

FIGHTERS START ACTIVE TRAINING

Trambitas Due In Today to Begin Work—Stolz K. O.'s Black Panther

With Trambitas, who is to fight Kid Starkey here on November 3, due in today, also Earl Stolz, of Bend, to meet Chuck Sams on the same night, all of the fighters for the card will be here, excepting the one to fight Henry Burke, preliminary.

Trambitas should be feeling in fine shape as he fought last Tuesday night without any harm accruing from the mixup when he won a decision over Kid Anderson, of Seattle at that place.

Earl Stolz, who is to meet Sams, scored a knockout in his battle with the Black Panther of the Pacific, Scott Holliday. Matchmaker Johnnie Sylvester yesterday received a wire from Earl saying he would be in Klamath Falls in the morning and that he had kay-od the Panther. He fought Holliday Oct. 24, four days after fighting Sams here on Oct. 29.

With the main event between Trambitas and Kid Starkey, great interest is being manifested by the fans. Both of the men are boring-in fighters. Starkey being too well known here to need much advertising, while Trambitas has a record on the coast, which is an enviable one.

Seat sales are going fast. Reports from the Mecca, Waldorf and The Smoke indicate there will be a good crowd turn out to witness the mill on November 3.

LOADING RECORD BROKEN BY CREW

The logs were sealed by two scalers, W. D. Kennedy and B. W. Zollman.

The Ewauna Box company uses an American rod saddle tank locomotive. The train crew consisted of: Engineer Lyle Magnus; fireman Fred Jackson; conductor Eddie Frink; brakeman Jack Cooley. The carloads of logs were hauled over a 3 1/2 per cent grade for a distance of two miles, and were delivered on the Southern Pacific siding within the eight hours. The good condition of the track was due to the efficient work of John Vaughn, section foreman, and his able henchmen.

A noteworthy feature in connection with the loading of the record number of cars yesterday was the quiet and smooth efficiency of the loading crew. There were no accidents. Every worker knew his duties absolutely. A few hand signals only were observed. Not a hook was broken, nor a wheel put out of order. Andy Fioreucio, the camp blacksmith, saw to that.

J. J. Villair, logging superintendent, said yesterday that the record would probably stand for some time, as it goes over all previous short log loading records in Oregon by 150,000 feet.

All the loaded cars were accepted by the Southern Pacific company, without a single reload. All cars had six chains.

The number of visitors who witnessed the loading operations yesterday included Superintendent L. D. Arnold of the Klamath Indian service; Forest Supervisor Fred Moffat, C. A. Middlebush and Reuben Baird, also of the Indian service.

PRES. COOLIDGE IS HELD AS ACCUSER

land, trial judge advocate and Mitchell's legal prosecutor, that the court martial was "abnormal" and in taking cognizance, overruled with military precision, the objections of the defense to continuance of the trial.

The court decided it would rule on this objection later.

It did not wait to act on the numerous other objections introduced by Reid. It disposed of each separately and with the terse recommendation of Col. Winship, that "it is my opinion that motion of the counsel for the accused should not be sustained and I so recommend." Col. Herbert A. White, Mitchell's military counsel, took a hand in the arguments for the first time.

Again defeated, Mitchell's counsel adroitly moved for a bill of particulars claiming that under what they consider "faultily drawn" specifications and charges, Mitchell does not yet know with what he is specifically charged. This move assigned a large task to the prosecution which, however, is expected to furnish the document when court reconvenes Friday.

KLAMATH FALLS COPS 4TH PLACE

City Holds Same Ratio For September As Given Her in 9 Month Report

Klamath Falls still holds fourth place in the list of cities of Oregon in the September building reports recently announced by S. W. Straus & Co. Portland is leading, followed by Eugene, Medford, Klamath Falls, Salem, Astoria, and LaGrande, in naming the seven major cities in the state.

Figures for the month of September give the following amounts in building permits, with Portland issuing $3,539,685; Eugene (10 per cent under valuation) $256,500; Medford, $228,090; Klamath Falls, $155,892; Salem, $112,050; Astoria, $41,000; LaGrande, $20,765.

In comparison with September of last year, building permits for the state of Oregon surpassed the figures of 1924 by more than $1,150,000. Permits issued in September, 1924, amounted to $3,215,375; September, 1925, issuances amounted to $4,365,982.

Klamath Falls fell under her figure of 1924, when permits were issued to the sum of $239,950, second only to Portland, which issued permits to figures of $2,548,576.

