday Evening Post, Herbert Quick, one of the most unique writes of the country, tells of his experiences in playing in the Pirates of Penzance. He offers some valuable information which might be used to pre-show advantage here. Episcopalians, he says, have the best voices and dancing toes, but the Methodists have the best legs. John Hazelrigg, the director here was director of this show in Kansas where Quick was in the show.
