

"Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it."—Abraham Lincoln.

Don't Neglect. Nor Forget—to Vote
Your Ward Is Home. Your Councilman Its Voice

Voters of the second ward will today cast their votes for councilman for that district. It is up to them to see that the people of the second ward are well represented. To attain this end those people must turn out and vote. It is not only a privilege granted second ward residents by the constitution of their country, but also a duty which they owe to themselves and other residents of the city upon whom, to a certain extent, their choice will affect in future questions to come before the council as a whole in years to come.

Just now Klamath Falls is facing a period more or less epochal in her history. The city, say those who have followed her fortunes closely from days of infancy, is approaching the cross-roads which lead into the thoroughfare of prosperity.

Voters of the second ward today will have some voice to say in the paving of that highway along which the city is traveling toward the goal of progress. That voice can only become effective by a concerted vote on the right man. All will not vote for the best man, perhaps, but a little thinking will, or should be, sufficient to guide them to place an X opposite the name of the man whom they think will serve them, their ward and their city best.

Elsewhere in this paper will be printed boundaries, not only of the ward, but of the precincts. To those who may not be sure of the precinct in which they live, all they will have to do is to call up the city hall, any established business house or the Commercial club. The main thing to do is—VOTE.

The School Book Outrage

Is Our Educational System Perfect?

One little mother complained at paying eleven dollars for books this year so she could send her little sixth grade boy to school.

She had to buy one book that she bought last year for fifty-six cents, and it cost her exactly a dollar and twelve cents, so she said.

Think of a family of working people who have to buy books for six or eight children, and there are many such cases of large families.

In Portland and many other cities in the state, collections are taken up to buy and supply children of poor families with school books.

It seems the entire school machine in Oregon is built up to wring as many dollars as possible out of the people who send children to school. Yet we are boasting we have the most perfect educational system in the United States.

How can men be trusted to judge their fellows when they can't even agree whether the man was safe at second?

Lightening the Load

Heart & Home Problems

By Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson

HE KEEPS POSTPONING THEIR MARRIAGE

No woman who isn't physically strong has any business undertaking marriage. A young woman writes me:

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am greatly worried. Perhaps you can help me. I have been going with a young man for three years and have been engaged to him for nearly two years. He makes an ordinary salary, and is not at all wasteful, but it just seems that he is not able to get ahead enough for us to get married, and keeps putting it off from one six months to the next. I am working at the present time, but am not at all strong. He seems to think it would be perfectly all right for me to continue to work after we are married, but this I refuse to do, as I know I am not strong enough. What would you advise me to do? Go out with other men while I am engaged to this one, and perhaps wake him up, as I know that he loves me very much, or shall we just continue to drift, hoping that some day in the near future perhaps, we can be married? Please give me your opinion of a girl working after marriage. I think it is all right if she is strong enough to work and also keep house, but I am not able to do this, since I weigh only 95 pounds, and am not sickly, but nearly always tired. I have always wanted a home of my own, and do not know whether it would pay to risk giving it up altogether, or perhaps gain more by doing as I contemplate.

ALICE BLUE GOWN.

What you ought to do first, A. B. G., is to build yourself up. You shouldn't consider getting married while your health is bad. It looks as if the young man is perfectly satisfied with his present single state, and that there is gagement if you wish to escape her to stay with her job as house-keeper and homemaker. I'm old-fashioned. I suppose, I believe woman's place is in the home. From the letters that come to me, I find that things work out better that way.

nothing to do but break the enigma from a life of deferred hope. As to my opinion about a girl working after marriage, she should first select a man who would not expect it of her, unless it is absolutely necessary, but would wish her to be a helpmate. Sliced radishes and endive with French dressing are a delicate combination for a crisp and colorful salad.

Clubs and Word Puzzle

Running Across.

Word 1. What the Three Bears lived in.
Word 4. Round flat plates usually made of metal.
Word 5. The devil.

Running Down.

Word 1. Another name for the lower regions where Satan is supposed to dwell.
Word 2. To overturn.
Word 3. The city in Germany in which the Krupp gun works are located.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE ANSWERED.

