

TROJANS DEFEAT IDAHO VANDALS

Californians Swamp Northern Grid Warriors In Game By Score 51 to 7

MOSCOW, Idaho, Oct. 30.—(United News)—The University of Idaho Vandals, who had two Pacific coast conference football victories to their credit so far this season, tumbled ingloriously Friday afternoon, when the University of Southern California Trojans defeated them, 51 to 7.

The Trojans started off with a smash and scored 20 points in the first quarter. Idaho's feeble attempt at scoring came in the second quarter when the Vandals made seven points for their only score in the entire game.

FRANKLIN FIELD IS WET WITH SNOW

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—(United News)—Franklin field resembled a big mud puddle Friday afternoon as the Illinois football squad went through signal drills and some kicking and passing practice which represented the final workout before the big game with the red and blue on the morrow.

The heavy snow fall which fell on the field, melting and soaking it as fast as it fell, also dampened the hopes of the Illini, who had hoped that the marvelous Red Grange would be able to dash at full speed in his spectacular runs. Hundreds of alumni who have flocked for the show condole with each other at this expected woe.

"The weather seems to be against us," remarked Coach Bob Zuppke, beef. The pup, after getting this place just as much of a burden upon Pennsylvania.

His squad had the field all to themselves, as the red and blue squad was resting at Absecon, N. J., with no more than a light signal drill.

WALTER JOHNSON WINS 10-1 GAME

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 30.—(United News)—Walter Johnson hurled a collection of major and minor league stars to a 10 to 1 victory here Friday over a team captained by Rube Ehrhart, Brooklyn National league pitcher. Johnson aided in the victory with two doubles and a single. Dave Bancroft, Boston National manager relieved Johnson in the seventh inning and with two men on bases and none out pitching alternately with his left and right hand, retired the enemy the rest of the way without a score.

Hughes, a rookie second baseman from the Three Eye league, featured the game with five hits out of five trips to the plate.

SEALS WIN FINAL GAME OF SERIES

Poor Pitching and Fielding Prove Disastrous to Louisville Crew

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30.—(United News)—The San Francisco Seals shook themselves out of a temporary slump Friday and captured the post-season series against the Louisville club by winning the ninth and deciding game, 9 to 8.

The game was another slugfest, 30 safeties bouncing off the bats of both teams. Each side threw three pitchers into the fray.

The Colonels took the first game of the series last week and then lost four straight. Bracing after a double defeat Sunday, the American association team managed to win three in a row and tie the series at four-all.

Poor pitching and loose baseball has featured most of the contests. The attendance throughout has been slim.

Score— R. H. E.
Louisville 5 12 1
San Francisco 9 18 0
Batteries—Deberry, Holley, Cullop and Meyer; Crockett, Williams, McWeeny and Agnew.

KRIM GUARDS DESERT.

TETUAN, SPANISH MOROCCO, Oct. 30.—(United News)—Abd el Krim's body guard is deserting him and hitherto loyal tribes are refusing money proffered in exchange for their support against the French and Spanish, according to Solomon Jatabi, Abd el Krim's cousin.

The Riflian chieftain's body guard has been changed since members of the former guard began to desert.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

BY NORMAN E. BROWN

Owner Wrigley, after signing Joe McCarthy to manage the Chicago Cubs at $20,000 a year, says he'll "shoot a million to put the Cubs over" next season.

That million can be spent quite easily in quest of good players—and in a vain quest for a pennant.

Wrigley always has been a willing spender. Lack of ready funds to bring new players to his team has not been a factor in the failure of the club to cop under Evers, Mitchell and Killifer.

Wrigley should know by this time that you can't buy a pennant, already wrapped, packed, labeled and stamped for mailing to the home office. You've got to have someone to conduct the pennant personally past the pitchers and murderous sluggers of seven other clubs.

If the Cubs, under McCarthy's management, succeed where they failed under his predecessors most of the credit must go to McCarthy, with a bit tossed to Killifer for what building he did during his reign.

The money will play a part in the scheme of things, but not the major part. John McGraw can tell you that. He found it out with the chances of winning his fifth straight pennant looming big before him just a short year ago.

Now that it's all over and sort of dying out of the limelight we are trying, too, to forget the last world's series. We are turning our attention to wondering what the next one and the ones following that will be like.

Seemed as though in the last one baseball, as the fan wants it, was of secondary consideration.

First of all the Pittsburgh club officials seemed to be angry because they had to work overtime getting ready for the series. That's the feeling they passed out to citizens who wanted to pay hard cash for tickets.

Series got under way. Pittsburgh officials were afraid Clark Griffith would sneak out between innings to tear up the Pirates' street clothes, so they refused to let anyone out of the park once they got in. Afternoon newspapermen had to enlist "for the duration of the game," or have two tickets, so they could get back in.

Then the players got so busy with their writing that they got all tangled up. Leon Goslin, I think it was, was quoted as saying that Joe Harris forgot to comb his hair before gobbling somebody's base hit, and that got a rise out of Goslin's fellow players.

Seventh game came along. The men who owe their salaries, fame and riches to the game—and the fans—sat idly by and let Walter Johnson, grandest player the game has ever known, wallow around to a swampy defeat in a puddle of mud.

The poor judgment of Umpire McCormick in calling balls and strikes, and fair and foul balls, went unheeded as far as the public was informed, but right after the game three or four of the player-writers were slapped by Commissioner Landis because they said mean things about Umpire Moriarty.

Some place in between all these muddling-muddles and paddling-puddles the Pirates won four out of seven games and the title of world's champions.

What'll the thing be like next season?

PEANUT TAKEN FROM LUNG

ROCKFORD, Ill., Oct. 30.—With the aid of the new bronchoscope, a peanut was removed from the lung of 18 months old Norman Anderson here. Physicians said the operation was a success, but the baby is dangerously ill with pneumonia, which set in after the peanut had been removed.
