

New York Puts On Night Lids Along Broadway

By FRANK GETTY
NEW YORK, June 8.—(United News)—Things are coming to such a pass that pretty soon a New Yorker, when he wants to have a wild night out, will have to run down to Philadelphia or up to Boston.

Police Commissioner McLaughlin has decided that if New York cannot be made a nine o'clock town it can be at least a two o'clock town, and has ordered his stalwart, blue-coated minions to close up all night clubs and cabarets at 2 a. m. sharp.

The commissioner says bluntly that "all decent people should be out of such places by 2 o'clock." He proposes to arrest the other. Following so closely upon the banishment of one Broadway revue and the censoring of other theatrical productions, the new closing order has caused New Yorkers to look around in amazement, and ask: "What's the old town coming to, anyway?"

For this city, with its reputation as a regular six-cylinder sort of metropolis, to be closed up promptly at 2 a. m. is nothing short of revolutionary.

Proprietors of night clubs are organizing a firm protest against the order. They differ with Commissioner McLaughlin as to the proper bed time for what he calls "decent people." To the night club folk a paying customer is always "decent."

McLaughlin pointed out that Richard Reese Whittemore and that enterprising young yegg's gangsters were picked up in a night club.

ARRESTED HERE, HE IS SERVING YEAR

SCRIBES TO PARTAKE OF BUCKAROO FEAST

Oregon editors and newspaper workers will assemble at Prineville on June 13 for the annual convention which convenes for two days. Elaborate preparations have been made by the citizens of Prineville for the entertainment of the guests, and at intervals between business sessions the scribes will be shown over the irrigated sections adjoining that town.

One of the features of the entertainment will be a buckaroo breakfast to be served at the George H. Russell ranch. The meeting will be brought to a close by a banquet at Prineville in the evening, to be followed by the first annual ball by the State Editorial association.

Fight Quarters Dismantled by Danger of Fire

Protested as a possible obstruction in case of a fire outbreak, the open-air pavilion at the corner of Eighth and Main streets was yesterday dismantled by Matchmaker John Sylvester.

The arena had been put up by Sylvester for use by "Kid" Starkey, the popular Klamath Falls glove-man, to train in for his forthcoming bout with Benny Dotson, Portland fighter, on June 22, and its removal will necessitate indoor workouts for Starkey until another suitable outside location can be arranged for.

Manager Sylvester proceeded with the erection of the platform after receiving proper permission, but later the owners of the property decided its presence might be unwise under present existing fire hazards and made objection.

Scandia hall will be used by Starkey for his workouts until an outdoor location can be found, and he started his training there last night, stepping several fast rounds with Harrington and Sailor Frye. The local favorite showed his form by filling his opponents' faces full of gloves, while keeping easily out of their reach.

Brookhart's Lead Grows Steadily as Count Made

DES MOINES, Ia., June 8.—(United News)—Colonel Smith W. Brookhart, who was unseated by the United States senate when his election two years ago was contested by a democrat, won the first round in his fight for repossession of his senatorial toga in Monday's primary election.

Brookhart continued to swell his lead as late returns trickled in from outlying precincts in the state. Returns from 2325 precincts out of 2447 show the following count:

Brookhart, 296,965; Cummins 133,119; Clark 63,025.

When notified of his nomination, Brookhart calmly stated that the voters had given him a square deal and now he would reciprocate. "I expect to leave for Washington within the next few days and offer my services to the farm belt committee, which is seeking farm relief legislation," he said.

Wife Buys Hubby Auto; He Proves Real Good Fellow

It only took Marie Fortin a few days over a year to find out that John Nelson Fortin was not destined to be her helpmate for life. In a complaint filed yesterday in the Klamath county circuit court she sets forth that they were married in Yreka, June 2, 1925.

She alleges that she bought an automobile for her husband's business, paying $250 down on it, out of money she had earned.

Instead of using the automobile for business, Fortin quit his job, according to the complaint and entertained his friends in the automobile, while his wife worked. The wife continued to work, she alleges, but now she considers herself as having been stung and wants temporary alimony of $50 a month or a lump sum of $500, also a decree of separation.
