

Pelicans Primed To Scalp Medford Players Sunday

"The Pelicans, buoyed up as they are by last Sunday's decisive victory, will not lose any more ball games this season," declared Manager Eddie Duback following the team's stiff workout on the local field last night.

"The game which we are going to win from Medford next Sunday when we meet them on their own soil, will give us second place in the league, and if Grants Pass stages another win over Ashland Sunday, we'll tie with Ashland for first place," was Duback's confident statement.

Local fans plan to get another pitcher for the Pelican ball club Sunday, in order to have a twirler in reserve should the Pear-pickers' prize slugger become too lucky for Richardson and Sanders. "If the man they get for us is good enough he'll get in the game and give our present pitchers a little rest. Otherwise he'll have to warm the old bench until urgently needed. The two pitchers we have now are mighty good men and have made excellent showings," Duback declared, "and there is no reason to believe that they won't continue to serve up a hot brand of tossing."

The lineup for Sunday's game will remain unchanged, so far as it is known now. Peterson, who got his first chance with the Pelicans last Sunday, has established himself on the club by his excellent work behind the pan, and will officiate in the same capacity from now on. The Pelicans have five games ahead of them before the season closes.

Rules on Hunting While Strict Will Please Sportsmen

With the deer season in coast counties to open on August 1, the following set of rules, taken from the New York Sun, might be of interest to the hunters:

1.—All deer hunters should sound a horn at intervals of ten yards when proceeding through any woodland.

2.—Slow moving hunters shall keep to the right and allow faster moving marksmen to pass.

3.—A hunter about to stop and shoot shall hold out his hand to indicate in what direction he intends shooting.

4.—Isolated hunters shall be required to send up colored flares at intervals of 30 seconds.

5.—Other hunters may shoot at the flares, but not at the hunters.

6.—All hunters becoming separated from the main body and wishing to move through the brush shall raise a banner not less than eight feet long by four feet high with the inscription, "positively not a deer, elk, moose or other quadruped."

7.—Any hunter mistaking a fellow hunter for a deer or other animal and shooting at him and missing shall forfeit his amateur standing and be penalized 25 yards for unnecessary roughness.

8.—Any hunter shooting at another and hitting him shall be considered guilty of professionalism and have his license suspended for 60 days.

9.—In a circumstance where two deer hunters shoot at each other at the same time and both miss, both shall proceed to the nearest zoological garden and leave it to the keeper to decide which looks the more like that kind of animal. The hunter so designated shall return to the heavy brush and allow the other man to take five shots at him.

10.—It shall be the duty of the game wardens to place stuffed heads of deer, moose and elk on trees at intervals of every 500 yards in all forests, so hunters may know what these animals look like.

11.—The placing of soft hats, arrow collars and sport shirts on these animals to confuse hunters shall be considered bad sportsmanship.

12.—Whenever a hunter thinks he sees a deer, elk or moose he shall blow a police whistle three times before firing. The test is this: If it really is a deer, elk or moose it will not rise and ask for a cigarette.

13.—All hunters shall at all times obey the traffic laws governing deer hunting, and observe carefully the signals.

14.—One red light in the traffic tower shall be interpreted as meaning "Deer ahead, but open only to east and west bound hunters."

15.—Green light indicates "Deer ahead and open to north and south bound gunners."

16.—No hunter shall bag more than two deer nor more than four game wardens or five innocent bystanders in one day.

Invincible Helen Returns to Game In Splendid Form

MAIDENSTONE TENNIS CLUB, Easthampton, L. I., July 28.—Helen Wills, who was not quite the flashing, smashing Helen Wills of old, but who stroked with graceful accuracy and sped light-footedly over the green lawn courts of the Maidenstone Tennis club in her first tournament match since her operation, has returned to American tennis with the promise of soon displaying all her former invincibility.

Pitted against Mrs. Edward Raymond of New York, an indifferent player, in the first round of the Maidenstone club's invitation tournament, the national woman's singles champion, had little difficulty in winning in straight sets, 6-1, 6-4.

Had Helen felt it necessary to extend herself Mrs. Raymond would not have scored a game. As it was she thrilled tennis enthusiasts who gathered to watch her first appearance since she was operated on for appendicitis in the American hospital at Neuilly, France, while the hard courts championships were in progress.

Perfection of stroke was Miss Wills' aid Wednesday and she showed that she had lost none of her accuracy in flicking the baseline and sidelines. At times the California girl's powerful drives struck the net, but this was the only flaw of her game.

Before entering the tournament at Easthampton Miss Wills submitted to a physical examination by Dr. Perry. This procedure was recommended by Julian S. Myrick, chairman of the Davis committee and exemplified the desire of United States Lawn Tennis association officials to make sure Helen took no chances.

