IN SOCIETY

"TREES"
I think that I shall never see A poem lovely as a tree.

A tree whose hungry mouth is pressed Against the earth's sweet flowing breast;

A tree that looks at God all day And lifts her leafy arms to pray;

A tree that may in summer wear A nest of robins in her hair;

Upon whose bosom snow has lain;
Who intimately lives with rain.

Poems are made by fools like me, But only God can make a tree.
—Joyce Kilmer.

"TREES"
Men and women of Klamath Falls are making a valiant effort in turning the streets of the city into "avenues of trees" and residents of the various streets and districts have met with committees of the tree planting campaign in an effort to take in the entire city as completely as possible.

In order to give satisfaction throughout Klamath Falls each street or avenue in the residential district has had a personal voice in the species of tree which will be purchased.

Other sections than the paved districts have been added, including Fairview, Oregon avenue, Michigan avenue and from Michigan avenue to East Main street to Sixth street.

The latter district, with the planning of the city was designated as the main entrance from that portion of the city into the business district.

What, then, the committees have decided, could be more attractive than to have the entrance into the city lined with beautiful trees?

The work of making Klamath Falls a "city beautiful" lies not with the tree planting committee or those who are serving in the campaign but with every individual who lives in the city and who carries civic pride above all else.

Three books on tree planting have been placed in the city library by Miss Hawkins, librarian, and will be of interest to those who are undecided as to the species of tree they wish to plant in their vicinity.

DELPHIAN CLUB
TO MEET THURSDAY
Members of the Delphian club, Delta Gamma chapter, will hold their October chapter meeting in the sun room of the White Pelican hotel on Thursday afternoon at 2:30, October 27. Mrs. Thomas C. Campbell, president of the Klamath Falls group of Delphian will conduct the meeting.

A most interesting afternoon's program has been arranged by those in charge, with the first hour of the afternoon devoted to reviewing of the work done in the classes, that of ancient Egypt through the light of modern excavation. This work will constitute the major portion of the winter's study and has so far been a most interesting factor toward the success of the organization.

Mrs. Rachael Applegate Solomon will review Edith Wharton's new novel, "A Mother's Recompense," which many have read and equally enjoyed.

Mrs. G. L. Baxter has chosen as her subject for the afternoon's discussion, "Cultural Arts," which promises to hold a wealth of interest for all.

The remainder of the afternoon will be devoted to reviewing the month's work, outlining the general work for the remainder of the year and discussing current events as they are presented.

EIKS' DANCE
OCTOBER 28.
The initial social affair of the season of the Elks' lodge of Klamath Falls will be in the nature of an apron and overall dance, to be given in the Elks' temple Wednesday evening, October 28.

A number of interesting features have been arranged in order to give a novel effect for the first dance of the winter. Each member of the order is requested to invite a friend.
Invitations have been out for several days to more than 300 of the membership.

Johnny Houston, Harry Messner and Jack Gove are in charge of the entertainment for the evening.
Dancing is scheduled for nine thirty.

MR. AND MRS.
DELZELL HONORED
Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Delzell were honored on Tuesday evening with a delightful pheasant and quail dinner at the home of James A. Perry, with Mr. and Mrs. Perry as hosts.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs.
Delzell, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Perry, Miss Jean Perry, Oliver Jessop, Mr. Christiansen and Kenneth Perry.

MRS. DAVIS
ENTERTAINS
For the pleasure of a number of guests, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Davis proved interesting hosts with a dinner party at the Davis residence on Tenth street, Wednesday evening.

Following dinner an informal evening was spent with music and cards.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs.
C. C. Currin of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Currin, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cochran of Portland, Mr. and Mrs.
Claud Davis, Miss Dorothy Currin and Harry Messner.

