ALGOMA

The Klamath Agency Woman's club will hold its first study meeting of the new year, Tuesday evening, September 15 at 7:30 o'clock.

The subject will pertain to home economics. Mrs. Thayer Maxey, of Seattle, Wash., who is visiting in the Agency and who is a graduate domestic science teacher, will have charge.

A very interesting and instructive presentation of the subject is in store for those who attend. It is hoped that ladies of the neighboring country and communities will come.

Miss Edna Groves of Corvallis, who is inspector for the home economics department of the United States Indian service educational work, visited the Agency several days last week. She was here in the interest of her particular work, looking into the welfare of the pupils, and advising the school teachers and employees of Klamath Boarding school.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cox and children have returned from their motor trip to Hood River valley and southern Washington.

Miss Loretta Porter is visiting friends in Boise, Idaho. She has been away two weeks and may remain some weeks longer.

Miss Jessie Gray, student at Sacred Heart academy in Klamath Falls, is home for the week-end.

BEATTY

BEATTY, Sept. 12.—Garrner Lunday was a Beatty visitor for a few days from the M. C. ranch at Warner valley, Lake county. He has been employed there for seven years.

His mother, Mrs. E. J. Schmitz, and her aunt, Mrs. Arthur Anderson of Medford, drove him back to his home Monday, and were in Lakeview in time to see the round-up, reporting having had a good time.

Mrs. Elsie Collins has accepted a position at the Sycan store, at Beatty and her son Keith is attending the Beatty school this year.

Mrs. Mary Zacharah returned from the Lakeview round-up Sunday. Mr. A. C. Olson has returned to teach in the Beatty school. Mr. Olson motored east on his vacation, driving 9,000 miles.

School opened with a small attendance Monday, as most of the people are after wild plums and huckleberries yet.

The new service station at Beatty will soon be open for business. The Beatty store is being given a general overhauling.

Mr. Bowman of Beatty made a flying trip to Klamath Falls for supplies for the Beatty store, on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Maulin have opened a new hotel at Beatty.

Tote Brown returned from Lakeview with only one eye, reports seeing the sights.

The grading at this end of the road is all finished and ready for gravel.

Modoc Charley Faithful and wife, drove to the Agency on Friday. The old man is one of the few left of the scouts that fought in the Modoc war.
