Earl Whitlock Is Recipient of More Honors Conferred

Earl Whitlock, well known mortician of Klamath Falls, now knows what it means to have honors heaped upon him.

Not satisfied with naming him president of the Oregon State Funeral Directors' association at the annual convention held at Portland during the past week, the State Coroners' association, which has been holding its annual convention there, elected him its secretary and treasurer to serve for the ensuing year.

According to advices received here yesterday Klamath Falls will benefit materially through the elevation of Mr. Whitlock from the vice-presidency to the presidency of the Oregon State Funeral Directors' association. Numerous committee meetings are held during the year and he will be in a position to call his committees to meet in this city as the occasion demands.

During his sojourn in Portland Mr. Whitlock has been entertained in royal style. He was presiding officer at the breakfast conference of the State Funeral Directors' association held yesterday morning at the Multnomah hotel, while on Thursday night he attended the party given on the dancing boat Swan. Present at this gathering were Mrs. H. V. Joyaux, wife of the deputy coroner of Klamath county, and their son, Jean. Mr. Whitlock wired last night that he would arrive home Tuesday.

Cupid Flirts and Two Weddings Are Result of Effort

June and June brides upheld the old familiar tradition when Saturday two of Klamath Falls' loveliest bride elects were married at the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Rice of the Presbyterian church.

At 5 o'clock Saturday morning Miss Helen Jones became the bride of Albert G. Skelton of Grants Pass. Miss Jones wore a frock of Aches of Roses and a lovely hat to match. Her attendant, Miss Sarah K. Folsom, wore a frock of deep carmen and a hat of white. G. S. Paxson of Salem was best man. Mrs. Skelton has taught for the past year in Fremont school. Miss Folsom is also a member of Fremont teaching corps.

Pilgrim Boys Chorus Plans Concert Here

The Pilgrim Boys Chorus of 20 singers and seven speakers who range in age from 10 to 14, are planning to visit Klamath Falls on Monday, June 28, enroute to Crater lake. These lads have been selected from a series of boys choirs which have been organized during the last three years in the San Francisco bay district by James H. Price.

Price was once a student in the Klamath Falls high school and is well known to many of our people. His first job was working as a printer's devil for one of the Klamath papers. Since graduating from school he has given much of his time to boys' work and the Pilgrim Boys Chorus is the product of his ambition to assist in the crusade against war. The large boys' chorus is dedicated to the cause of world peace and the boys have become famous in their home cities through their singing and speaking in behalf of this movement.

While in Klamath Falls the Pilgrims will give a program under the auspices of the W. C. T. U., of which Mrs. Frances E. Boyd is president.

PUT LIGHTED CIGARETTE OUT IS SUGGESTED

Lighted cigarettes should not be thrown along the highways or the streets of the city, according to Kieth Ambrose, chief of the fire department. These cigarettes are responsible for practically all of the brush fires of the last two weeks, he says, and people should be more cautious, and make it a point to see that the smoker's delight is thoroughly extinguished before throwing the stub away.

"Had the autoist who threw his lighted cigarette away yesterday while passing the 1300 block on Lakeview avenue, the injury to 8-year-old Cecil McCormick would have been avoided," remarked Chief Ambrose last night. "It is to be hoped that autoists and others will take warning and work with the fire department in the conservation of property throughout the city during the dry spell, when there is great danger lying ahead."

Cupid Scores As Bashful Swains Secure Licenses

Dan Cupid scored two hits yesterday when he sent bashful swains to the county clerk's office for licenses and to the altar for the final touch of matrimony.

'MEDDLING WOMEN' PIONEER IN FIELD MOVIE PICTURES

"Meddling Women" because of its unusual story is probably one of the strongest and strangest photoplays yet presented this season, and is sure to be ranked among the screen classics.

This Chadwick production at the Orpheus theatre today and Monday, is a pioneer in the movie field, in the guise of a prophet and preaches an old fashioned sermon in jolly good style. This is the type of silent drama, although without the aid of realistic prop effects used by its sister profession, the stage, still offers the same dramatic and soul stirring results.

The cast, which was chosen because of its outstanding dramatic ability, is headed by that distinguished American star, Lionel Barrymore, and is superbly supported by an array of eminent artists which includes Sigrid Holmquist, Dagmar Godowsky, Hugh Thompson, Ida Darling, Alice Hegman, Antonio D'Algy and William Bechtel.

STARKEY JOLT CARRIES SLEEP DOPE POWDERS

Hammering nails may be a little foreign to a boxer's training repertoire, but nevertheless as a punch developer it has possibilities worth cultivating. At least that is Sammy Gordon's opinion.

Gordon, who is well known here as a fighter who "knows his stuff," yesterday made his debut as a sparring partner for Kid Starkey in preparation for the carpenter's ten round battle with Benny Dotson of Portland on June 22. Sammy got careless while exchanging "love taps" with the elusive Kid last night and received one of Starkey's famous "lefts" on his chin, which sent him sprawling upon the canvas.

Sammy got groggily to his feet and then stumbled over his own foot just in time to escape another face-full of glove that would have returned him to the canvas for a much longer visit. "That little carpenter sure packs a fierce wallop," mumbled Sammy ruefully as he gingerly felt of his assaulted jaw. "I feel sorry for Dotson if Dean ever lands on him. If driving nails can make a punch like that, Dotson had better work at it awhile before he gets into a ring with Starkey."

SMITH FUNERAL IS MOST IMPRESSIVE

Funeral services over the remains of Harvey Linn Smith, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar A. Smith, 414 Oak street, were held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock from the Earl Whitlock funeral home and were attended by many sympathizing friends of the grieving parents. Rev. J. W. Bryant, officiating clergyman, offered sweet words of consolation to the parents of the departed child.

Palbearers were A. W. Schupp, E. E. Magee, W. C. VanEmon and George Baruhart. Interment took place in Linkville cemetery.
