"L'Envoi"

When earth's last picture is painted and the tubes are twisted and dried,
When the oldest colors have faded, and the youngest critic has died,
We shall rest, and, faith, we shall need it—lie down for an eon or two.
Till the Master of all good workmen shall set us to work anew!

And those that were good shall be happy: they shall sit in a golden chair;
They shall splash at a ten-league canvas with brushes of comet's hair;
They shall find real suits to draw from—Magdalene, Peter, and Paul;
They shall work for an age at a sitting and never be tired at all!

And only the Master shall praise us, and only the Master shall blame;
And no one shall work for money and no one shall work for fame;
But each, for the joy of the working, and each, in his separate star
Shall draw the thing as he sees it for the God of things as they are!

—Rudyard Kipling

"A RED, RED ROSE"

O my love's like a red, red rose;
That's newly sprung in June;
O my love's like the melodie
That's sweetly played in tune.

As far thou art, my bonnie lass,
So deep in love am I;
And I will love thee still, my dear,
Till a' the seas gang dry.

Till a' the seas gang dry, my dear,
And the rocks melt wi' the sun;
I will love thee still, my dear,
While the sands o' life shall run.

And fare-thee weel, my only love!
And fare-thee weel, a while!
And I will come again, my love,
Though it were ten thousand mile.

—Robert Burns

It must be applied with an exceptionally hot iron—yet not too hot.

It must be uniformly and carefully done, so that in a week's time it will still fall artistically.

That is the kind of a wave—hot weather or no hot weather—that the attendants in this shop give you—an artistic wave that will last!
