

K. H. S. PLAYS ALTURAS HIGH HERE WEEK FROM SAT.; PRACTICE STARTS

Six Letter Men Turn Out With 50 Rookies At Yesterday's Practice; Coach French Is Hopeful Of Making It Klamath's Best Football Year

What promises to be Klamath high's best football year will get underway a week from Saturday when Alturas high school plays in Klamath Falls. Arrangements were made with the Alturas school yesterday by Coach Dwight French.

The first football practice of the season was held last night. Of the almost 50 men who turned out there are 25 or more who are good possible material, including six letter men of last year.

"I was surprised at the showing made yesterday," said Coach French, who is making his initial appearance here as Klamath's first paid football coach. "The discipline, the eagerness, the weight and speed that can be developed here at the high school is remarkable. I am thoroughly encouraged at the prospects."

Those most likely to gain berths on the team are:

Left end, B. Smith, D. Soule and D. Harlan; left tackle, A. Walsh and J. Morgan; left guard, C. McGuire and George Connor; center, Robert Oliver and Roland Loomis; right guard, Joe Bliss and L. Elmore; right tackle, H. Wilson and H. Johnson; right end, H. Pruitt, R. Yarnes and C. Stewart; quarter, Roland Cofer and Zed Barnes; right half, Frank Hall and C. Stewart; full, H. Johnson and Carl Yancey; left half, H. Graham and P. Coleson.

The last year lettermen who returned to school and were out yesterday afternoon were: Zed Barnes, Roland Cofer, Frank Hall, Carl Yancey and C. McGuire.

NORTHERN LINES SURVEY FINISHED

Actual survey of the Northern lines has been completed, according to reports made yesterday when the final stake was driven in the line which will be followed when the work will begin in the near future.

The route surveyed is known as the eastern route and is located from Bend to Klamath Falls or along the eastern edge of the Klamath timber belt, including that territory of Beatty, Bonanza, Olene and thence to Klamath.

According to statements said to have been made by officials of the Oregon Trunk railroad, one year from the date of completion of the survey from Klamath Falls to Bend, the first trip by rail will be made exactly one year later. The completion of the road, which will link Klamath Falls and Bend should be made in the spring of 1927.

In a recent visit to Klamath Falls, made by Charles D. Hart of the Oregon Trunk lines, that the granting of the permit to the Northern lines by the Interstate Commerce commission is certain and following the granting of the project, work will begin the spring following the grant.

Venison Barbecue Of K. F. Sportsmen Is on For Sunday

All members of the Klamath Sportsmen's Association are making preparations to attend the venison barbecue to be held at the grounds of the Crooked Creek hatchery next Sunday.

Up to press time last night no word had been received from Jud Short, who has promised to furnish the meat for the occasion, but the sportsmen have such confidence in his ability that they are going ahead with the arrangements just the same as if the deer was already in the ice box.

The Sportsmen's association will furnish the meat and coffee, while the guests are expected to bring such other little trimmings as they may think they need, including plates, knives and forks and cups for the beverage. Side dishes, also, such as your bread and butter, cakes and pickles, had better be stowed in the tool box or on the running board, for 'tis hinted that a straight venison and coffee feed, while it sounds good, might be made a little more pleasant with a few chasers on the side.

Don't forget—Sunday afternoon, at about 2 o'clock.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

First game—	R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	4	7	2
Boston	0	7	2
Batteries—	Carlson and Wilson; Benton, Anderson and Gibson.

Second game—	R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	3	11	0
Boston	6	10	1
Batteries—	Ulrich, Betts and Wendell, Wilson; Smith and O'Neil.

Score—	R.	H.	E.
Chicago	3	11	1
Cincinnati	8	14	2
Batteries—	Blake, Jones and Hartnett; Mays and Hargrave.

Score—	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburgh	9	8	1
St. Louis	5	4	2
Batteries—	Aldridge and Smith; Sotheron and O'Farrell, Warwick.