$20,000 Legacy Is Filed for Probate

FORT PIERCE, Fla., Oct. 27.—(United News)—The largest will in the history of Florida, was admitted to probate in St. Lucie county Tuesday, disposing of the estate of John I. Beggs, formerly of St. Louis. The Beggs fortune is conservatively estimated at between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000. The bulk of the estate of the late president of the Florida East Coast Development company is placed in trust for the benefit of Beggs' daughter, Mrs. Richard McCulloch, of St. Louis, and her three children, John, Robert, and Mary Sue McCulloch.

The will appoints Richard McCulloch of St. Louis, Mo., Lawrence A. O'Neil of Milwaukee, Wis., Mrs. Beggs' personal attorney, and the St. Louis Union Trust company his executors and trustees, without bond in either capacity.

Particular provision is made for the maintenance of "Beggs' lake" at Oconomowoc, Wis., the beautiful summer home which was maintained by Beggs for his family. Beggs became interested in the development of the town site of Indrio, near here, in the fall of 1924. In November, 1924, he transferred his legal residence here, to comply with the laws of Florida.

ALLIANCE OF WEALTHY NEW YORKER AND NEGRO WIFE AIRED IN COURTS

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 27.—(United News)—The alliance of Leonard Kip Rhinelander, offspring of a wealthy and illustrious New York family, with Alice Beatrice Jones, daughter of a colored taxi driver, was aired further in supreme court Tuesday and it was definitely announced that Leonard Kip had been disinherited by an indignant father.

Isaac N. Mills, chief counsel for the young husband and a former supreme court justice, who revealed Leonard Kip's hard luck also declared that Mrs. Rhinelander, in her husband's suit for annulment of their marriage, would make no attempt to dispute the allegation that she had negro blood.

Mrs. Rhinelander's counsel made no attempt to refute the assertion and it was assumed that her fight to remain Leonard Kip's wife would be made on the ground that she had not deceived him as to the matter of the negro blood. Rhinelander's suit charges "fraud" on this ground and it appears that the defense will seek to prove that he knew the facts before her marriage.

GRAND JURY TO MEET

The Klamath county grand jury will convene here November 2. It was announced yesterday. Approximately 25 cases, of various degrees of importance, are to be considered by the deliberating body.

The Open Forum

Editor News: A recent newspaper purports to quote a "message" from the mayor of Klamath Falls, relating to the relations of the city to the Oregon, California & Eastern railway. The numerous inaccuracies bearing on this subject which have been for months, and are still being published, can be ignored. The facts are of record at the city hall, to be supplemented by the files of the Evening Herald, published at that time, however, by W. O. Smith. The writer, however, cannot pass without notice the personal involvement appearing in the following quotation from the message mentioned: "Further, Robt. E. Strahorn, and Attorney R. C. Groesbeck testified at the interstate commerce commission hearing that Mr. Strahorn had never said that he was going to build a line to Bend."

The mayor may not have been present at the time, or his memory may be at fault or he may be misquoted. I did not so testify, nor did Mr. Strahorn. The Strahorn plan was to build certain inexpensive lines in central Oregon to connect up the transportation outposts of Bend, Klamath Falls, Lakeview, Silver Lake and Crane, each community to receive such benefit as might flow from such construction. The conditions which would make possible the execution of such plan were definitely stated, and are readily accessible in print, as well as published maps of the plan. What Mr. Strahorn had to say to the commission on this and all other elements of his connection with the O. C. & E. and the city has been published in pamphlet form, copies of which may be had on request.

R. C. GROESBECK.

CHILOQUIN

CHILOQUIN, Oct. 26.—Jack Almeter and Mr. Glenger left for Klamath Falls on a business trip. Fred Hendricks, Klamath Indian delegate has returned from Salem, and has called a meeting of all members of the tribes of the Klamath reservation for this week, Wednesday, Oct. 28. The meeting will be held at the DuVall ball, Chilochin. Mr. Hendricks will present to the tribe matters of future importance.

