WILTON'S

The Foremost Floor Coverings

THERE is no finer floor covering made than the American Wilton, and the public in general is rapidly coming to a full appreciation of this fact. The wonderful beauty of design which it is possible to impart to floor coverings of Wilton weave; the soft luxuriousness of the deep pile and the exceptional wearing qualities combine to make a Wilton a satisfying life investment.

WILTONS are made from skein-dyed yarns, insuring permanence of color and, due to the Wilton construction, the colored yarns are carried in the back as well as the face, thus giving a cushioning effect which increases the wear. Each loop of the weave is permanently bound to the back so that there is no possibility of any of the pile sweeping off. A Wilton always has a fresh, clean look, free from any loose fibers.
