Klamath Falls' New Clothing Store
Just opened by the
Brownsville Woolen Mills

The opening of the Brownsville Woolen Mills Store in Klamath Falls means a new epoch in merchandising here.

For more than sixty years this woolen mill, with its big clothing factory and retail stores, has been one of Oregon's leading manufacturing industries.

We take the wool direct from the sheep's back; spin and weave the cloth in our woolen mill, then we make this cloth into clothing in our tailor shops and sell the suits direct to the man who wears them in our chain of retail clothing stores—a direct process "mill to man" or, better still, "from the sheep's back to the man's back," with no shoddy or wool substitutes added.

Here are some of the things we sell:
CLOTHING, SHIRTS, UNDERWEAR, ROBES, BLANKETS, SWEATERS, SOCKS, MACKINAWS

We also make suits to order.
