

FREMONT SCHOOL TO OPEN MONDAY

Classes are to be opened in the new Fremont school beginning next Monday, it was announced yesterday following acceptance of the $150,000 building by the school board.

Friday afternoon and evening there will be open house at the new Fremont building. From 3 p. m. to 5:30 p. m., and from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m., the public is invited to personally inspect the building which it has paid for, through a bond issue. From 4 p. m. to 5 p. m., Friday there will be an appropriate program, according to Mrs. Leslie Rogers, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Five upper classes and a part of the three lower classes of Central school and three classes from three other city schools will be moved into the new building next Monday. One division in each of the three lower classes in Central school will be kept at the old building on Main street it was announced yesterday.

In addition to moving the children from Central school, it is planned to transfer the eighth grades of Fairview, Mills addition and Pelican City schools to the new structure, to relieve congestion in the three schools. According to this arrangement, children will be transported from the Pelican City district to and from the new school.

ing the case her exclusion is mandatory under the practice of the department which has prevailed since 1907, where the above provision was added to the general immigration law."

"During the last 19 years considerable numbers of aliens have been excluded under this provision for the admission of the same offense as in the instant case," Davis added.

"Prior to the enactment of the immigration law of 1924, the government was obliged to sustain the burden of proof in cases of this nature, but since the act referred to became effective the burden of proof has been placed on the alien applicant for admission and in this respect the alien did not produce any evidence to sustain her right to enter."

To Appeal Case.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(United News)—An appeal from the department of labor's exclusion of the Countess of Cathcart unquestionably will be taken to the courts, according to those informed as to the opinions of the countess and her lawyers.

As the intermittent protest which has been going against the detention of the countess at Ellis Island ever since it became known that the Earl of Craven, her former partner in moral turpitude had been admitted into the United States, rose to a shrill crescendo of feminine voices, it was learned that the countess and her attorneys planned to fight Secretary Davis' decision with what seemed their only weapon—application for a writ of habeas corpus pending the court appeal.

Confined at Ellis Island, which is virtually cut off from the outside world in the evening, the Countess of Cathcart was temporarily inaccessible to the press.

SWISS GIRL TO SHARE FORTUNE

McCormick to Protect the Rights of Daughter of Riding Master

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 17.—(United News)—Determined to see that Anita Oser, the little Swiss miss born to his daughter, and her riding master husband, doesn't miss getting her share of the Rockefeller millions. Harold F. McCormick has entered federal court here to champion his granddaughter's rights.

McCormick Wednesday filed briefs with the federal court here pointing that little Anita may outlive all the other inheritors of the holdings.

Little Anita is the granddaughter of Mrs. Harold McCormick, former wife of the harvest king.

The $5,000,000 was set aside as a trust fund for relatives of John D. Rockefeller before his daughter and Harold F. McCormick were divorced. After the divorce the fund came into litigation. The appearance of a new possible heir adds further complications.

Anita, now two years old, is the granddaughter of Edith Rockefeller and Harold McCormick. Her parents are Mathilde, the McCormick's younger daughter, and Max Oser, the Swiss riding master, whom she married following a sensational courtship.

McCormick's briefs claim that if other parties are living when Anita becomes of age she should receive one-third of the $5,000,000 and that if all the other claimants are dead she has a right to the entire amount.

TIA JUANA, Feb. 17.—Retaliatory steps to counteract the disastrous six o'clock border closing regulations put into effect by the American side were being seriously considered here Wednesday night.

Close Line At 3
Rumors circulating about Mayor Palacio's office were to the effect that an ordinance was being drawn up, which would close the Mexican line at 12 o'clock noon, or 3 p. m.

The syndicate of Tia Juana racing millionaires, the wealthy American owners of the Foreign club and Mexicans threatened with economic destruction unless the "sucker" trade resumes, were in conference with city officials late Wednesday night.

The race magnates and resort keepers have their backs to the wall, and for the first time since attacks upon the Petee girls were made public they fear ruin and loss of millions of dollars in businesses.

James Coffroth, head of the racing syndicate here, stated Wednesday night that racing would be finished in Tia Juana unless something was done to bring the Americans back. He announced he would retaliate by building large hotels, and charge reasonable prices.

Coffroth admitted that not enough Americans would care to stay overnight in Tia Juana to support even one of the large cafes and that the only alternative for Tia Juana was to build hotels in competition with San Diego.

The only hotels here now are ramshackle frame affairs, notorious for their flea and cockroach populations.

