

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

The football team has made it a confusing one for the opposition. The defensive team can not fortell whether the play is to be a kicking, passing or running one.

Navy football officials would feel much easier about the annual game with Princeton were the rules changed so that substitutes were eliminated. For the last two years now a Princeton substitute has spilled tomato soup all over the bright colored vests of the Navy football diners. Last year one Sam Ewing, sitting idly by during most of the game, stepped in and at the psychological moment kicked a field goal that placed Annapolis team on the little end of the horn.

This year one Dan Caulkins sat unobtrusively on the second string bench until called upon to do his stuff. When called upon to do it he bided his chance until he found a forward pass rolling loose about the gridiron. Recalling instructions of various coaches regarding just such an emergency, he picked it up and lit out for home. Somebody tripped him as he neared the goal line, but he had lugged the ball from the shadow of the Princeton posts to within a few yards of the Navy line. Bridges carried the ball over for a touchdown a few minutes later.

Years ago the early defeats sustained by the Harvard eleven meant little in the year's run. They were but practice events, anyhow, leading up to the games with Yale and Princeton. Then came gloomy days when the season ended in a licking at the hands of one or both of the brother members of the Big Three. Got so, too that earnest efforts to prevent the early season defeats met with little success.

Consequently the beating handed Harvard by Holy Cross left a long face on John Harvard. Victories are needed to give Harvard confidence in its big games. Defeats are the galling habit now, not the fruit cocktail.

he is going to get anywhere.

Still another important and likewise interesting feature of the card is that there will be a new referee. Matchmaker Sylvester last night had not made up his mind as to who would be holding the job, at least not to the extent of making public his name, but he assured us he will do his best to get the best he can.

Mickey Gibbons is yet another speedy boxer who will go on in the second headliner with Chuck Sams, local man, who will have to extend himself in this fight, if

Other bouts will be between Ed Herbert, of Klamath Falls and Kid Clarke of Portland, Kid Thomas, also of Portland and Ed. McDonald, a California boxer, will make up the rest of the card, which certainly presents an array of talent that should meet the most exacting of fans.

their friends were in attendance at a dance given last night at the White Pelican hotel. Colorful decorations and brilliant lights made the floors very attractive. The dance was informal.

When an evening paper is read, the readers are ready to take their rest. In the morning they awaken to read The News and seek fresh opportunity in its columns.

What is the ruling of a "dead" ball when the ball is lying on the ground, or around in a pond?

of weeks ago Baldwin-Walsh and Oberlin colleges staged a Western-style, Ohio, for the purpose of something or other, and the question as to whether the team with the ball had the necessary yardage was the linesman and his line moved. And while the linesman was in the act of moving the ball, which had been in a puddle, floated away under a gentle wind.