A rodeo of the boat is promised by the management for Sunday afternoon, Nov. 1, to be given at Riverside park. Robert Wilson, well known cattleman of the Ft. Klamath road, is in Klamath Falls on business and expects to return home tonight. Herberly Nelson, rancher of Mo-doe Point and son... Klamath Falls today... Meetings are held... church and a large... expected.

Communist Dies in Calif

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23 (News)—Job Harrison, a communist in America, died here of his head falls over his high hopes. Mr. Harrison, in religion, agnostic and member of the communist party, succumbed to just as he saw his exact human nature and communist incompatible.

He died heart-brained illusioned, whispering pointment of life and where once he had had inventives against the social order. Behind him he has left a city of Liano del Rio in desert, the phantom socialism in America, when greed, hypocrisy, business spoiled the dream.

Coast Guard Searches Sea Drifting Life

BOSTON, Oct. 27.—The coast guard and patrol boats were Cape Cod waters late today. The schooner J. O. Webster, containing three of the schooner J. O. Webster, went adrift early Sunday. The schooner itself, the result of stormy weather, Saturday and Sunday, was towed to Rockland, Me. cutter Red Wing, wireless message room, guard headquarters, message, which was from the said the Webster was about 100 miles north. Peaked bill bar boat. Not disclose exactly when, the three men to have either put schooner's life boat, carried off in the mischance. The J. O. Webster from St. John, N. H., loaded with lumber.

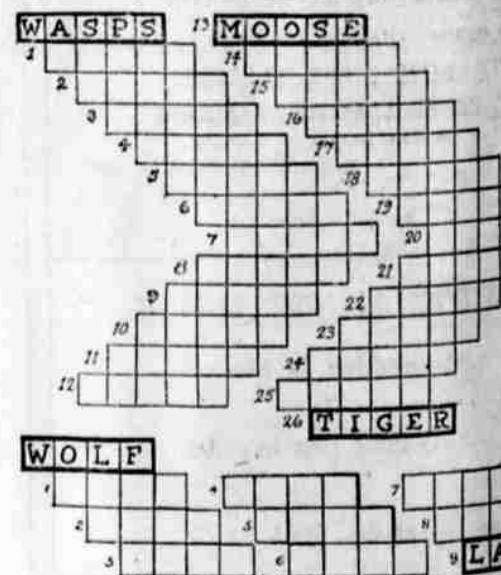

STEP-WORD PUZZLE

Copyright, 1927, King Features Syndicate, Inc. Great Britain Copyright, 1927, King Features Syndicate, Inc. (Reprints from this book "STEP-WORD PUZZLES" are at the disposal of the publisher.)

By ARTHUR WYNNE,

Originator of the Modern Cross-Word Puzzle.

Here are two more sections of the "evolutionary" step-lem, the first part taking us from WASPS to TIGER in 26 steps which the tiger probably will do some lively stepping around. Definitions below as guides in filling in the correct step-words, which must differ from the word on the step above by one letter. If you get the right words, you will come to the word MOOSE 13th step. The second puzzle goes from WOLF to LAMB in 13 steps. See if you can solve it in nine steps without any help.

- 1—Twists out of shape
- 2—Merchandise
- 3—Cuts away little by little
- 4—Sections
- 5—Faction
- 6—Small pie
- 7—Flour and water
- 8—Tambour work
- 9—Improvised force of men
- 10—Equilibrium
- 11—Sound
- 12—A running knot
- 13—Small rodent
- 14—Solution to Saturday's puzzle—Gravy, grave, grade, glide, glare, blase, blast, boast, roast, rouse, mouse, moose, gorge, corse, carse, carve. APE, ale, all, aim, rim, ram, ran.
- 15—To awaken
- 16—Course
- 17—Defents and puts to
- 18—Implants deeply
- 19—Uproars
- 20—Fissures
- 21—Separates with a sere
- 22—Deposits of mud or water
- 23—Inclines
- 24—Thin slabs of baked
- 25—One who lays-tiles