

WARD PROTESTS KLAMATH TOILERS

Through the intervention of the school board and Architect Joseph of this city, home labor kept in employment in preference to outside workers on the big school public school being conducted here, it became known to the city school board that the labor, wherever available should be employed on the school's construction. However, E. W. ... of Portland, who had the ... and plastering section of construction employed non-union men from Portland in preference to local union men. ... after an ... of the lathing and plastering on the school building found work done by outside non-union men not up to the standard that plans called for. He requested a change be made at once. Klamath Falls fathers were ... to their jobs, and again labor was given preference.

Fair Prizes Will Be Paid by Check Today

Checks are drawn and signed, statement of all awards made and ready for the secretary of state and the fair board will pay those who won prizes at the late county fair, beginning Saturday morning, September 26, from room D, courthouse. Checks to winners will not be mailed, as the majority of exhibitors left no address with their entries at the fair. Lucky winners of the generous prizes for boys' and girls' club work have been dreaming how the money will be spent these two weeks past, and will have a chance now to actually buy all the delightful things they have been planning. It is to be commended that the majority of boys and girls, especially in the livestock projects, have expressed themselves in favor of spending the money for other livestock to be entered in their club work next year, and also in open competition.

Assembly to Present Team With Uniforms

At an assembly meeting of the Klamath county high school here this morning, uniforms purchased by subscriptions among local business men, will be presented Klamath high's football aggregation. H. D. Mortensen, chairman of the chamber's athletic committee, will have charge of the presentation. Tom W. Deltzell, H. N. Moe, C. H. Underwood, R. C. Groesbeck, C. I. Roberts and Dr. Massey will also take a part in the presentation. Any interested business man is cordially invited to the ceremonies, which will be held in the high school assembly room. Saturday the high school team journeys to Grants Pass for its first conference battle of the season. A large number of students will accompany the team.

ROTARY MAY HELP LEGION BUILDING

For the purpose of securing funds to furnish their 50 per cent of the amount to be used in erection of the American Legion building here, members of the building committee of that body met last night and decided to address the Rotary club for aid in securing a portion of the fund needed. Sometime ago when the Rotary conducted their "Covered Wagon" pageant there was a fund of $1100 set aside for use if the time ever arose, on a community building for the city of Klamath Falls. It is believed, inasmuch as the legion is offering its "home" for use by the public that a way can be found whereby the Rotary can consider this community house fund proper to be placed toward the legion building. Dr. Stewart was instructed to address a letter to the Rotary regarding this proposition and it will probably be discussed and possibly acted upon at the next meeting of that organization.

PUBLICITY GIVEN TO PICTURES OF LETTUCE

Pictures taken by the local chamber of commerce of the first carload of lettuce shipped from here this season will be given widespread publicity in magazines throughout the Pacific coast, according to Linn F. Sabin, secretary of the local chamber. Photos will also be taken of the first carload of beets ever to leave the Klamath country.
