

BRIAND FORMS UP EIGHTH CABINET

Louis Loucheur, J. P. Morgan Of France, Named Right Hand Man of Leader

PARIS, Nov. 28.—Aristide Briand has formed his eighth cabinet and picked as his right and left bowlers, Louis Loucheur, France's wealthiest man, in the finance portfolio and Paul Painleve, former premier, in the war post.

Loucheur, upon whom devolves the task of creating a financial program that will yield revenues to halt France's growing inflation and concomitant financial ills indicated today his intention to increase taxes and perhaps also to dispose profitably of some of the state monopolies.

Briand, himself, felt that he had welded together a harmonious and workable regime. And popular acclaim indicated that a Briand cabinet is received favorably by the masses.

Yet the chamber strength of this successor to the two Painleve cabinets is doubtful. It was explained by the knowing that the favorable reception given Briand publicly should not be considered as meaning definitely that the Briand government is stable.

Sports Done Brown

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Dr. Ernest M. Hopkins, president of Dartmouth college (you recognize the school first perhaps as having somewhat of a football team), is one of the so-called younger generation of educational leaders. Because of this, it may well be supposed that he is in close touch with the spirit of the times.

Dr. Hopkins is quoted at some length regarding his views concerning athletics and the spirit that prevails regarding sports and the participants.

He is quoted as saying in part: "I think the public's attitude, particularly toward the players, is all wrong and decidedly unfair. So long as a team is winning it is a body of heroes, lauded to the skies by the fickle public. But let it lose a game or two, make a few little mistakes, and where is it? It is promptly branded as yellow, a gang of cowards and ignoramuses."

"And there you strike the fault of our American attitude toward sports—to the detriment of sports."

"It isn't the playing of the game we're interested in, but only the winning of the game. We seem to have a sort of mania to worship the winners. We cannot give credit to the man who fought a splendid, clean battle and lost, credit because he made such a fight. We forget all about how finely and how cleanly the loser played and lost in our immediate worship of the winner. "And it is a bad thing for football and a bad thing for the players. I have seen men driven out of college over the matter of dropping a punt. Oh, it's a fact. I've actually seen it. Players have made mistakes and had no peace in their lives at the university afterward, so keenly were they made to feel what they had done all through our wrong attitude.

"Now all this might not be true of older men, but it is of undergraduates. They are susceptible to it, and therefore the public's attitude works to their detriment."

There is food for thought in what Dr. Hopkins has said. The wish to win must be a vital factor in athletics. But as the Dartmouth head points out, it can be made the overruling factor and at that point it strikes hard at the game.
