

YANKEES CAPTURE FIRST GAME

Greatest Classic American Baseball Results in Defeat of the Cardinals by Score of 2 to 1; Just a Little Punch Wins Victory For the Far Easterners

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(United Press)—Just a little punch when needed gave the New York Yanks the big jump on the St. Louis Cards when the American league champions won the opening game of the world series this afternoon by a score of 2 to 1.

More than 60,000 spectators gathered to see the two hardest hitting clubs in baseball go to the mat in what was expected to be the Dempsey-Firpo act of baseball, and there were only two real punches.

They came in the sixth inning, when the great Babe, playing in his seventh world series and in one of his greatest seasons, came to bat for the first time with no runners on base.

The Babe singled. He tore out the seat of his trousers sliding for second base on Bob Messel's sacrifice and he ran his heart out making home with the winning run when Buster Gehrig, the former Columbia University star, smashed a terrific to the outfield.

It was the Babe with all his intensity, and the Buster who put over the winning run that gave the Yanks the big jump in the series and that made them a two to one favorite in the betting to win the title.

In the old days the club that won the opening game was given a superstitious title to the championship, but some leading experts pointed out that in recent years the winner of the first game had been faked.

The fielding of the Yankee team was a revelation to those who had feared that young Koenig and young Lazzerie would fall down under the strain of play in their first world's series.

Chick Hafey, hard hitting left fielder for the Cards, almost knocked Koenig off his feet with a line drive, away back on the grass. Koenig made a sensational stop and a more sensational throw for the out; then Jack Hendricks, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, remarked: "That play makes the Yank infield. If he'd muffed that one he would have blown to the clouds."

On the next ball pitched Bob O'Farrell, St. Louis catcher, and the leading candidate for the National league's most valuable player, rapped a sizzler right at the jaw of young Koenig, and he made even a more sensational play for the out, and he inspired the whole Yank team.

It is no secret that the Yanks regarded Koenig as their one questionable spot and that they feared he would blow up in a pinch as he had done so many times during the season.

But when Koenig completed those two plays the whole team perked up and it was well seen that they had the winning complex.

It was the first time in memory that two left handed pitchers had been selected to pitch the opening game of the series. From the start Herb Pennock, the fox breeder of the Yanks, was much better off than Wee Willie Sherdel, who was poison to all the National league clubs, with the exception of the Cincinnati Reds.

Sherdel was wild from the beginning and could not handle his ball up until the eighth inning, when Hornsby pulled him out for a pinch hitter.

To those who expected a bombardment of heavy hitting the game was a surprise. Babe Ruth got only one hit and the great Rajah was thrown out four times on easy chances. Jim Bottomley, the gum chewing St. Louis first baseman, was the only player to get two hits, and those were real hits.

Miller Huggins, manager of the Yanks, announced after the game that he would pitch Urban Shocker tomorrow and Hornsby said he wanted to use Grover Alexander.

The Score: R. H. E. St. Louis..... 3 1 1 New York..... 2 6 0

"Fighting Irish" Of Notre Dame in Finest Form

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 2.—(United News)—"Fighting Irish" of Notre Dame made an auspicious bow to the 1926 football season, running up a 77 to 0 victory over Beloit college.

The Rockne charges were light, but there seemed to be whole armies of them and Coach Rockne shifted his line-up almost at will.

Although 11 touchdowns were scored and Flanagan scored only one of them, he distinguished himself by making the longest run of the game, sprinting 95 yards from the kick-off in the third period. He was also largely responsible for Notre Dame's consistent ground gaining in other periods.

Hearndon and Wynne scored Notre Dame's touchdowns in the first quarter, Flanagan missing the goals both times.

Dahman, W. Niemio and Chevigny ran the ball over Beloit's line in the second quarter, and another touchdown was scored on a pass from Rech to Maxwell. The extra points were gained on a safety.

Notre Dame added 21 more points in the third quarter and 14 more in the final period.

MONTANA HELPLESS AT HANDS AGGIES

MISSOULA, Mont., Oct. 2.—Montana was helpless before the onslaught of the strong Oregon Aggie football team in the first conference game here this afternoon, being defeated 48 to 0.

Light Grizzly tacklers were shaken off like feathers by the husky Beavers, who penetrated the Montana line at will until the visitors had piled up a 35 to 0 count. But the Grizzly wall stiffened for the last half, holding the invaders to two touchdowns.

FAIR WEATHER PROMISED FOR SUNDAY'S GAME

Klamath Players To Take Part in League Contest

Both Medford and Grants Pass are to have the assistance of Klamath Falls ball players when the two teams play off the game in the valley today, which will decide the winner of southern Oregon league honors this season. The game will be played at Medford.

Eddie Duback, manager of the Klamath Pelicans and crack third baseman, has signified that he will appear in a Caveman uniform, while Hank Aiken, another king pin on the Pelican crew, will cast his lot with Medford.

