The Opening Day of Pilcher Company Dept. Store

The men and women of Klamath Falls,
Should leave their room of four plain walls
And visit Pilcher company's store:
"But" wait! I'll tell you what its for:"
There'll be a sale, on opening day,
That will surprise you and will pay;
The prices will suit everyone;
Besides, you'll have a lot of fun!
When you step in and look around,
You'll think "At last! A store I've found
Where I can get just what I need
And have some left to buy a feed."
The beauty of the store itself,
Not counting what is on the shelf,
It's pleasing feature will hold your eye,
And make you feel you want to buy.
The front is made for real display,
And those who can't afford to pay
High prices that will bust their purse,
For goods that are perhaps much worse.
You can get dressed up from head to foot,
And yet have money in the bank to put;
Why, sure! There's shoes and also lace!
Fine corsets for your back to brace.
The ladies wear of latest style,
Will surely make the girls all smile,
It doesn't matter who you are,
They'll fix you up, the best by far.

WHY DOES A PUBLIC UTILITY NEED MONEY?

THE CALIFORNIA OREGON POWER COMPANY — YOUR PARTNERS IN PROGRESS

A public utility such as The California Oregon Power Company furnishes an almost continuous opportunity for the investment of capital. That is a healthy sign of growth.

When you build a new house and call upon the power company to "turn on the lights," the company immediately begins to draw on new capital to buy and install new poles, new wires, a transformer, a meter and other equipment.

Right at the start, each new connection costs as much as all it will earn for the next five or six years. For every dollar of new revenue each year, the company must invest at least five or six dollars in new and improved facilities to reach that dollar. And every so often, when the growing market for power reaches a certain point, it must build additional power houses, generating machinery and transmission lines.

A big investment — a slow but steady income

All these new facilities have a proven ability to earn a reasonable amount of money.

But they earn money slowly—steadily and surely, but only a little each year. The money to pay for them in the first place must therefore be obtained by offering the company's securities for public investment.

The power company that is always growing must frequently need new capital. And it always pays just as much for the use of this capital as it is obliged to pay—no more.

New Copco Preferred will yield 6.52%

As a Preferred Stockholder (one of nearly 3,000 in this territory) you are personally interested in seeing your company pay less and less for capital as its securities grow in value. Or, as a new investor, you are equally interested in the higher appraisal of Copco Preferred Stock as shown by the dividend rate of the new issue—6.52% net on the investment.