MRS. CURRIN HOSTESS
AT LUNCHEON WEDNESDAY.
In honor of her house guests, Mrs.
C. C. Currin and Mrs. Paul Cochran of Portland, Mrs. Charlton S. Currin entertained with a beautifully appointed luncheon at the White Pelican hotel on Wednesday at one o'clock. The centerpiece of the luncheon table was a cluster of cut flowers. Guests were Mrs. C. S.
Currin and Mrs. Paul Cochran, Mrs.
Steve Sabo Jr., Mrs. Thomas W. Delzell, Miss Dorothy Currin and Mrs.
Currin, the hostess.

MRS. CURRIN
IS HOSTESS
For her home guests, Mrs. C. C.
Currin and Mrs. Paul Cochran, well known residents of Portland, Mrs.
C. S. Currin entertained informally at her delightful home on Pacific Terrace, with an evening at bridge.

A low Gounod bowl filled with trailing ferns and cut flowers formed the center piece of the main table.

Mrs. Currin was assisted in serving by her daughter, Miss Dorothy Currin.

Those who called during the evening were Mrs. C. C. Currin and Mrs. Paul Cochran, honor guests, Mrs. Howard Perrin, Mrs. Steve Sabo Jr., Mrs. Thomas White Delzell, Mrs. H. W. Poole, Mrs. Teyla Ferguson, Mrs. Claud Davis, Mrs.
Emma Mills, Mrs. Glen Jester, Mrs.
Harry Akeley, Miss Loretta Jennings Miss Dorothy Currin and the hostess,
Mrs. Currin.

PRETTY AUTUMN
PARTY IS GIVEN
On Monday afternoon of this week one of the pretty autumn parties was given at the Louis Bradford home on High street, with Mrs. T.
R. Skillington and Mrs. Bradford as the hostesses.

Guests to make up five tables of bridge were bidden for the afternoon's pleasure. First prize of the afternoon went to Mrs. Allen Sloan, high score to Mrs. H. J. Winters, and low score to Mrs. E. H. Balsiger.

The Bradford home was tastefully decorated in marigolds of deep and brilliant shades intermingled with pots of ferns. Yellow was carried throughout the rooms and at the party tables as well.

MISS PERRY WILL ENTERTAIN MONDAY
For the pleasure of a few friends who meet fortnightly for an informal evening, Miss Jean Perry will entertain at her home on Ninth street Monday evening.

HALLOWEEN PARTY
THURSDAY AFTERNOON
Prominent on the social calendar of next week is the lovely Halloween party which will be given in the Hall annex, with Mrs. G. A.
Massey and Mrs. F. Hill Hunter as hostesses for the afternoon.

More than one hundred invitations have been issued for the affair, which promises to be one of the prettiest parties of the season.
The Hallow'een motif will be used throughout the rooms and shades of marigold to be the color scheme.

Miss Ailsa Massey, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Massey, and Miss Harriett Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Hill Hunter, will assist throughout the rooms on that day.

DE MOLAY-DAUGHTERS
DANCE SUCCESS
By far the most successful venture of the younger set was the dance given on Thursday night by the Order of DeMolay and members of Job's Daughters, when they entertained in the dining room of the White Pelican hotel with their initial affair of the season.

More than two hundred of the younger set as well as many of the parents and members of the Masonic lodge of Klamath Falls attended the evening.

Patrons and patronesses for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. H. W.
Bathiany, Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Massey, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cofer, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hanks, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jackson and Mr. and Mrs.
Allen Jones.

Another affair is planned on similar lines to be given during the approaching holidays.

MAYHELL LEAVITT
DISCUSSES MEETING

Contemporary American critics and their work is the class of literature chosen by the literary branch of the American Association of University Women, under the direction of Mrs. G. A. Krause and Mrs. R. E.
Geary. This group will hold its first meeting on Saturday afternoon, November 7, at 3:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Geary, 237 Cedar street.

Members and interested persons are asked to prepare themselves for a discussion of Henry L. Menken.
That name alone should arouse the interest of any one who makes the least pretense of keeping abreast of the times. Read Mr. Menken in any spirit one will; that of derision, disapproval or whole-hearted agreement, and there remains always the fact that he is either a great critic gone wrong, or else is the most inspiring man of letters we have produced in the "jazz age." He of all the writers of America has produced has caused a stir in Europe through his pointed criticism.

