UNION EVANGELIST MEETINGS SUCCESS

The Union Evangelistic campaign conducted by Edmund T. Campbell, the Quaker evangelist, in the tent on Pine street, corner of Eleventh, is increasing in attendance and interest.

United in the revival effort are the Church of the Nazarene, Free Methodist church and the Salvation Army.

The Church of the Nazarene last week purchased a site on Garden street near the school, and an active building program is getting well under way. A Sunday school has already been started.

The Free Methodist church represented by Rev. Lee, secretary of the South Oregon Conference, is planning an aggressive campaign in the west side of the city.

The tent meetings will continue every night at 8 o'clock and Sunday afternoons at 2:30.

POINCARE READY TO SAVE FRANCE

47.40 to the dollar to 42.87 at the close of business Friday night.

The cabinet list follows:
Premier and minister of finance, Raymond Poincare.

Minister of justice, Louis Barthou.

Minister of interior, Albert Sarraut.

Minister of foreign affairs, Aristide Briand.

Minister of public works, Andre Arden.

Minister of commerce, Maurice Bokanowski.

Minister of colonies, Leon Perrier.

Minister of war, Paul Painleve.

Minister of the navy, Georges Leygues.

Minister of public instruction, Edouard Herriot.

Minister of pensions, Louis Marin.

Minister of agriculture, Henry Queille.

Minister of labor, Andre Fallieres.

Poincare's first unofficial cabinet meeting has been held at his home and measures by which his cabinet hopes to avert financial catastrophe have been discussed.

Poincare stressed necessity for most stringent economy in government.

Attention of cabinet under-secretaries, he said would be his first move in this direction.

The war-time president, in all probability, will refuse to let his economy plans interfere with national defense, which is almost synonymous with the name of Poincare.

Indications that he will ask—and very probably receive—broad powers from the chamber of deputies have been given.

INDICTMENT PASTOR IS ALMOST CERTAIN

for criminal libel for the attacks he had been making in the pulpit and in his paper on prominent Fort Worth Catholics. These attacks were the ones which Chipps had called at the pastor's study to protest against when he was shot.

Norris further charged that the grand jury is packed with Catholics.

"It is not strange in view of the series of sermons Dr. Norris has been preaching against Romanism and bootleggers that certain parties should desire to prosecute him," the article said, adding that only an open trial will bring out the facts.

The Searchlight had been off the presses only a short time when Sam Sayers, special prosecutor, announced his law firm had come into possession of evidence that Chipps was not killed inside the Baptist church study, as Norris has said he was.

Murder Mystery Comes to Light In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—(United News)—Discovery of a gunny sack containing the charred bones of a woman's body today precipitated an exhaustive public investigation. Medical opinion substantiated a murder theory.

Edward Fritt made the gruesome find in a garage in the rear of a house he owns on West Sixty-eighth street. He furnished the police with a description of a Dr. Elmo A. Bare, self-styled chiropractor who disappeared a week ago after paying rent for the house in advance. Identification of the body was made practically impossible because the trunk and skull bones of the body are missing.

We wish to thank our many friends and acquaintances for their kind sympathy and help during the loss of our beloved mother. Also for the beautiful floral offerings.

Western Picture Orpheus Theatre Is Prize Winner

Duffy Burns' advent into the little cattle town of Gunsbot was fraught with great potentialities for the future, not only for himself but for a number of others. Oh, we'll see Duffy at Orpheus theatre today. In the first place, as Duffy lugged his suitcase across the street, himself a strange figure, clad in riding breeches and puttees in that hand if chaps and high heeled boots and wide brimmed hat. A maddened horse dashed past, the bridal reins flying beyond the grasp of the beautiful young woman on his back. Leaping on the horse, standing in front of a saloon Duffy, after a wild pursuit, lifted the girl from the run-away and placed her unharmed on the ground.

The horse Duffy had taken so unceremoniously, belonged to Brute Kilroy, who loved the girl, and who was jealous of the stranger who had come into her life in such spectacular manner. Before the argument was finished Kilroy was soundly thrashed, but bystanders save the stranger's life by taking Kilroy's revolver away from him. Later on Kilroy and the stranger and the girl were to meet in dramatic circumstances, the story of which is told in a gripping manner in "A Roaring Adventure," Universal Western, starring Jack Hoxie, and now being screened in Orpheus theatre.

Engineers Dispose Realty Holdings In New York City

NEW YORK, July 23.—(United News)—William H. Vanderbilt, Harry C. Cushing, III, and Leroy Baldwin, president of the Empire Trust company, have purchased control of the Equitable building on Broadway, a property valued at $40,000,000, from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, a labor organization.

The union announced that no change in its policy was responsible for the transaction. An opportunity for a good profit was the only consideration involved, its statement said.

When the building changed hands previously the price was given as $38,500,000.
