

HERBERT JONES NOT ARRESTED BY DRY AGENTS

Simply Rented Shack in Rear of His Home and Had No Connection With Liquor Confiscated

Herbert Lee Jones, residing at 422 Broad street, was not arrested Tuesday when a raid was made on a shack in his lot by federal and state prohibition officers.

Jones was at the sheriff's office Tuesday afternoon but only for the purpose of identifying Robert Enders whom the officers had technically placed under arrest upon the charge of having 40 gallons of illicit liquor in his possession. The officers wanted to prove by Jones that Enders rented the cabin in the rear of Jones' yard.

While the booze was taken into captivity, Enders was later released pending further investigation on the part of the raiding officers.

"The shack in question stands partly on my lot and partly on a lot owned by another man," said Jones. "I only rented the building for the rent money to be realized, the same as anyone else would do. I was never under arrest, but simply visited the sheriff's office to identify Enders as the man to whom I had rented the building."

Herbert Lee Jones is an old and highly respected resident of Klamath Falls, and for many years has served as an express messenger running out of this city on the Southern Pacific railroad, and an injustice was done him when it was stated that he was connected with the raid that resulted in the confiscation of 40 gallons of whisky at the shack in the rear of his home.

Woodehouse Not To Face Trial on Duel Challenge

The case of the state against N. E. Woodehouse, prominent farmer and bee culturist of Klamath county, who is alleged to have challenged S. E. Icenbice, bee inspector and a neighbor, to a duel to the death with high-power rifles on June 3, was officially dropped when the grand jury returned a "no true bill" in the report of its findings to Circuit Judge Leavitt at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Woodehouse was charged with having issued the challenge to his neighbor and fellow farmer following an altercation between them over the condemnation of some hives on the Icenbice apiary alleged to have housed diseased bees. Woodehouse claimed that Icenbice threw a heavy hammer at him and when he retrieved it for use as possible evidence, Icenbice seized a pitchfork and ran him off the premises. The challenge is said to have followed a few days later.

A no true bill also was reported in the case of W. E. Halloway, Lee Melhorn and George Taylor, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon on Gus Soderlund. The attack is alleged to have occurred on June 13.

Alleged house breaking tendencies of Clyde Dempsey may earn him a rock-breaking job in a penal institution following his indictment on three counts by the jury.

Dempsey was indicted on a charge of breaking into the home of Mrs. Edna Larkin, 605 Broad street and taking a valuable handbag and $22.50 in cash. On the same day, Dempsey is alleged to have broken into the room of William Barclay at a local hotel and carrying away a gold watch and chain, and also with having entered the room of R. C. Peck, another guest of the hotel.

James Duffy, sawmill employe, was indicted on a charge of assault to kill upon M. A. Mann, Klamath Falls bathhouse operator, on May 30. Judge Leavitt announced that bail on the indicted cases would be fixed at a later date.

Members of the grand jury, composed of J. C. Edsall, T. F. Boggs, J. C. McClellan, John Turner, E. D. Truelove, Harry Telford and C. H. Underwood, foreman, were excused by the court, subject to call during the remainder of the term which terminates in December.

LOCAL PEOPLE WILL REVIEW STATE TROOPS

A number of local people are planning upon paying a visit to Camp Jackson on Saturday when state officials will make a review of the National Guardsmen now in encampment.

The Chamber of Commerce has been invited to send official representatives to Medford that they may be taken to Camp Jackson and provided with seats in the review stand, and with announcement made yesterday at the luncheon of the forum several members signified their intention of being present at the ceremonies.

DRIVER LOSES HIS LICENSE; PAYS FINE

Ed Burglund, employe of the Sprague River sawmill, had his driver's license revoked for six months and was fined $100 and costs when he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace R. A. Emmitt last night on a hit-and-run charge.

Burglund's machine is said to have struck an automobile driven by Miss Rosetta Reed at the corner of Eighth and Main streets on April 24, causing about $40 in damages. Burglund speeded away without stopping to render assistance or determine if any of the occupant's of Miss Reed's car had been injured by the impact.

Burglund disappeared after the accident and was not located until he was picked up by Traffic Officer Walter Foster yesterday.

"OH, DOCTOR." IS ORPHEUS HEADLINER

"Oh, Doctor!" that famous story, with Reginald Denny taking the leading part, will be the attraction at the Orpheus theatre today and Friday, and movie fans will deluge this popular playhouse to see one of the biggest attractions that has been booked at any local theatre in a long period.

Almost everybody has read "Oh, Doctor!" so it is only natural that they will be desirous of seeing the story depicted from the screen.

In addition to the headliner a short feature will be shown, which is titled "One Glorious Scrap." This will be followed by a rip-roaring comedy, "Tenting Out."

Starting with today's program, only Universal Pictures Corporation productions will be shown, including the big specials.

MUNICIPAL BAND CONCERT FRIDAY

Director F. Selack and his musicians will open the summer concert season of the Klamath Falls municipal band with a program on the Central school lawn Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

A special program has been arranged for the occasion and an enjoyable evening is assured to all who come to listen.

LEGION MEN PLAN MUSICAL PROGRAM EVENINGS JULY 6-7

A delightful musical menu served by one of the comeliest and most talented aggregation of young women this city has been favored to see and hear, will be offered for the approval of Klamath Falls music lovers when the nationally known Ladies Columbia Orchestra plays here July 6 and 7. The musicians will offer their concerts at Memorial hall under the auspices of the American Legion.

This unique organization is composed entirely of young women and is one of the most pleasing musical aggregations before the public today, it is said.

Miss Francis Knight, the conductor, has selected her girls with the greatest care in order to achieve the utmost in harmony and balance in her organization, each one being a soloist on her own instrument. Two concerts will be given by the orchestra on the evenings of July 6 and 7, respectively.

FFOLKIN HELD ON DRY LAW CHARGE

J. E. Ffolkin, 427 Commercial street, was taken into custody by state and federal prohibition officers yesterday when the dry squad discovered two gallons of illicit liquor on his premises. Ffolkin was brought before Judge Emmitt in justice court last night to answer charges of liquor possession and was released under $500 bond until he could obtain an attorney.

Thomas Clark, alleged bartender, who was apprehended with Ffolkin, was fined $50 and costs when he pleaded guilty to liquor possession. Clark admitted that he had the liquor, but was not intoxicated when captured by the officers.

HILLSIDE NAME OF ADDITION TO BE GRACED BY HOMES

Hillside addition is the newest residential subdivision to Klamath Falls, according to an announcement by the Klamath Development company in this morning's issue of The News.

Demand for residence lots, in exclusive home districts, is so great that the Klamath Development company has opened this tract in individual lots at a very opportune time.

Hillside addition lays almost directly north of the business section of Klamath Falls, on the hillside above the Southern Pacific railroad. It is reached by going up Eleventh street, crossing the canal and following Crescent avenue north, or up Esplanade to Pacific Terrace and then turning left.

Incidentally, Hillside addition, as a home building district, offers many primary requisites, two of which are water and electric service. Water mains will be laid by the California-Oregon Power company for delivery of water by July 15. Electric light and power service are available to every lot.

Other essentials which appeal in Hillside addition are gentle slope, heights which give wonderful view of broad valley to north and south, and great part of city, excellent drainage, streets laid out and graded and lay of land which lends itself to easy landscaping for beautiful homes.
