

Manager Plan Lifts Ashland Public Affairs

"For the first time in years the street situation of Ashland is on a satisfactory basis, as a result of turning over the care of the streets, as well as city fire, water and light to the supervision of a city manager," said Wm. M. Briggs, city attorney for Ashland, who was a News office visitor yesterday afternoon.

"The former system of dealing with the city's business was unsatisfactory, because the mayor and members of the council were always busy men who had too much of their own affairs to see to give proper attention to the business of caring for the streets and other city business. Under the charter of Ashland, the city council has the right to create any appointive office it deems necessary. So this power was exercised, without changing the charter or calling a special election, to create the office of manager for the departments of fire, water, streets and light. C. A. Malone, an electrical engineer in charge of the city light plant, was appointed as manager in this position.

"While still retaining direct control of the light plant, Malone spends a large share of his time directly supervising the work in these three other departments. He has replaced the old street machinery with modern machinery, instituted greater efficiency, and saved costs of accomplishing work. He is required to make a monthly report covering all receipts and expenditures, state of equipment, and recommendations. The system directly centralizes responsibility for these departments on the manager, and is a great improvement on the former rather haphazard method of dealing with these departments. "While the new plan has been in effect only a month, it is already showing good results," concluded Briggs.

Tex Will Eat Regular When This One Goes

NEW YORK, April 30.—Tex Rickard will match Jack Dempsey and Harry Willis within the next 30 days and also will sign the heavyweight champion for a tune-up bout with Gene Tunney.

Such was the outcome of one of the wildest days in boxing history in which the New York state athletic commission, floundering bewilderedly, and divided against itself, announced that Dempsey was eligible to fight in this state, that the champion had been eligible for nearly ten months, and that Rickard had the commission's approval for everything that he had done.

When this bombshell was tossed upon the boxing world the cry went up:

"Who will Dempsey fight?" Across a mahogany table in the commission's offices two bewildered gentlemen glared at one another.

"No one but Willis," exclaimed Chairman James Farley.

"Anyone but Willis," retorted Commissioner William Muldoon in the breath.

Whereupon Tex Rickard, who, as predicted, had roped and hog-tied the commission and made it eat out of his hand, quietly picked up his hat and stepped to the door.

"All right, gentlemen," said the soft-spoken Texan; "all arrangements will be ready for you within thirty days."

The door closed upon his broad grin.

EVEN MOUNTAINS ARE LIVELY HERE

WASHINGTON, April 29.—(United News)—The mountains of California are still growing, according to Dr. Bailey Willis, president of the American Geographical Society, who is here to attend the American geophysical union.

He says that there is an inward pushing up of the mountains of California, coming from the rock forming the bottom of the Pacific ocean.

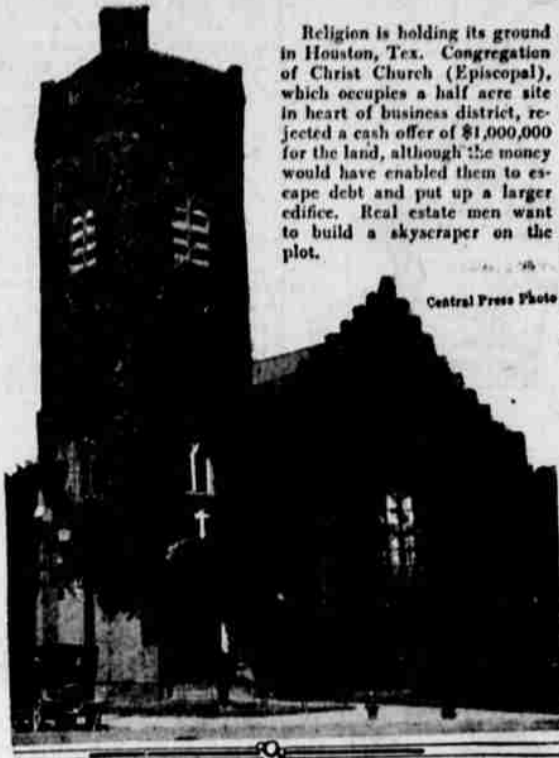

"The whole Pacific coast region in South America, Alaska, Kamchatka, Japan and the Aleutian Islands is very much alive," Dr. Willis said. "The mountains are still growing in all these places. The mountains in the eastern half of the United States are all quiet. They have stopped growing."

Earthquakes in the western part of the country are explained on this basis, Dr. Willis said.

"It is a fact that regions where the mountains are still growing are likely to suffer disturbances," he said.

"Therefore we may say that the eastern half of the United States is comparatively safe from earthquakes."

Church, Although in Debt, Refuses Million Dollar Cash Offer for Site

Religion is holding its ground in Houston, Tex. HOMERS FLY FAST IN LEAGUE GAMES

Brooklyn Dodgers, with Burleigh Grimes hurling his first victory of the season, jumped into first place in the National league Friday by virtue of an 8 to 4 victory over the Phillies, while the Giants were trimmed again by Boston, 5 to 4.

In the junior circuit, the Yankees inspired by Ruth's fourth homer, slugged their way to another win at Washington's expense, 7 to 2, tightening their hold on first place.

Cleveland lost to Chicago, 3 to 2, as a result of a ninth-inning White Sox uprising which netted two runs. The Yanks' winning streak now amounts to seven games in a row.

The world's champion Pirates drove four Cincinnati pitchers from the mound and romped off with a 13 to 4 victory. The Pirates scored eight runs in the eighth inning.

The Cubs took a slugging match from the St. Louis Cards in which 31 hits were made, by putting the winning run over in the eleventh inning.

Sammy Gray, star pitcher of the Mackmen last season, hurled the Athletics to a 5 to 2 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Until the last inning, when he weakened perceptibly, and two runs were scored, only two hits were made off Gray's delivery.

Despite Sisler's homer in the eighth, Detroit managed to squeeze through a 7 to 6 victory over the Browns although five St. Louis pitchers were used to stem the Tigers' attack.

Shocker, one of the points in the Yankees' five-star pitching staff, gave a splendid exhibition on mound, keeping the Senators well in hand except for Rice's homer in the first.

Ruth's homer boosted the Yankee total to 15 in as many games. Six home runs were recorded in the American league and five in the older organization.

LARNED, Kas., April 30.—Raymond Webb, six years old, is the third youth to be electrocuted while trying to get to a bird's nest at the top of a steel pole carrying transmission wires of a power company.

The annual exalted rulers' ball will be an event of social interest on Wednesday evening, May 5 in the Elks' temple. The committee in charge, composed of H. S. Matthews, Otto Lorenz and Bud Conway, has made plans for a most interesting affair.
