

Miami Rears Skyline That Resembles New York's

The city of Miami, Florida, is carrying through one of the most pretentious building programs the country has ever witnessed. Building permits to extent of $10,183,419.00 were issued by the city for the month of October. This amount was exceeded by only five cities in the U. S. The view above resembles that of the Battery, N. Y. In foreground is newly made land on Biscayne Bay, which will become a park. The skyscrapers in the background are some of the new ones under construction.

YUMA EDITOR IS FREED OF LIBEL

YUMA, Ariz., Dec. 1.—George W. Lynn, editor of the Yuma Herald, won a decisive victory for himself and the "freedom of the press" Monday when the criminal libel charges against him were dismissed by Judge Bollinger.

Lynn was a sensational figure for many months because of his bitter and dramatic fight against E. F. Sanguinetti, millionaire rancher, who charged in a long legal battle that the editor had editorially accused him of selling milk from diseased cattle.

The trial, during May and June, had so excited the passions of Lynn's followers that the court battle was postponed several times.

Dismissal was made on motion of District Attorney Henry Kelly on the ground that to continue the trial would only "excite the passions of the community again, and because conviction cannot be expected."

The outcome of the case against him, Lynn said, "justifies my fight for freedom of the press and establishes a new order of things in Yuma county."

Sanguinetti, it was understood, was in full agreement with the motion to dismiss.

SUBSCRIBER FOR SEVENTY YEARS

Cap Applegate Will Enter Contest of Portland Oregonian

Captain O. C. Applegate is laying claim to the distinction of having read the Oregonian whenever available for 70 years, having perused it faithfully after it had been in existence only five years.

Now the Oregonian is enjoying a diamond jubilee, and there will be "great goings-on" Friday, December the fourth, when all the "old-timers" gather at Portland to enter the contest of the oldest reader.

Seventy-five years ago, on Friday, Thomas J. Dryer was offered a position in the Sandwich Islands now the Hawaiians. He was then owner of the Oregonian, a spry little four-page paper delivered spasmodically to its several hundred patrons.

Dryer disliked immensely the idea of leaving with the newspaper hanging on his hands, and he needed all the money he could obtain for the trip. Besides he was indebted to his foreman, H. L. Pittock, for back wages.

To wash his hands clean of the whole affair, Dryer gave the Oregonian to Pittock for wages. Gave away for a mere song what is now a three million dollar corporation, and the leading newspaper of the Pacific northwest.

In company with Arthur Brown of Medford, traveler for the Oregonian, Captain Applegate plans to leave this week for Portland to attend the convention, and put his finger in the old-reader pie.

Royal Edict Skids Bally Soup Course

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The Prince of Wales, with the help of women who want to keep thin, is killing soup as an item on the London dinner menu.

Wales himself has a dread of becoming fat—he has been told that he has a tendency to corpulency like his grandfather, King Edward VII—and it may be because of that that he never eats soup.

His abstention has been noticed at all dinners he attends. Now soup is seldom served at meals at which he is present.

Women, desperately trying to keep thin, have found out independently that soup is a fattener and they, too, refuse to eat it.

STUDENT STRIKERS AWE SCHOOL BOARD

FOREST GROVE, Ore., Dec. 1.—A "strike" of more than 100 Forest Grove high school students ended today after the school board was forced to compromise the issue at question.

Thirty-five students, behind in their grades, were forbidden to attend a football game between Independence and Forest Grove high schools. They disregarded the order and were suspended as a result.

Student leaders called the strike yesterday and a walkout followed. Studies were resumed this morning when the school board agreed to "forget the matter" and not penalize the disobedient 35.

WIRE NEWS OF THE WORLD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The Rumanian debt of $44,540,000 has been funded on terms approximating the British settlement, with a ten-year period of leniency, according to Senator Reed Smoot, a member of the commission.

Smoot made the announcement late Tuesday, following a call at the white house.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—A warning that a violent hurricane was swinging on the southern Atlantic coast, was issued by the United States weather bureau late Tuesday.

A tropical storm has become severe and will move northeastward from 30 degrees north, 175 west, where it was centered at 2 p. m., with further increase in intensity, the weather bureau said.

The center of the storm will pass near Cape Hatteras late Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, the warning predicted.

ROME, Dec. 1.—The national campaign during which every Italian was appealed to for a dollar or more toward paying the debt to the United States has closed. The total amount collected, more than twice the $1,000,000 asked by Premier Mussolini, will be announced Saturday.

Italians at home and abroad made early and gratifying responses to Mussolini's appeal.

To Disarm Nations Problem of League

(By Charles M. McCann.)

LONDON, Dec. 1.—(United News)—Disarmament is next on the European agenda. With the Locarno treaties signed and sealed there remains only their formal ratification by the various international parliaments, which have not yet acted, to put them fully into effect. These ratifications will be perfunctory matters, for the only real opposition to the treaties was in Germany, and the reichstag already has approved them.