Sportsmen Warned No Open Season Killing Pheasants

There will be no pheasant hunting in Oregon during the present year with the exception of two short periods in Malheur county, according to a ruling of the state game commissioner. Hunters will be permitted to clip the wings of pheasants in Malheur county from October 14 to 17 and again from October 24 to November, but in every other county of the state killing of the birds will be prohibited.

While a year ago there was a short open season in Cook county for the first time in several years, that privilege has been annulled, while the Willamette season will be taboo, the game commission holding that the slaughter of pheasants is depleting the reserves too rapidly.

L. L. BOROUGH'S HOME HAS MASCULINE HEIR

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Borough (Lorena Colson), are being congratulated upon the arrival of an 8-pound son born to Mrs. Borough at Klamath Valley hospital Monday.

The child has been christened Kenneth Lee and is the first grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Colson, well known Klamath Falls residents who reside at Tenth and Pine streets.

On the west shore of Lake o' Woods, there is a little gravelly bay, sheltered from the winds and the afternoon sun; ideal for bathing. Back about 75 feet among the big trees sets a story and half new log cabin; floored with the best vertical grain fir flooring; shake roof, heavy doors with hand-forged things and latch, casement windows and boat house underneath.

The logs are peeled and oiled, inside and out, the floors are oiled and all the woodwork. The cabin is partly furnished with stove, cupboard, cot, table and bench and chairs. There are three boats go with the property; a collapsible canvas canoe, a double bow section row boat, and 14 feet sailing power dingly equipped with new Elto motor, balloon silk sail and hollow mast, drop rudder and center board. It is built of Port Orford cedar, eastern white oak and mahogany, all copper fastened; and will carry six adults comfortably.

Lake o' Woods will shortly be the best fish stocked lake in Oregon. It is accessible to Klamath Falls both for summer outings and fall hunting. The west shore has sufficient depth so that low water causes no inconvenience.

The price of this property is $2500 cash and is a real investment. Mr. Peck has the keys and other details may be obtained from the owner, N. F. Ohrt, Box 1052, Medford, Ore.

Oakland Climbs Another Notch Western Pennant

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—(United News)—Oakland slipped into second place in the Pacific Coast league standings Wednesday, replacing Sacramento, when the Senators lost their second straight game to Mission here.

There is only a small fraction of a game separating the two teams, however, Oakland's average is .545 and Sacramento's .529.

The Oaks defeated Hollywood 4 to 3, while the Senators were losing 8 to 3. Arlett made his 20th home run of the year in the Los Angeles game.

Sacramento played miserably here, making six errors.

Geary hurled a two-hit game for San Francisco and the Seals trimmed Seattle 8 to 9. Suhr and Averill scored homers. E. Smith made his 19th home run of the season in the Los Angeles-Portland game, won by the Angels 12 to 6. Los Angeles now leads the Oaks by ten and one-half games.

Dempsey-Tunney Fight Barred From Chicago

CHICAGO, July 28.—(United News)—After allowing the community to agitate itself for more than a week over Tex Rickard's proposal to stage a Dempsey-Tunney fight in Chicago, the Illinois boxing commission today closed the door on heavyweight battles.

After its regular meeting the chairman, O. W. Hunecke, of the commission, said: "With regard to the Dempsey-Tunney and Dempsey-Wills fights we have no information officially. All we know is what we have read in the papers. Neither Rickard nor B. C. Clements thought of consulting this commission in the matter."

"We have heard reports that certain political influence was to be brought to bear upon this commission. In a way the situation calls for us to make our position clear."

"We will not sanction any heavyweight contest in this state, whether it involves a championship or not. We feel that fights between heavyweights are quite apt to be messy affairs, generally are brutal and we do not interpret the law to call for a spectacle of that kind. We aim to regulate boxing so that it will be a sport at which ladies may attend. We do not think heavyweight fights would provide such sport."

Shame Suicide Case Proving Small Interest

TLAJUANA, Mex., July 28.—(United News)—Vilification of the characters of Clyde and Audrey Petet continued today when court reconvened in the trial of four Mexicans charged with attacking the two girls, previous to the suicide of the Petet family.

Rather than attempt to prove the innocence of the defendants the defense presented witnesses who related tales of degradation of the Petet family, painting them as "drunkards" and "panderers."

Prosecution attorneys made little effort to question the witnesses or test their stories. The four Mexicans on trial, Leonardo Llanos, Louis Amador, Refugio Alvarez and Francisco Gonzalez, were not called to the stand today.
