

Suzanne Drops Out of Tennis Singles

NICE, Feb. 27. (United News)—"My doctors say that I have a weak heart and that I am apt to injure it permanently if I play singles again before June," Suzanne Lenglen personally informed the United News on Friday night.

The French girl thus put an end to any possibility of a return match with Miss Helen Wills before the Paris championships, which are more than three months distant.

"On my doctors' orders, I am leaving for the mountains on Monday," continued Suzanne. "I will play only in a few doubles matches from now until I go to Paris."

"I am terribly sorry to cause this disarrangement of the schedule, but my doctors must be obeyed."

MONTE CARLO, Feb. 27.—(United News)—"That spoils my vacation," said Helen Wills abruptly, when advised that Suzanne Lenglen will play in no more singles matches on the Riviera this year.

The American champion was surprised at her French rival's sudden defection.

"I hope Miss Lenglen will recover her health before the national championships in June," she added.

Old-Time Ace of Diamond Passes

GETTYSBURG, Pa., Feb. 27. (United News)—At a time when pitchers of a new generation are just beginning to work the knicks and their arms in Florida and California, the man who was perhaps the greatest left-hander of all time, has passed on in answer to the call of the great umpire.

Eddie Plank, who was the star southpaw on the "million dollar" team which Corcoran, McMillenbuddy, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, broke up in 1915, died Wednesday at the age of 51, following a stroke of paralysis.

Mellon Has 33 Aluminum Stock

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(United News)—How much stock constitutes a controlling interest in a large corporation is the question that has arisen in the senate controversy over the Aluminum Company of America.

While that point has nothing to do with the innocence or guilt of the aluminum company, it has much to do with the political aspects of the case. Democrats have expected to go to the country in the congressional campaign, charging that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and his brother control the aluminum company, and that this fact caused the department of justice to handle the aluminum company with undue tenderness.

Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, however, told the senate Thursday that the Mellon brothers owned less than 33 per cent of the aluminum company stock. The department of justice had previously reported that the Mellons did not hold control.

Still earlier the federal trade commission had said they did, basing their statement on the word of President Davis of the aluminum company.

Witness Against Chaplain Is Held

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—(United Press)—Released from the witness stand but still held a virtual prisoner, Lucille Swallow, 22-year-old Kansas girl, with whom Chaplain Orville I. Clappitt is charged with being intimate, tonight expressed bitterness over her situation.

Lucille thought when she stepped outside the dingy presidio court-martial room today was informed that she could go where she pleased. The military had told her she was through as a witness for the state in the prosecution of a Chaplain Clappitt, who had victims of Los Angeles, a job in a beauty parlor a friend has promised to get for her, with possibly a chance to go into the movies.

"And now they tell me I'm got to go back home," said Lucille bitterly. "I don't want to go back there for many reasons. I'm not anxious to face my family."

Gone are the Old Penalties of Low Price

Until the new Pontiac Six was developed, it was literally impossible to buy a low priced six without accepting certain admitted penalties—those of ordinary beauty, ordinary performance, ordinary comfort and ordinary stamina.

Now the new Pontiac Six changes all that. Developed by engineers who could draw on the almost limitless resources of General Motors, it provides not only the economy of an unexpectedly low price—but every characteristic of high quality.

It provides the striking beauty of a smart, roomy Fisher body freed from pitching and rolling entirely and get-away, speed, power and above all, a long life that can be obtained by the strictest material, workmanship and specifications.

And because it provides at so low a price, the Six has won from the public the most gratifying reception, the like of which new six has ever enjoyed.

Oakland Six, Comparison to the Pontiac Six—$975 to $1275. All prices.
