

SEASON ON WATERFOWL OPENS

Exodus on Nimrods Now in Order and Duck Search On

The annual exodus of Klamath duck hunters, eager to be on the lakes and marshes of southern Oregon for the initial sunrise of the 1926 duck season, started long before dawn today when cars filled with nimrods and guns left the city and headed for the haunts of waterfowl.

October 1, opening date for the season on ducks, geese, and other waterfowl except wood and elder ducks, has long been on the tongues of hunters here, as well as throughout Oregon and Washington. For the first time duck season in both these states opens at the same time, a point which will permit the truly devoted nimrod to start out any place and hunt all over Oregon and her sister state.

Hunters must not forget, however, the ominous note struck by California game wardens yesterday when they warned Klamath hunters not to cross the Oregon-California line in their eagerness to bag the 25-duck limit on the first day of the season. Duck season in California does not open until October 16, according to George Tomlin, U. S. game warden for the California district, who was explicit in his warning that California game officials are likely to be numerous around Tule lake between now and the 16th.

Local hunters need not go that far south to get their fill of duck hunting, however, according to game officials who are familiar with ducks and geese are more plentiful this year than for several seasons. Whatever ravages the purported drying up of lakes has made on the ducks, the fact remains that there have been thousands hovering about the rivers, lakes and marshes of this county for many weeks.

The season this fall will remain open until January 15. The bag limit is placed at 25 ducks in any one day and 30 birds in any seven consecutive days. Geese are limited to eight in any one day, with 30 in seven consecutive days.

The Owl Restaurant at 427 Main street, will remain open all night throughout hunting season for the benefit of late, as well as early morning hunters. It was announced by the management last night.

Vincent Richards Joins Racqueters Of Professionals

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—(United News)—C. C. Pyle, the employer of Red Grange and Suzanne Lenglen, today announced that Vincent Richards, the American tennis ace, had joined his group of professional tennis players.

Richards, the ranking American player, follows Mary K. Browne, one of the best of the American players, into the Pyle fold of professionals, which also includes Paul Feret of France and Harvey Spodgrass of California. Pyle's announcement, probably the most sensational ever made in American tennis, came dramatically at a dinner given tonight in the grand saloon of the French liner Paris in honor of Suzanne Lenglen.

Newspaper men and many celebrities present virtually gasped with astonishment at Pyle, arising at the head of the table, where he was seated between Miss Browne and Mile. Lenglen, spoke briefly and to the point:

"I promised the newspaper men a story," he said, "and I want to give it to them right off the bat."

Oakland Hammers Seals Pitchers' Unmerciful Play

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—(United News)—Oakland came out of its slump here Thursday and hammered four San Francisco pitchers for 18 hits and a 13 to 2 win over the Seals. The Oaks' victory came after two straight defeats.

The league leading Angeles were humbled in Los Angeles by Sacramento, 4 to 1, the Senators taking kindly to the offerings of Doc Wright, the Pacific Coast league's leading hurler.

Hollywood and Seattle battled to a 7 to 5 tie in Seattle, the game ending in the 11th when darkness made further play impossible.

Mission and Portland split a double bill, the Beavers taking the first, 5 to 4, and dropping the second, 19 to 5.

Queen of Golfers Uncrowned by Miss Virginia Wilson

MERION CRICKET CLUB, SOUTH ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 29.—(United News)—Another national champion was uncrowned Thursday when Glenna Collett, queen of American golfers, was beaten in a quarter final match by Miss Virginia Wilson of Chicago.

It is an illustrious company of ex-champions that Miss Collett goes to join, Bobby Jones, Hill Tilden, Helen Wills, Jack Dempsey and a host of others who "couldn't be beaten" until the right party happened along. The plucky Providence girl, twice holder of the women's national golf title, went down fighting. An unlucky bound of her ball on the fifteenth fairway put Miss Collett into a trap and left her at a disadvantage she never overcame.

TOD MORGAN WHIPS JOE GLICK WITH EASE

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, Sept. 29.—(United News)—Light on his feet as a dancing master and with a wallop in either hand, Tod Morgan of Seattle, is one ring champion who has skipped past the crossroads, where fate was waiting to drag him into the limbo of other flitc hasbeens.

The youngster from the Pacific coast defended his junior lightweight Thursday night by whipping Joe Glick of Williamsburg in a fast 15 round fight.

STEINER ENDORSED

SALEM, Sept. 29.—(United News)—The Marion county republican committee went on record Thursday as being pledged to support Frederick Steiner for the United States senate.

Anna Springs Road Is Now Closed to Motoring Public

Motorists are warned that beginning today the Anna Springs road leading from the Fort Klamath highway junction, will be closed temporarily to permit of oiling.

This road leads to Crater lake, and all traffic will be diverted through the Sand Creek entrance to the famous resort.

The season is fast drawing to a close at Crater lake, but tourists are still taking advantage of the excellent weather to view the most wonderful scenic body of water in the world.

Included in the business visitors in Klamath Falls this week is G. W. Beckman and Marlon H. Boyles, both employed as surveyors with the Southern Pacific. They are registered at the Hall hotel from their homes in Dunsmuir.

Any Good Duck Hunter Will Tell You—

—that only standard equipment is good stuff for the duck ponds of Klamath. It is no fun to hide for hours behind a blind waiting for a flight of ducks or geese, and have a shell jam. That never happens with Remington or Peters shells. We carry them and we recommend them to you.

If it's a shotgun you are in need of you can't go wrong on a Remington, in either pump gun or automatic.