From Fort Klamath—In order to attend the meeting of the county school board, Ray Loosley of Fort Klamath spent Thursday in Klamath Falls. Loosley is a member of the board representing the Fort.

Yankee Cattleman Reaches Peerage; Tea Drunk to Earl

SHERIDAN, Wyo., Sept. 10.—(United News)—Members of the little colony of British ranchers near here had tea Wednesday afternoon with the Earl of Portsmouth. Over the steaming cups that constitute almost their last ancestral heritage, they discussed the strange turn of the wheel of fortune that over night had turned a lanky, bronzed western cattle man into a member of the English nobility.

Ranchers, their wives and children and their cowboys rode in from many miles around to pay their respects to Oliver Henry Wallop, who succeeded to the title through the death of his elder brother, John Pellos Wallop, seventh earl of Portsmouth, in London Monday night. Wallop has been an American citizen since 1906 and one of the leading ranchers of Sheridan county since the late '80's. Now he finds himself a British peer and a member of the house of lords. In this paradoxical position, he was forced to choose between his ancestral estate in England and his 3,000 acre estate, built up by 40 years of his own toil, in the cattle country of the west.

Library Club Here Will Discuss How Girlies "Doll Up"

Members of the Woman's Library club will hold its regular meeting of the month and the first meeting of the year at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon in the club rooms of the library building.

The meeting today will be turned over to the members of the beauty shops in the city in the discussion held by the club but promises to be one of the most interesting features of the year. All members and their friends are bidden to the lecture. At 2:30 p. m. a business meeting for members only is scheduled to outline work for the coming year.

Harry Hamilton Is Given Liberty

On recommendation of the district attorney's office all charges against Harry Hamilton, former used car dealer of Klamath Falls, were dropped when the entire case was reviewed before the court by Deputy District Attorney West.

According to the district attorney's report, Hamilton, who was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses in a deal with H. E. Bondy, has spent 110 days in the county jail and has been under bond for more than a year. That the state could not be successful in a prosecution was given by West as the mainstay in the matter of dropping the case.

RAGS WANTED
Highest price paid for clean cotton wiping rags. The News.

Klamath Game Law Offenders Will Be Nabbed by Warden

Thirty-six offenders of the state game laws in Klamath will feel the iron fist of the commission within the next two weeks when Chief Deputy Game Warden F. M. Brown will arrive in Klamath Falls to compel the individuals to pay the assessed fines or "lay it out in jail."

An approximate amount of $1,000 is due the Klamath department in fines not collected and with $1,435 due the state commission the collections will probably be gained with the visit of Warden Brown. Word to this effect was received yesterday from State Game Warden Averill of Portland.

Not only will the offenders of the fish and game laws be brought to court but the magistrates who have neglected to send in money due the state will also "come across." Out of five counties in Oregon, times due in Klamath are heaviest. Others due are Douglas, $2,295; Jackson, $675; Josephine, $275; Lane, $425; Umatilla, $480.

WIRE NEWS OF THE WORLD

Rioting Feared
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—With tension between union and non-union miners in the Hartshorne area reported to be increasing, a military observatory body headed by General Baird H. Markham, national guard officer, will investigate conditions to see if martial law is justified.

Kicked by Calf
ASHLAND.—Mrs. Christine Ketel, 71, who sustained a fractured skull as a result of the kick of a calf several days ago, is rapidly recovering in a local hospital.

Fell 2,000 Feet
ELGIN, Ill.—The harrowing experience of falling 2,000 feet in an airplane was related by Harold Peary and Martin Aveng, professional aviators, today. During an electrical storm the plane descended 2,400 feet straight downward before it was brought under control fifty feet from the ground.

SPORTS DONE

As "Long Jim" Barnes sports the British open title about the United States in his smiling, wholesome manner, England once more is hard put to it to derive the faintest bit of cheer from the golfing situation.