Unprecedented building activities are continuing throughout the greater part of the country, with no indications of an immediate let-up. September permits and plans filed in 349 leading cities and towns, showed a gain of nearly 40 per cent over the same month of last year, and 17 per cent for the nine months' period ended September 30.

William Nottage was the butler, and William's wife provided his lordship with the information that ended in the divorce. She sent Lord Illingworth a letter which had been written to the butler by Lady Illingworth, after the butler had quit his post in the Illingworth home.

Young Wives Rather Drive Car Than Rock Baby, Declares Court

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29.—United News—Wives who won't be mothers need never ask sympathy of Superior Judge John W. Summerfield.

When a young wife has to choose between an automobile and a child, the judge holds the car is invariably the winner.

This condition, he believes, is deplorable, but he is at a complete loss to suggest a remedy.

"The fault lies with the woman, 25 per cent, and the man, 65 per cent," Judge Summerfield declared.

How did he arrive at the percentages? Simple!

A dozen years in divorce court. "The husband gets most of my censure because I have found in handling divorce cases that he invariably puts the proposition of automobile or baby to the wife," explained the judge.

"I can sympathize with the young bride who is forced to choose between automobile rides and the hardships of motherhood; but I cannot admire the selfishness which guides her choice.

"It seems to me," Judge Summerfield said, "that this subordination of the maternal instinct to the desire for pleasure is undermining the state of marriage.

"I have had before me numerous couples, who entered compact calling for a childless marriage. I have greater respect for far for the unwed mother, cast out by society, than I have for that type of couple."

Decree Is Issued

Bessie Holloway, defendant, was awarded the custody of the two children belonging to her and her husband, Walter W. Holloway, through a decree handed down in circuit court yesterday by Circuit Judge A. L. Leavitt.

Desertion was the grounds for which the suit was brought. Mr. and Mrs. Holloway were married at Albany, Oregon, on December 25, 1917.

SYRIANS ARMED AGAINST FRENCH

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Armed bands of Syrians are forming to surround Damascus and help the Druses in their rebellion against the French, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Cairo which quotes refugees from Syria.

Damascus is described as a city of the dead. During the French bombardment of the city last week, shells are said to have wrought havoc in the citadel prison. The refugees estimate that 1200 prisoners were killed during the bombardment. Property damage was said to run into the millions of pounds sterling.

Protests of European consuls caused the French to stop the bombardment, but hereafter Damascus is reported by the refugees to have been ravaged by French troops, who roared through the streets in armored cars, firing into stores. Looting also is charged against the French.

The population of Syria is wildly aroused over the shelling.

Divorce Granted

As the result of a decree handed down yesterday by Circuit Judge A. L. Leavitt, Nels Nelson and Wilma Nelson are no longer man and wife.

Desertion was charged in the complaint filed by Nelson. The couple were married November 18, 1914 at Missoula, Montana.

Taken to Lake County

Taken into custody by Klamath county authorities, John Skellog, accused of a felonious offense, yesterday was returned to Lake county where the charge was filed.

Skellog was arrested at Chiloquin, but, until yesterday, had been held in the county jail here. He was returned to Lake county by Sheriff Friday.

DRUNK HELD FOR ANNOYING PEOPLE

John Culgan got acquainted with some liquor in Klamath Falls, according to the police. It was potent liquor and made Mr. Culgan feel in a mood to assert himself.

Then Mr. Culgan met Patrolman Patterson. Patrolman Patterson is not in the habit of seeking out trouble, yet he does not side-step it when it presents itself.

According to Patterson, Culgan was annoying residents in the vicinity of 926 Klamath avenue. "Pat" decided it might be best for Culgan to tell it to the judge, and he placed him under arrest. The man was charged with drunkenness.

Divorce Suit Filed

Charging her husband with cruel and inhuman treatment, Alice E. Nelson yesterday filed suit for divorce in circuit court here from her husband, Walter Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, according to the papers, were married in Spokane on April 23, 1919. They have no children.

HARRIS DIVORCE GRANTED

For 13 years Bertha Harris and Clarence A. Harris had been wedded. And then, yesterday, they were divorced by Circuit Judge A. L. Leavitt.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris were married at Morton, Kansas, on April 5, 1907, according to the complaint. A short time ago Mrs. Harris filed a complaint in circuit court, alleging desertion.