The war left three great international problems to be solved in Europe and disarmament is the third and last to which Europe must turn. The problems were: Reparations, solved by the Dawes plan; security, which is the aim of the Locarno treaties; and disarmament, which is yet to be dealt with. It is axiomatic among European statesmen that security must come before disarmament, and now Europe is confident that security has come. The disarmament which is to follow will be of a union between the Locarno treaties and the league of nations.

C. D. COADY HEADS '26 HARVARD TEAM

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 30.—Clement D. Coady, of West Newton, was elected captain of the 1926 Harvard football team Monday at a meeting of the 18 men, who played in the Yale game.

The election was unanimous. Coady who is a member of the junior class, played fullback most of the past season, being shifted to his old tackle position after the crimson's defeat at Princeton.

Printer's Sick Stomach and Headaches Almost Cost Job

Mr. E. M. Collins of Woodhaven, N. Y., says, "Instead of plodding through my work wearily on account of sick headaches and sour stomach, I now enjoy good health and ambition, can do more and better work and life is worth living. I have never before given my name to advertise a medicine, but you cannot imagine how different I feel since I discovered Carter's Little Liver Pills." Carter's Little Liver Pills tonic the whole system through the liver and bowels. They act as a mild and effective laxative, in a gentle manner without any bad after effects. Recommended and for sale by all drug stores. (Advertisement)

FIGHT CARD IS WELL ATTENDED

Crowd Gets Big Thrill In Gibbons and Sams Semi-Final

Two knockouts and two draws sums up the boxing results of last night at Scandia hall.

The main event between Mike De Pinto of Portland and Billy Watson went the full ten rounds to a draw, and fell flat after the rest of the party. Watson started fast but slowed and in the fifth claimed a foul which the referee could not see. The boys were protecting themselves in the clinches and Watson appeared to have the advantage of this rule. But with De Pinto coming through for a strong finish the referee and judges made it a draw.

In their six cantos Micky Gibbons of Milwaukee and Chuck Sams, whose hat is now hung in town, raised the roof. A whirlwind affair from start to finish, this will give the fans a run for their silver. Both men dispensed and assimilated a world of punishment.

The two preliminaries were short and sweet. Skipper McDonald stopped Kid Thompson in the second frame. One Round Hogan of Malin lived up to his name by hanging the K. O. on Jim Fleming in the first few seconds. A good crowd was in attendance.

DAWES CRAVES SENATE SCALPS

Would Defeat All Senators Who Oppose Change In Old Senate Rules

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Vice President Charles G. Dawes, will 'stump' the country to defeat senators who oppose him this winter in his fight to change the ancient rules of the United States senate.

It will make no difference whether the opponents are republicans or democrats. He will break away from all party allegiance. If they oppose him he will go into their own states and seek to defeat them for re-election.

The vice president announced these drastic measures in an address Monday before 1,000 women at a luncheon under the auspices of the Women's Roosevelt republican club. The vice president hurled all his bridges in what was perhaps his most sensational speech since his election. The present senate situation he declared goes far beyond the question of party regularity. It goes to the foundation of representative government and he says he will carry the battle right back to the country. "Let the politicians stew in their own juice," he said. "My opponents say that I am doing this for political reasons and that I am a candidate for some other office. That is their reaction to all great issues—politics. That is just where I am dangerous and they know it."

"I can say what I please and I don't care who likes it. I simply ask a rule to permit the country to go ahead with its business and not put a premium on the din and chatter of filibusters."

JUDGE A BENNETT'S FUNERAL IMPRESSIVE

THE DALLES, Dec. 1.—Stately simplicity marked the last rites for Hon. A. S. Bennett, former supreme court justice of Oregon and circuit judge of Wasco county whose public funeral was held in the circuit court room of the court house at 11 o'clock this morning. Immense floral tributes, banking the judge's desk before which the casket reposed encircled the rafters of the roster.

"WE'LL SEND YOUR BLANKETS BACK AS SOFT AND FLEECY AS THE SUNLIT CLOUDS."

"This indeed the truth—our special processes of washing and drying blankets takes from them their soil and puts back into them the comfort that makes them your wintertime friends. Protect them from moth by having us call for them. And wrap up all your other clothes, children's play things, the table and bed linens, his shirts and your rub drosses."

Decisive Battle on in French Campaign

BEIRUT, Syria, Dec. 1.—(United News)—French troops and Druse rebels are fighting what probably will be the decisive battle of the campaign in a narrow valley only five miles long, in which lies the fortified city of Hasbeya.

Four thousand Druses are strongly established, and the French have begun an artillery bombardment from the heights of Merdjeyoun. The Druses are expecting reinforcements from the surrounding tribes.