Barnes' victory, in itself, was a blow to England of course. But it wasn't so much the victory itself as it was the fact that this same act has been staged for the fourth time in five years that hurt.

For years—up to the open championship of 1921, that event had gone to home stars—Braid, Taylor, Vardon, Ray, Duncan—a long list of great golfers. Then, in 1921, Jock Hutchinson journeyed to the British Isles and when he sailed back to the United States the British cup lay buried in cotton in his trunk.

Great Britain took this successful invasion lightly. Confident that one of the "old guard" would recover it the following year they waited, only to see Walter Hagen repeat Hutchinson's act. They still carried hopes of recovering the coveted cup when the 1923 tourney came around, and when Arthur Hayers, with an exhibition of wonderful golf, nosed out the American contenders, they breathed a sigh of relief.

But that sigh seemed still lingering in the air when Hagen returned to England last year and regained the crown. For the first time, then, British golfers realized that America, to all intents and purposes, was taking from them the glory of the game they called their own. And when the Americans, without the aid of the masterful Hagen, hogged the honors again this year, and Jim Barnes emerged on top of the gloom of the British golfing flock rivalry that of the London fog in its density.

It rested with the obliging, colorful Abe Mitchell to dispel a bit of this gloom and give the Britishers some reason to live a bit longer.

Barnes, fair sportsman that he is, met Mitchell in an exhibition match—and went down to defeat before the playing of the British pro. The victory not only gave Britishers a chance to find some solace in the thought that there did live in the Isles a man who could halt the American invasion, but it gave them a chance once more to see what a beautiful golfer Abe Mitchell is. Mitchell is one of the greatest drivers in golf today. Were he to carry the steadiness, the poise of Ray, Vardon or Taylor, he might now be basking in the limelight that follows the British open champ or America's open king wharrior... Great Britain's women reign supreme on the links but there is a warlike in the effort to win the British title. The powerful driving American girl, her own play, not only interested British experts, but they are in not an exception. The approach of a type of feminine stars in each hand who will invade England with the same success that have achieved—unless England to her laurels.

It is fitting that a club Walter Camp and a man who the late football master of the game and conductor of the successful Camp as editor of the football guide, just out. That man is K. K. Hall, a personal friend of Camp, has been a member of the interstate football rules committee some twenty years. The new editor played and football at Harvard and graduation was athletic director and coach at the University of

Spud Grower Leaves

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 10.—(United News)—The late Gus Groves, who was a slave to the "potato bug" in Kansas, didn't intend that his sons and daughter should follow the reckless path of their children. Although his net estate valued at approximately $150,000, Groves' will stipulated that his children should from it only a wage for work in the fields.

The three daughters are to bring husbands to live and to benefit from the land, he stipulates. Groves came to Kansas in 1867 with the "Kansas" of free slaves.

KLAMATH VALLEY... Our nursery accommodates babies. Baskets reserved. quest—adv. 25

COAST LEAGUE

Score—	R.	H.	E.
Salt Lake	7	12	3
Vernon	4	9	3
Batteries—	Singleton, O'Neill, Stroud and Cook; Ludolph, Bryan and Whitney.

Score—	R.	H.	E.
San Francisco	5	13	1
Seattle	3	8	0
Batteries—	McWeeny and Yelle; Hasty and Daly.

Score—	R.	H.	E.
Los Angeles	1	9	0
Portland	3	7	1
Batteries—	Root, Hughes and Sandberg; Yarrison and Hannah.

Score—	R.	H.	E.
Sacramento	7	12	1
Oakland	0	4	1
Batteries—	Vinell and Shea; Delaney, Kaiser and Byler.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

First game—	R.	H.	E.
New York	7	10	0
Philadelphia	3	11	2
Batteries—	Hoyt and Bengough; Gray, Baumgartner and Cochrane, Perkins.

