

To the People of the Portland business men congratulate you upon your success in placing your great producing area upon a main railway line. All of Oregon, including Portland, has striven for many years to aid you in consummating this great development feat.

Through this new construction by the Southern Pacific Railway Company, whom we also compliment, Klamath is brought into the Oregon commonwealth in a transportation, commercial, industrial and agricultural way, as well as politically. You are placed nearer a tidewater shipping point than before. You are given another considerable market for your products. You are brought in closer trade relationship generally with the people of your own state, and you will be enabled to share with the remainder of the state from now on, more fully than ever before, the benefits and burdens of a great state's development program.

Portland is now your nearest large seaport. We desire to know you better and work more closely with you in profiting by this location.

Portland is also, on both a mileage and a rate basis, your nearest large distributing center. Our business firms seek the privilege of a more intimate business relationship with you in order that you may profit by the economies that these lower rates and shorter distances offer.

Portland and the remainder of the state are also eager to work with you on your great development problems. We recognize the large manufacturing operations already con-
