

SOCIETY

NAME.
A wee hoose stands far up the glen
Smothered in the heather;
A peat-shed an' a but-an-ben
Thatched sae weel the-gether.

The peo-weest cries beyont the knowes
From whins the linnets sings,
As doon the hill to smillin' howes
The laughin' burnie rias.

A gathrin' mist comes o'er my sight,
My spirit hovers there,
I see my Mither by fire-light—
She kneels at even' prayer.

I ken she dis'nna me forget,
She sings the Shepherd's sang,
Her dear auld withered cheeks are wet,
She thinks the time sae lang.

I'll seek no mair for gold or fame,
The world no rest can gie,
I scent the heather o' my hams
And Scotland calls to me.

Mither's love's the beacon licht,
That guides the wand'rer hame,
Through keenest joys, through sor-
row's nicht,
That love ay hides the same.

TRITON YOUTH.
The tan of the dunes is upon your
skin,
The grey of the sea in your eyes;
There's the rigor of truth,
And the vigor of youth—
Insurgent with fun and surprise;
All life, little Triton, is yours to win.

For the tingle, the tang and the dare
Of a spirit that rides
Like the wind on the tides
Is to carry you—everywhere.

ON THE MORROW.
I've strolled down the road
To happiness,
I've trudged down the road
Of sorrow,
But I'll walk in joy down
The golden road
With you, my dear,
On the morrow.

OLD-FASHIONED DANCE IMPORTANT EVENT

Many events of a social nature are crowding this week's calendar, but most important of all is the old-fashioned dance to be given on Friday evening, April 23, at Altamont pavilion under the auspices of the members of St. Paul's Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

Through the courtesy of E. B. Epperson, an amplifier has been installed in order to have all callings, called by H. W. Althaus, heard distinctly throughout the entire hall.

Perhaps most interesting is the fact that the grand march, always the main event of the dances of our mothers and grandmothers, will be led by Judge H. A. Emmitt and Mrs. Emmitt. Mrs. Emmitt will wear a dove colored taffeta dress with the lace that made her frock so long ago. It is the wedding gown in which she was married more than fifty years ago in the Rogau river valley.

Floor managers for the evening include Fred Houston and Dr. E. D. Lamb, and they plan many interesting features. Of course the dance will be of major interest to the older folk, but the younger ones have not been forgotten by the committee in charge and they may Charleston during the evening to their hearts' content.

Tickets may be obtained by members of St. Paul's Guild.

LEAVING FOR VICTORIA TODAY

A party of Klamath Falls residents are leaving today, Sunday, for Seattle by motor. From Seattle the group will take a boat to Victoria on Vancouver Island, where the first district international Roary convention is being held the latter part of April.

Mrs. Barnhisel will reside in Klamath Falls this spring and her introduction to society was an event of yesterday.

Covers for 21 were laid around an attractive centerpiece of red, yellow and pink tulips and two large tables. Following luncheon a reception was held in the run followed by bridge.

MRS. LAMM HOSTESS TO BRIDGE CLUB

ROBIN HOOD DANCE ATTRACTIVE NUMBER

One of the most attractive affairs of the spring season is the May fete, the first annual affair sponsored by the Klamath Falls county high school, when Miss Ruth Cofer will be crowned queen by Prime Minister Roland Cofer.

And perhaps the most interesting event, outside of the formal crowning, is the Robin Hood dance to be given by eight blonde girls of the high school. The girls, all attractive members of the younger high school set, include Lorraine Mordoff, Zepha Rogers, Thelma Clow, Helen Abbey, Virginia Peyton, Alice Callahan, Juanita Dodge and Jeannette Schultz.

The four high school classes are each putting on a different and original stunt. The fresh will give a drill, the sophomores an interpretation of folk dances, the Juniors will stage an English Breakfast hunt and the senior girls will appear in a Chinese dance.

The official crowning will be an event of May 7th and following the afternoon fete the dances that won accord and recognition will be repeated in the American Legion building when a dance will end the festivities honoring Queen Ruth.

CAMPFIRE GROUP TO SWIM MONDAY

Although spring is here in the truest sense of the word, it is hardly time for outdoor swimming. But Klamath Falls girls are anxious to don their bathing suits, and a number are taking advantage of the plunge to "practice" for the warm weather sport.

Under the direction of Mrs. Maide C. Harwood, assistant guardian, a number of girls of Winema group will meet Monday evening at 7:30 at the tank to swim for a time. It is expected that more than twelve girls will attend.