Second game—	R.	H.	E.
New York	4	12	2
Philadelphia	5	12	1
Batteries—	Jones and Luebke, Bengough, Schang; Rommel, Baumgartner, Harris and Cochrane.

First game—	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	4	14	1
Chicago	2	8	0
Batteries—	Gaston and Dixon; Faber and Schalk. 13 innings.

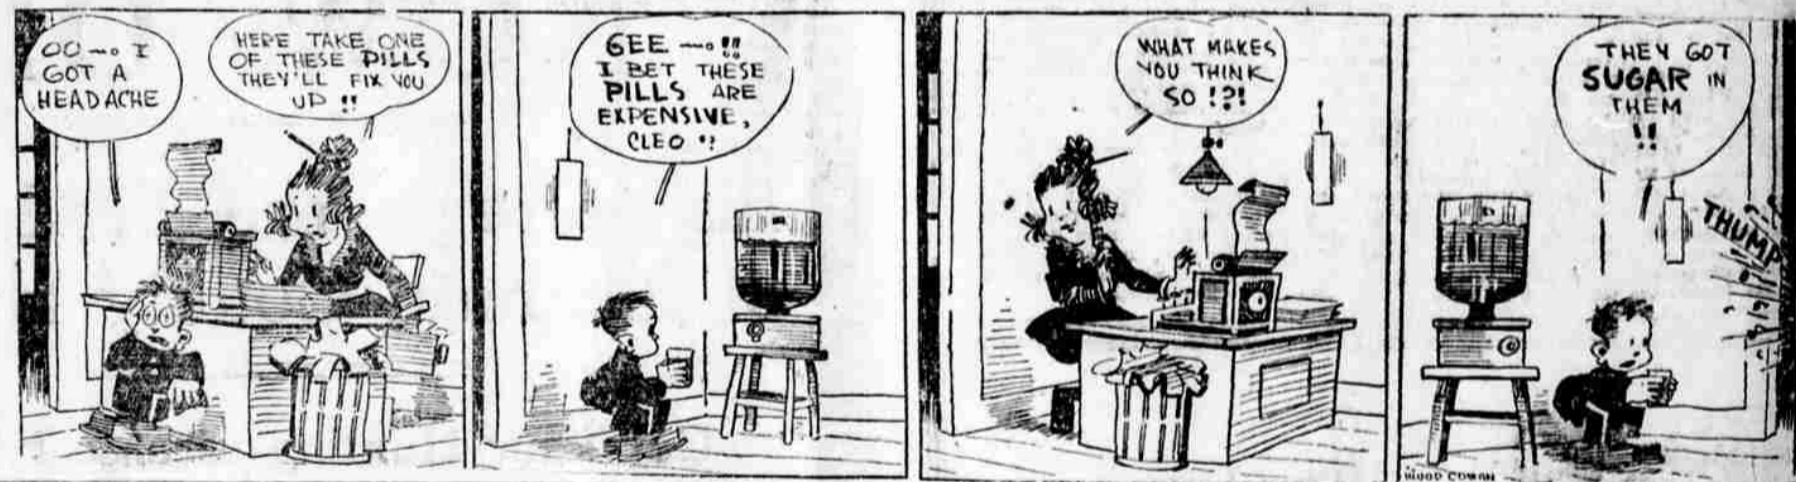

Second game—	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	4	14	1
Chicago	4	8	2
Batteries—	Wingard and Dixon; Blankenship and Crouse.

First game—	R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	1	7	2
Detroit	6	7	1
Batteries—	Miller, Cole and L. Sewell; Daus and Banister.

Second game—	R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	7	10	1
Detroit	2	4	2
Batteries—	Buckeye and L. Sewell; Wells and Woodall.

Colorado Visitors—Joseph J. Schmechel of Yuma, Colorado, are in Klamath Falls, while enroute north on his fall touring visit.

IN OUR OFFICE

THE NAUGHTY BOY

BILLY'S UNCLE