Material relating to the subject for discussion will be on file at the city library rooms, as Mrs.
Krause has made a special effort to segregate such matter.

Many outstanding and interesting men from the world of criticism will be taken and studied in their turn this winter and the coming spring. Some of the more exciting ones are George Jean Nathan, dramatic critic for the American Mercury; Alexander Woolcott, whose witty and pithy articles appear in Vanity Fair, and other monthly publications; Robert Benchley, the terror of producers of legitimate drama who spreads his fear and favor before the public readers of "Life."

Heywood Brown (pronounced as the oo in Moon), columnist for the New York World, who makes the paper suit its policy to his whims rather than his temperament to its policy; Henry Sidel Canby, editor of the Saturday Review; Walter Lippmann; Christopher Morley; William Rose Benet; Oswald Garrison Willard, one of the outstanding editors and reviewers of the day and editor-in-chief of the Nation.

There are many others who will be added to the list from time to time, such as Stewart Sherman, Sherwood Anderson and Nicholas Roosevelt, who contributes almost weekly to the New York Times' book review section. One must not overlook Waldo Frank and Kenery Digby of the New York Evening Post.

This study of contemporary critics is being made with the purpose in view of making the daily perusal of periodicals more personal and interesting to the reader. There is no gainsaying that Heywood Brown's book, "The Boy Grew Older," is made most interesting if one is consistent of the influence his own son has had in his life. And also if one is aware of the fact that Mrs. Brown is not Mrs. Brown at all, but is Ruth Hale, president of the Lucy Stoner league and a woman of ideas who has her husband very much in leash.
The leaders will feel that their work will be justified if this purpose alone is obtained.

MISS HANKS IS
THURSDAY HOSTESS
Miss Ferne Hanks entertained informally on Thursday evening with a "waxing" party for a number of friends to learn the fascinating art of working with wax. The bidden guests were Mrs. Marion Hanks and Mrs. H. G. Wortley, Mrs. Charles Low and the Misses Jean Perry, Allen Mordoff, Margaret Hargus, Frances Humphrey, Georgiana Clift, Pauline Clift, Mariam Wortley, Lois Bynon, Elna Jensen, the hostess, Miss Hanks.

TREE YIELDS
FIRST APPLES
A novel story that will bear heavily on the tree planting campaign which all Klamath Falls is interested in is that of a tree planted thirteen years ago in the yard of the G. W. Houston home on North Fifth street. The occasion was the birth of Miss Genevieve Houston, who has recently celebrated her birthday.

This week Houston was pruning the tree, digging at its roots and caring for it in general when he spied two well rounded, rosy apples nestled among the branches.

And now Genevieve Houston is one of the most enthusiastic of the boosters for the tree planting campaign, as her tree bore fruit even on the unlucky year of its planting.

Fairview P. T. A.
HOLDS MEETING
An interesting meeting was held by members of the Parent-Teachers association Friday afternoon, and several important steps taken toward the donation of one hundred dollars to the Fairview library for the purchase of books.

A cooked food sale and a public program will be given in the near future to raise money for the library fund. The date of the program has been set for December 11.

Mrs. H. W. Bathiany was named chairman of the districts north of the canal and west of Crescent avenue, to take charge of the tree planting campaign in that section of the city.

"The Landing of Columbus" held an interest for those present when the Seventh grade students played for half an hour in the presentation. The direction of Miss Ellen

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS FORMED
Meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Barnstable on Thursday evening a group of members of the Methodist church enjoyed an informal social evening to form the Tuch-a-bachus Sunday school class.
The name, an Indian word, means "add and stick together." Mrs. Guy Satterlee was in charge of arrangements for the evening, and Mrs. Elna Bennett in charge of the games which were played. Chris Barnstable spoke briefly on the purpose of the organization which will be completed at a later date.
Those in charge for the evening's pleasure were Miss Hazel Noble, Mrs. Guy Satterlee, Mrs. Elna Bennett and Fred Bechtel.

Guests at the Barnstable home were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Satterlee,