Each of these valley teams has won one game of the three-game series slated to award the pennant, and today's match is expected to be one of the hottest of the season.

Everett Fighter To Fight Ritchie Instead of Homan

Because Jack Dill, Everett, Wash., heavyweight of considerable repute, made an instant hit with local fans in the workouts at Scandia hall since his arrival here Thursday, the matchmaker promoting the October 5 card here last night signified his intention of substituting Dill for Holman in the main event with Earl Ritchie.

"The substitution has been made with considerable additional expense for me," the matchmaker stated, "but it is my aim to give local fans the best possible fight here and in view of the fact that Dill is a better man than the Bend logger and will show Ritchie a harder scrap, I decided to give him a place on the coming card."

Holman was not showing up as well as I expected in the workouts," the promoter declared, "and while he is a good man, I don't believe his proposed fight with Ritchie would be up to the standard which I hope to maintain in my presentations here. Dill is a high-priced boy and worth it. His entrance into the October 5 lists established beyond doubt that this card will be a real sensation here."

Dill is a real headliner in the fight world and the fans who have been crowding Scandia to capacity for the evening workouts declare the Everett boy will show Ritchie an awful tussle. Stripping at 170 pounds, the fighter Dill has been in heavyweight battles for the past six years, during which he has been meeting bigtime fighters.

Last Spring Dill fought Harry Dillon, who made a sensational debut in Portland two weeks ago, ten-round no-decision scrap in Seattle. Dill's last battle was with Russell Docksletter in Everett, August 28, and in this made a good showing. The Everett favorite won two fights from Ted Franz, one in Seattle and the last in Everett, and in 1924 won a decision in a ten-round fight over Harry Krohn, in Wheeling, West Virginia after Krohn had fought Young Strubling in Berlinbach.

Among Dill's knockouts in early rounds of recent battles, is numbered Don Gore, in Seattle, and Jack Sutton in the same town; Al Marsh, in Everett. He fought Sparky Boyd to three draws in Everett. Dill has a total of 125 heavy battles to his credit.

The crowds which have been turning out to watch the fighters work this week, indicate another Labor Day capacity house, and if the battles continue along present lines apparent in workouts, the record audience will witness a noteworthy card.

Teams Run True To Form as Games Of Season Open

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Oct. 2.—(United Press)—A sensational 98-yard run through the entire Occidental college team by Tommy Work, Cardinal substitute back, in the last five minutes of play, climaxed Stanford's 19 to 0 victory over Coach Exodine's crew at Stanford stadium this afternoon. Occidental battled Coach "Pop" Warner's team to a standstill during the first half and the best that Cardinal first stringers could do was a lone touchdown. The Cards stepped out in the last half and wore down Occidental.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—(United Press)—The University of Chicago Maroons took the measure of the University of Florida here this afternoon, 12 to 6. A forward pass, Marks to Apitz, was good for sixty yards and a touchdown in the opening period and Stanley Rouse scored the other Maroon points with two field goals—one in the second and one in the fourth quarters.

Florida scored her touchdown in the first quarter when Ibrig and Costerhaut broke away for runs of 23 yards each and Bishop smashed through the Maroon line.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 2.—(United Press)—Penn State steady attack resulted in a 25 to 0 victory over Lebanon Valley here this afternoon. Consistent gains by the two Lion backfields, netting 19 first downs, proved too strong for the visitors.

FRANKLIN FIELD STADIUM, Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—(United News)—Pennsylvania ran through a 49 to 7 victory over Johns Hopkins on Franklin Field this afternoon.

The Maryland team unexpectedly scored in the third quarter when Tom Hiddison, right tackle, seized a fumble behind scrimmage and ran 35 yards for a touchdown. Lyons then drop-kicked for the extra point.

The Quakers scored six touchdowns, mainly through a splendid pass attack and by runs by Charles Rogers.

Pigskin Chasers From Oregon Are Held Scoreless

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Oct. 2.—(United Press)—Sleek little Badger football team from Pacific university invaded Hayfield field this afternoon, and held Captain John J. McEwan's University of Oregon grid team to a scoreless tie.

This unfamed outfit gave the Oregonians a big surprise, and during the initial period the Webfooters were playing on the defense in their own territory. The last half was almost a repetition of the first, except for a few times when Oregon threatened to score. Once, after repeated runs by Otis Vitus, halfback, and Merle Hagen, fullback, had taken the ball to the Badger three-yard line, the Webfooters had a chance to score, but a pass from Mimsnough, quarter, to Vitus, failed to connect.

Emmerson, quarter for Pacific, bore the brunt of the Oregon attack, doing fine work in end runs, and keeping up with Wetzel in punting. Penalties slowed up both elevens Pacific drawing 45 yards and Oregon 20.
