Return From North—Mrs. Paul Evans and Miss Bertha Peltz returned Thursday from Portland and Newport, where they spent an interesting fortnight visiting in the north. Mrs. Evans left yesterday for Chiloquin, where she will remain with her husband. Paul Evans, who is stationed in the reservation city for several weeks.

Leaving For School—Miss Bertha Peltz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Peltz will leave in the near future for Oregon Agricultural college, where she will enter her third year. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha, women's national sorority on the O. A. C. campus.

Reports Business Good—H. B. Oakleaf, manager of the Northwest Blower Kiln company with headquarters in Portland is in Klamath Falls on a brief business trip in the interests of his company, planning to return north tonight. According to Oakleaf the dry kiln business is becoming more active during the past 30 days, due to the improvement of the market and the approaching winter season. During the winter months it is impossible to season lumber in the yards and this fact has given the dry kiln a chance to rapidly step forward. Oakleaf recently came north from a business visit in Susanville and northern California.

Clark Not Improving—According to friends of Ed Clark in constant touch with the young man in a Klamath Falls hospital suffering from pneumonia, he has not improved during the past 48 hours and is still in a serious condition.
