ELLIOTT CONCERT MOST SUCCESSFUL

Patrons of music in Klamath Falls enjoyed one of the most beautiful concerts of the year and the first musical program of the winter months when Miss Dorothy Elliott and Mr. Nathan Stewart were presented in a concert at the Presbyterian church last night.

The church was filled with admirers of Miss Elliott and Mr. Stewart, who recognize in their voices the work of artists.

Miss Elliott scored splendidly in all her recitals, which were heard by a large and enthusiastic crowd. Honors were shared with Mr. Nathan Stewart, who, coming as an entire stranger, won his audience with his fine baritone voice. Enthusiastic applause was rewarded by encores after every group, and the crowd was loath to go after the last note had died away.

Miss Elliott, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Elliott of this city, has made very creditable progress in her musical studies, and possesses a voice of rare sweetness and power backed by a generous and gracious personality which earned her many friends on last summer's Chautauqua circuit. Her many Klamath friends were delighted by the success she has made in the past year.

At the piano, Mrs. Don Zumwalt, Miss Elliott's first vocal teacher, gave a most capable background of accompaniment. The concert was woted a splendid success by the many music lovers who attended.

Funds derived from the concert were placed in a treasury for a new church organ.

RABBIT BREEDERS HOLD MEETING AND BANQUET

A meeting of importance to all rabbit breeders in Klamath county was held last night in the Moose hall. An invitation was issued to owners or raisers of rabbits, whether they possessed only one or many.

A representation of the Rogue River Rabbit Breeders' association was present and provided enough rabbit meat for a banquet which was served at 7:30 p. m. A business session, social evening followed soon after the banquet.

A LIFE OR A LIVING?
Some folks are satisfied to get a living; others realize the joy of investing a life of seeing what we can give as well as what we can get. The noblest monument you can leave behind you is a life of unselfish service. Christ shows the way.

JUDGMENT ASKED IN LIBEL SUIT

A motion will be made by counsel for W. P. Myers this morning in his civil suit against the Evening Herald for alleged libellous statements, asking for a judgment on the pleadings. In other words, Myers' attorneys will ask that the judge hand down his decision on the case for $10,000 libel today. Should the judge deny this motion the case will be postponed to be heard in about six weeks, after the Elliott case is finished.

A demurrer filed by counsel for the Evening Herald was thrown out of court after Judge Percy R. Kelly heard Attorney Irwin for the Evening Herald present his argument.

"I cannot agree with the defendant," Judge Kelly declared. "If the statements made by the Evening Herald were false, regarding Mr. Myers' misconduct in office, and if they can be proven false, then the statements are libellous."

The complainant's side of the action for demurrer was not heard by the judge, he having made his decision on the argument of Attorney Irwin.

Dr. Cleveland Here—Dr. J. G. Cleveland, physician, of Merrill, spent yesterday in this city on business.

FROG'S LEGS ARE TO BE TRIED OUT HERE

Fried frog legs! Shades of Tartar sauce or fried in butter!

And it has all started from State Game Warden E. F. Averill making arrangements to obtain a large quantity of frog legs from Idaho. The eggs have been promised the Klamath Sportsmen's association, or at least a goodly share for a brief trout in Klamath county, gave promise of the aptness of the eggs to flourish here.

It is expected that the eggs will arrive in early spring and that fried frog legs will be a bit of delicacy common to the Klamath table by late summer.
