

PLAN SHOW DOWN FOR WORLD COURT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(United News)—Senator Borah is trying to bring about an agreement whereby the world court will be voted upon soon after the tax bill is passed, he said, following a conference of irreconcilables at his office late Wednesday.

"Nothing has finally been agreed upon, as a few more senators must be consulted," he said, "but we hope to reach an agreement. I can't say yet how much time for further debate will be allowed after the tax bill is passed. That is a point that must be worked out."

Ten days has been suggested as the probable interval between passage of the tax bill and beginning of the world court reservations, but the details of the agreement are still undetermined. It was learned.

This attempt by the Borah group to agree on the time to vote is the result of a decision of the administration leaders to bring the warring talk of the senate to an end and to set the court issue disposed of in the near future.

Slain Bandit Has Bad Crime Record

YUBA CITY, Calif., Jan. 20.—(United News)—Belief that the bandit known as "Whitey," killed in a battle with police officers after a Roseville bank hold-up was Hugh Whitney, notorious Idaho outlaw, was expressed here Wednesday by Hugh Price Jones, deputy coroner of Sutter county.

Jones said that identification was made by a resident of Oroville, whose name he withheld because of the man's fear that friends of Whitney would harm him.

"Whitey" spent 35 days in the man's cabin and during the time confessed his identity, according to Jones.

Tax Bill Likely to Be Voted Soon

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—(United News)—The tax bill finally has reached the senate, where it probably will be taken up the first of next week, or possibly the last of this week, depending upon the final agreement on the world court vote, which is now being worked out.

The measure, which cuts taxes $352,000,000 was reported to the senate from the finance committee Wednesday by Chairman Smoot. The bill will meet more opposition in the senate than in the house, but its way has been made much smoother than anticipated a few weeks ago by the agreement of republicans and democrats on the committee as essential features, so that it should be enacted much more speedily than the bill which was presented two years ago.

Often he was within reach of the officers but invariably he eluded them.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—Martin Durkin, Chicago slayer, is wanted in Los Angeles for several reasons. The principal reason is Detective Lieut. Allan Baldrige.

In his polite, insistent way, Durkin stole an expensive automobile here several months ago. He became tired of the car and hung about the central police station for an hour.

Baldrige, who had been assigned to get the Chicago killer, was to receive help from Durkin to find him, so they rode about in the stolen car. The detective admired its smooth running qualities. Several minutes later Baldrige promised to buy it. They went to a bogus dealer, who took $1,800 from Baldrige and gave him some papers and the car in exchange.

Two days passed and a fellow detective arrested Baldrige on a charge of possessing a stolen automobile.

Detectorial heads then came together and the Los Angeles police force learned with dismay that none other than Martin Durkin was the affable "butter and egg guy" who had given so many tired policemen lifts home.
