FAMILY OF 3 HURT AS TRAIN HITS CAR

Oaklander and Wife Near Death, Son of 4 Suffering From Brain Concussion and Shock

Machine Hurlled From Tracks and Overturned at Crossing by East Bay Interurban Car

Returning home from an outing in the family automobile yesterday afternoon, three persons were dangerously injured when the car was struck by a Southern Pacific electric train at Bond street and Fifth avenue, Oakland.

The Injured.

Modley, O. R., 64, painter, 5062 East Fourteenth street, Oakland, broken ribs and dangerous internal injuries.

Modley, Mrs. Effie, his wife, possible fracture of the skull and dangerous internal injuries.

Modley, Randolph, their son, aged 4, concussion of the brain, cuts and bruises and in dangerous condition from shock.

At the Oakland Emergency hospital where the injured family were taken, it was said that Modley and his wife were probably fatally injured but that the boy's life might be saved.

The car was struck by an east-bound electric train as it was crossing the tracks and overturned. The three occupants were thrown out and Mrs. Modley caught beneath the wreckage. Her husband pulled her clear and then collapsed from his own injuries.—S. F. Examiner.

NOT $1.50 a Month, ONLY $1.50 A YEAR!

Many people may have the idea that the insurance costs $1.50 per month plus the price of The Klamath News.

This is not the case. The total cost of the insurance is $1.50 for the ENTIRE year. The cost of The Klamath News is only 50c per month. You merely pay the $1.50 policy fee in advance. After that, the carrier will collect only the regular price of the paper—50c a month—each month.

If you are now a subscriber the carrier will continue to collect at the regular time each month. If you are not now a subscriber, the carrier will start the paper and collect monthly.

We request that every reader read the policy. This insurance is only for Registered Klamath News readers. You must be a subscriber of The Klamath News to be entitled to the benefits of the insurance.

Reader Obligation

The relation that exists between newspaper and reader is necessarily intimate. The newspaper is an outgrowth of the old Town Crier, a bringer of news—a chronicle, but chiefly it serves in a capacity of a servant, and as such it has many obligations. As a servant of the people this newspaper is fully sensible of its journalistic obligation, and the realization of this trust has caused us to strive in every way to serve our readers in the best possible fashion. We have always considered our readers as a large "family," and our desire to promote and safeguard the welfare of them is identical with the family tradition. We are interested not only in the civic, state and national rights of the "family," but are also concerned with the prosperity and happiness of each individual.

Real Service

The scope of such a service is far-reaching. We have intimate contact with our readers, and are frequently called upon to serve in the capacity of adviser and friend. We have been brought close to the lives of many, and shared in their happiness and sorrow. Among those whom we found plunged in sorrow we have made a shocking discovery.

Much of their suffering and misery could have been avoided by the timely exercise of planning and foresight. We have given advice gladly and willingly, but we were helpless to offer any material solace. We could at best point out the way and advise.

The Tragedy of Life

It seems inevitable that humanity will persist in trusting to luck, and the individual is prone to consider that he, in some inconceivable fashion will be the exception. But in life as in death, there are no exceptions, and the early realization of this fact would prevent much unhappiness and misery in the world.

This newspaper, knowing as you perhaps will never know, the great tragedy of unpreparedness for death and the great suffering that arises therefrom, urges you to take advantage of this new and great service.