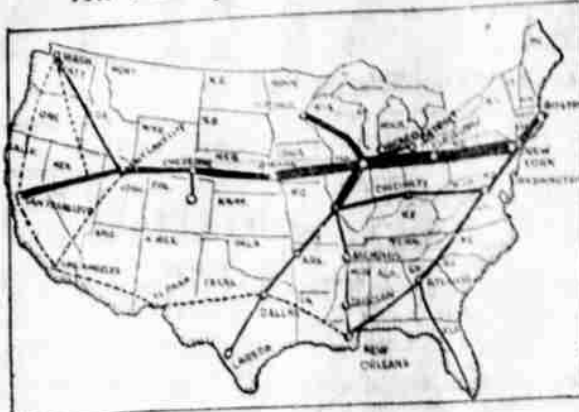

PAY HUGE DOLES

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(United News)—Great Britain paid $9,000,000 in unemployment doles in 1925, Sir Arthur Steele Maitland, minister of labor, announced in the house of commons Wednesday.

Sparring Partner Commits Suicide

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 17.—(United News)—Ralph Brooks, sparring partner of Jack Dempsey, died in a hospital here Wednesday afternoon, a few hours after he shot himself through the head at a hotel. Brooks, a heavyweight boxer from Wichita, Kansas, arrived here Tuesday with Lavigne and Farmer Lodge, two other sparring partners of the champion, preparatory to an exhibition bout Dempsey was scheduled to give Saturday night. Disappointment over a love affair was believed by friends to have caused him to commit suicide. Brooks joined Dempsey's party at Denver last week. He was about 30 years old.

Senate Shies From Foreign Debt Talk

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(United News)—Republican leaders in the senate are shying from immediate action on the foreign debt settlements, including the Italian, which drew considerable criticism in the house and is just as unsavory to a growing group in the senate.

The republican steering committee, which guides the course of legislation, met Tuesday and decided on a legislative program for the future, but made no place for consideration of foreign debt pacts approved by the house.

"We did not even discuss the foreign debt settlements," said Senator Wadsworth of New York.

EXPLORER WILL AID POLAR TRIP

Stefansson to Advise With World Flight Arctic Explorers

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(United News)—Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, has accepted the post of technical adviser to next summer's airplane polar expedition under the leadership of Lieutenant Leigh Wade, one of the army round-the-world flyers.

The announcement of the explorer's appointment Wednesday night by Robert Anderson Pope, the expedition's organizer, was accompanied by the information that the party, unlike other expeditions to the far north by air, would carry no large supply of provisions, but would depend upon guns and nets for food. Pope also announced that the party would remain in the Arctic three years if it discovered the supposed continent there which is its goal.

Stefansson will not necessarily accompany the expedition in the far north, but his extensive knowledge of the region will be the guide for the party's preparation. The famous explorer probably would accompany the party as far as Alaska. Not the least of his contributions will be two of his associates in his many Arctic trips, who are experts in obtaining food in the regions to be explored.

The main article of food for the explorers is expected to be seal meat, which is said to taste something like fat roast beef. Shrimps, on which the seal feeds, will also be sought in the Arctic for the airman's menu.

PREFERS JAIL

ROOULE, England, Feb. 17.—(United News)—"What's the big idea?" asked a policeman who found William Burke looking at a hole he had made with a brick in a plate glass window.

"I was going to be married to-morrow, but I'd rather go to jail," replied Burke.

He was remanded for inquiry when he reached court.

No more
than a hen

PRINCE ALBERT can't bite your tongue or parch your throat any more than a barnyard hen can chew beefsteak. The Prince Albert process fixes that! Yes, Sir! P. A. is toothless . . . but tooth-SOME. And that's all the difference between sunshine and rain.

The man who "couldn't smoke a pipe" is now a P. A. fan. You understand why the minute you pack your jimmy-pipe with this fine old favorite and light up. That first fragrant whiff fills your system with a new brand of joy . . . tells you no other tobacco is like P. A.

When you get going with good old P. A. for packing, you're sitting on the top of the world . . . and the view is simply grand! Troubles take to the tall timber. Pipe-grouches choose the nearest exit. Problems just seem to solve themselves.

Cool as a Cape Cod breeze. Sweet as the breath of honeysuckle. Soothing as a cradle-song. Real tobacco for real men. Get what's coming to you in downright pipe-satisfaction. Buy a tidy red tin of Prince Albert today and you're all set for a revel and a revelation!
