

HIGH WARRIORS READY FOR GRID BATTLE AT PASS

Armed with a fighting spirit that has cropped out with the thought of meeting their deadly rival, Grants Pass, on an enemy field Saturday afternoon, Klamath high school football eleven will leave Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock for the valley to play their first big game of the season.

According to Coach Dwight French a change has been made in the lineup and 18 players will be taken to the valley with the hope of giving every man on the trip a chance to meet Medford on their gridiron.

A new find has been made since the Alturas game which, if nothing else, brought out the defects and weaknesses of the line and backfield. These things have been remedied partially by the addition of "Big Bill" Bessler, who weighs in at 175 pounds. Coach French placed Bessler at left tackle where he will have a chance to use his head as well as his hands.

Coach French last night was enthusiastic about Saturday's game and has no fear that the men will not live up to his greatest expectations. The team will return to Klamath Falls on Saturday night. They are being taken to the valley by private car.

The lineup to start on Saturday will be Dan Soule, L. E.; William Bessler, L. T.; Joe Bliss, L. G.; Robert Oliver, C.; Zed Barnes, R. E.; Pat Walsh, R. T.; Charley Maguire, R. G.; Roland Cofer, C.; Floyd Colson, L. H.; Frank Hall, R. H.; Carl Yancey, F. B.

The next game will be played on foreign field also when Klamath Falls meets Medford on the Medford platter.

PIRATES WIN IN PHILLEE GAME WITH 19 BINGOES

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22.—The Pirates plunk-walked the Phillies Tuesday, and rolled merrily along toward the pennant. They managed to pile up 19 hits to win 14 to 4. Only two more games out of the remaining eight if chalked up on the positive side of the column, will bring the pennant to Pittsburgh for the first time since 1909.

The Cubs mauled Grimes, hitting him 16 times and Brooklyn got the short end of a 3 to 2 score.

The Giants-St. Louis double-header and Braves-Cincinnati brava were postponed because of rain.

The American league furnished plenty of action Tuesday with the St. Louis-Athletic set to a special feature of activity. The Browns beat the Quaker city ball team by one run, the only run. The league-leading Senators trimmed the Indians, whose tomyhawks seemed ineffective against Stan Coveleskie their former team mate.

Detroit snapped up the first game, 11 to 5 and the second, 7 to 2 in a double-header with the Red Sox.

BUCKY HARRIS IS SPIKED IN GAME

Youth Manager of Senators May Be Handicapped in Coming World's Series

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(United News)—Bucky Harris, youthful manager who directed the Washington Senators to a world championship and has landed them another league pennant this year, will be out of the line-up for at least a week and may be crippled in the world series as the result of an injury to his hand suffered in Tuesday's game with the Cleveland Indians.

Wyatt, Cleveland catcher, stepped on Harris' throwing hand and split Bucky's second finger from the nail to the back of his hand. The Cleveland player was running Harris down between third and home in the first inning when the accident occurred.

Mike Martin, trainer for the Senators said Harris probably would be back in the game in a week, but that the injury might hamper his playing in the big series, even if it healed in time to permit him to play.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 22.—(United News)—Babe Herman, California featherweight won a newspaper decision over Johnny Farr of Cleveland in a 10 round fight here Tuesday night. After five dull rounds, the batters warmed up and staged an interesting fight. In the last round they stood toe to toe and slugged each other.

Going, Going, G—!

SPORTS DONE BROWN

BY NORMAN E. BROWN

The gallant fights made by the Giants and Athletics the past season recalls the fact that it was these two teams that met in the second world's series back in 1905—a series that will always rank as one of the memorable ones staged at the close of the big league races.

That series went five games. And every one of those contests were shutout defeats for the losers. And the man who pitched New York to the victory in this series was Christy Mathewson. Three times he baffled the Athletics with his masterful pitching. Three times in the short space of six days he carried the Giants to victory with the strength of his right arm and the keenness of his brain.

The first game was played at Philadelphia October 9. Matty shut the Mackmen out 3 to 0. The next day the Athletic Chief Bender saved the American league entry from the stigma of four straight defeats by out-pitching Iron Man Joe McGinty, and shutting out the Giants 3 to 0.

The following day the teams rested. Then, for the third game McGraw sent Matty, young and strong, at the Mackmen again. Many fans protested the action in the fear that the promising young hurler would injure his arm. Matty breezed through the game with no sign of strain, shutting out the Mackmen again, while the Giants piled up nine runs.

