

PELICANS ARE CONFIDENT OF SUNDAY GAME

The Pelicans announce themselves as rounding into condition for the baseball game next Sunday afternoon with that strong aggregation from Medford, and one of the fastest contests of the season is promised.

That the game may be enlivened, and that every fan in the city may be present to root for the Pelicans, the management has engaged Larry Simpson and his 11-piece orchestra of Portland to dispense music that is appropriate to the occasion.

It's anybody's game just at present, but Bert Cook, director of the Pelicans, says he is sure the Pelicans will have strengthened themselves sufficiently as to be able to successfully cope with their adversaries. Were the contest two weeks distant then there would be nothing to it, in the opinion of Cook. At that time Schrittmater, the left handed pitcher of the Oregon Agricultural college, will have joined the Pelicans, as will Sechrist, the strong outfielder of the same institution. Both of these players are heavy hitters, and always give a good account of themselves.

Schrittmater and Sechrist will be in the line-up when the Pelicans face the Medford team on the latter's grounds on June 27.

SOUTH OF SANTA FE ORPHEUS HEADLINER

After a long and patient battle against almost overwhelming odds, Denver Dixon, producer and director of Art Mix productions, has at last reached the dizzy heights of photoplay fame. Mr. Dixon's newest picture, "South of Santa Fe," coming to the Orpheus theatre today and Friday, is ample proof of this young man's ability to keep sticking to one thing "until he gets there," as Josh Billings remarked about the postage stamp. For he it known that Mr. Dixon began life as a lowly and lonely cowpuncher on the Texas plains. After many years herding cattle he heard the call of the cinema. Followed plenty of hard work in every capacity from sweeping out studios to running errands for stars. Now, after fifteen years of patient waiting—and working—Mr. Dixon is producing under his own banner.

JURY DISAGREES IN WEED MURDER CASE

After a trial lasting a week, held in the superior court at Weed, the jury disagreed and was discharged in the case of Joe Coffman and Oscar Schuler, charged with the murder of an unidentified logger.

Coffman was formerly a resident of Klamath Falls, and while here made several appearances in the prize ring. He and Schuler are still held in jail at Weed awaiting the second trial.

LAMM'S CAMP

Nels Headberg has returned to camp after being sick in Klamath Falls for several days.

Dave Anderson and Walter Meyer visited in Chiloquin a few nights ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Henderson were in Chiloquin Saturday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Shaw went to Klamath Falls on Saturday afternoon on business.

Geo. W. Hagedorn, Harry Stanton, Ray Olson, Martin Olson, Harry Wright, Lee Weymouth, E. Sanzone and A. Anderson motored to Diamond lake Saturday, each one testing his car to see how far it would go on a gallon. This is a sample of the grub that was taken along: One sack potatoes, two quarters beef, sixteen loaves bread, one-half case eggs, ten pounds pure hog lard, one box raisins, twenty pounds ham, one large slab bacon, and forty pounds cheese, each one taking one gallon of pure water. They reported on returning that the fishing was poor.

Mrs. W. L. Clement and Mrs. John Evans were in Alkoma one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Evans, and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Henderson went to Diamond lake, fishing Saturday, staying over Sunday and returning Monday. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Cook started to make the trip but had car trouble.

Alva Cox went to Klamath Falls Saturday, staying over Sunday, returning late Sunday.

Geo. Maston visited his family in Klamath Falls Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clement and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hyde fished at Diamond lake Sunday.

Do You Know

How much money you lose each month because of spoiled food?

It is a proven fact that the money you lose each month on spoiled foods will pay for a Belding Hall Notaseme Refrigerator.

Then consider it, aside from a dollar and cents proposition, from a health standpoint. Food kept cold and clean and free from germs is an assurance of good health. You cannot afford to be without a Belding Notaseme Refrigerator.

A feature of the Notaseme—The ice box in both the large and small Refrigerators will hold nicely 50 pounds of ice.