The next game was another shut-out victory for McGraw's team, and then Matty, while the crowds thundering their applause and yelling their shouts of encouragement and faith, took the mound for the fifth game. It was the same old story. Conny Mack from the bench, wig-wagged his signals in vain. His sides on the coaching lines labored with-out avail to steal the Giant signals and check their work on the paths. When the smoke had cleared away they were beaten 2 to 0. Matty had scored his third straight victory, and what was more his third straight shutout in the same world's series.

What a team McGraw had that year! And what a club was fighting against him!

The Giant players who faced the American league champs were, besides Matty and McGinty, Pitcher, Leon Ames, Roger Bresnahan catcher, McCann first base, Gilbert second base, Devlin third base, Dahlen shortstop, Mories leftfield, Donlin centerfield and Browne rightfield.

The other Athletic hurlers who faced the Giants were Eddie Plank and Coakley, Harry Davis, later Connie's first lieutenant and for a short time manager of Cleveland's team, was on first, Danny Murphy played second, Cross third, Monte Cross shortstop, Hartzel centerfield, Lord leftfield, Seybold rightfield, and Schrockengrost and Powers were the catchers.

McBride to Resume Duties in Klamath

Klamath Falls bootleggers who have been enjoying a brief respite during the absence of State Prohibition Officer McBride are knitting their brows once more. McBride, stationed here by Prohibition Director Wm. Levens to clean up the city is expected to arrive here this afternoon to re-commence operations delayed by illness of his wife upstairs.

Wm. Cole, assistant to McBride arrived here yesterday after an absence of several weeks. It has been previously reported that Cole who shot Leslie Congo for speeding and who was slugged several days later in a dark alley by a mysterious person, had left for good. "I'm not afraid to be in Klamath Falls," Cole declared yesterday. "I know they're after me, but I'm hanging on, nevertheless."

A nuptial mass will be said this morning in the Sacred Heart church, with Father A. F. Looser reading the ceremony. The hour is 8 o'clock.

Gary Assured Boys and Girl Students Of Business Hopes

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Judith Herbert H. Gary assured boys and girls of the New York university school of commerce Monday night that there was still plenty of space in the higher regions of business.

"Always, everywhere in every line of endeavor, there is an abundance of room at the top," said the head of the steel corporation. "It is up to every man and woman to succeed or fail, and there is no excuse for failure."

Education or mental capacity alone, Gary assured the students, would not adequately provide life's necessities unless there was some practical business ability to accompany it.

"The most successful in business," he continued, "are those who have persistently devoted their personal time and attention to the concentration and improvement of one line of activity."

"WICKY," PET CHIPMUNK, REPORTED AS A. W. O. L.

Klamath Falls has two new residents, although only one can be found.

No, they aren't babies who have been spirited away. They are two chipmunks brought to Klamath Falls by Thalia W. Newcomb of the agriculturalists office from a recent visit to Wickiup Springs.

Mrs. Newcomb has named the two Mr. Chipmunks "Wicky" and "Uppy," only "Wicky" became suddenly uppish and decided to make himself absent.

The Newcomb house has submitted to a thorough scouring in the search for the lost member, who, elusive though he may be, is bound to show up and join its playmate once again.

Little Shasta Cafe Under New Manager

Again the Little Shasta has changed hands, and May Pospisil has purchased the cafe, with the idea of enlarging it and making it one of the most attractive and inviting eating houses in Klamath Falls.

Bill Bonfield, one of the best known hands in the restaurant game, will assume management of the cafe this week. Bonfield has been prominently identified with work of this line in the city, and will build up for the Little Shasta cafe the same reputation that other interests he has enjoyed.

Installation of a modern refrigerating plan will be made within the immediate future.

By her charm of manner, Bobbette Hammel persuaded men and women investors to advance money for a number of questionable projects, according to the police. Specific charges upon which she sought Monday was that of passing a fraudulent check for $1,000 to Ralston Wilbur, a jeweler.

Mrs. Hammel is alleged also to have obtained an expensive automobile, clothing and jewels in the same manner.

Police characterize her as a cleverest, confidence crook who has operated here in years.

J. E. Carothers of Klamath Falls was in too much of a hurry to take north a Klamath beat when he was stopped on the Klamath Falls highway doing 70. He paid his fine of $12.75 and a parting suggestion from Kendall went out into the stratosphere to find his deer.
