According to Mrs. Perrin, checks of any amount will be received by her or other members of the Red Cross chapter who are seeking to assist the unfortunate residents of the south.

Kirk Correspondence

C. W. Swanson, proprietor of the Kirk Cash Store and one of the first residents of Kirk, is recuperating from a severe attack of pneumonia at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lorene Moreland, in Sacramento, California. Mrs. Moreland came north during her father's illness and he returned to her home with her as soon as he was able to travel, hoping that the mild climate and lower altitude of the California city might hasten his convalescence.

Mrs. J. E. Bezgs who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Miller, of the Solomon Butte Lbr. Co., returned to her home in Portland this week. She reported a wonderful trip over the new Cascade line.

H. T. Mellon, who has been located at the logging camp of the Algoma Lumber Co. this season, has left for Weiser, Idaho.

Fred Machen left the employ of the Lamm Lumber Co. this week and returned to his home in Klamath Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. George Schuler and family left this week for Grenada, Calif., where they expect to spend the winter. Mr. Schuler has been employed by the Lamm Lumber company most of this season.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Whitlow moved to Klamath Falls last Monday. Mr. Whitlow has worked at logging in the woods in this vicinity during the summer months.

Donald Sarrett of the Algoma Lumber company, left for Sacramento this week. He expects to spend the winter in the south.

Mrs. Ralph Milne, whose husband is connected with the Standard Oil company here, has gone to McMinnville, Ore., to visit for a few months with her mother.

L. W. Borden, locomotive engineer for the Wheeler-Olmstead Lumber company, is recovering from an attack of pneumonia at the Klamath Valley hospital in Klamath Falls.

Another pneumonia victim from this community is Alonzo Ray, who fortunately is recovering from a very severe attack of the disease at the Klamath Falls hospital. It is expected that he will return to his ranch home near here within a few days.

E. W. Neaut, time-keeper for the Wheeler-Olmstead Lumber company at the woods camp, was called away by the serious illness of his father at Junction City, Ore.

Calvin Dougherty, recently employed at the camp of the Algoma Lumber company, has left for Malin, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McKay moved Monday to their home in Klamath Falls. Mr. McKay is one of the well known top-loaders of the Klamath country, and has spent the season loading for the Forest Lumber company at its woods camp near Calames Butte.

Ben McKernan, salesman for the Leeds Woolen mills of Chicago, was registered this week at Hotel Kirk.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Williams have gone to Mt. Shasta City, Calif., where Mr. Williams expects to receive treatment for an abscess which formed between his shoulders, and made it impossible for him to continue his work as saw-filer at Algoma Lumber company's camp.

Marion Barnes, deputy game warden, made a business visit to Kirk during the current week. While here he arranged with Jerry O'Callaghan, who has the postoffice, to handle hunting and fishing licenses as an accommodation to the sportsmen of this vicinity. Mr. Barnes expressed the opinion that it will take a few big storms to make good duck hunting on the Big Marsh, north of here. This marsh, which in past seasons has been a breeding place for ducks and geese, has practically dried up during the past rainless months, and the native fowls have been forced to seek more congenial climes for the rearing of their families. However, it is expected that the northern birds will come in with the fall storms, when the hardy hunter will have his reward.

Mrs. Charles D. Lockwood, with her baby daughter, Charleen, and her sister, Mrs. V. Lindsey, were among those who took advantage of the low excursion rates over the new line to Portland last week end. Mrs. Lockwood's husband is connected with the Solomon Butte Lumber company as office manager.

Logging operations of the Shaw-Bertram Lumber company are drawing to a close, according to reports from that camp, which is located about seven miles from Kirk. Sawyers and swampers have already been laid off, and the last log for this season will probably be loaded out during the coming week. This is the first camp of the season operating in this locality to close down for the winter. Others are running at full blast, and it is believed that most of the companies will log as long as the weather permits.

Don Graeme, logging superintendent for the Wheeler-Olmstead Lumber company, is supervising the construction of a railroad and a new camp on the company's holdings west of Kirk. He says when they are ready to log, it will be for all winter if weather conditions are favorable. The Forest Lumber company also intends to operate its camp during the greater part of the winter, according to reports from the camps.

Mrs. Iva Tunceliff, whose husband is conductor on the Forest Lumber company log train, is visiting with her daughter, Miss Hazel Meyers at Colfax, Calif. Miss Meyers recently went to the sanitarium in Colfax to receive treatment for tuberculosis. Her mother writes that she is making progress against the dread disease under the new treatment and favorable climatic conditions found there.

Mrs. W. F. Jones returned this week to her home at the Forest Lumber company camp, bringing with her the new Jones heir, who was born recently at a Klamath Falls hospital.

WEATHER FORECAST

OREGON — Clearing Sunday; Monday probably fair; winds mostly southwesterly on coast.

Southern Flight Of Birds Steers Clear Tule Lake

Because of the late migration of ducks and geese from the north this season, virtually no damage has been inflicted on Tule lake grain fields by the game birds, ranchers from that section report.

Geese have commenced appearing to some extent in certain portions of the district, but before any fall rush occurs, all farmers anticipate that their grain will be off the fields.

The general belief is that a lack of heavy storms in the north is the cause of late migration. While there are thousands of the birds in the Tule lake country now, these have for the most part quartered there this summer and have established feeding grounds.

Two years ago wild geese settled in many grain fields by the hundreds, literally cleaning out the area whereon they fed. It is reported and while the season had not officially opened at that time, several farmers without need to fear game laws, failed in attempts to frighten the birds away with shot-guns.

Half Century in Klamath Suitable To C. R. DeLap

"Klamath Falls suits me." This was the expression made by one of Klamath's pioneer residents and a man that knows the ins and outs of the entire county through his relation with public life.

He is C. R. DeLap, veteran county clerk, who has returned from a three weeks' trip to Agra, Kansas, where he visited his sister, Mrs. Cornelia Munyon, whom he has not seen in 50 years.

"The middle west is in good condition and the farmers seem prosperous, but nothing comes up to Klamath county, the way it stands now, or the future before it," said DeLap yesterday.

rate through the 12-month period would give a surplus several million dollars greater than the $273,000,000 treasury estimate.

Internal revenue collections, mostly from income taxes for the three months were $56,212,191, an increase of more than $100,000,000 over the same period last year, despite the lower tax rates.

Miscellaneous tax receipts decreased approximately $90,000,000, due to repeal of most of the war excise taxes and reduction of many others.

Customs receipts totalled $156,762,574 for the quarter, an increase of $11,000,000.

The treasury applied $134,000,000 at the end of the quarter to the sinking fund to be used toward retirement of the $19,000,000,000 public debt, which has been reduced by nearly $7,000,000,000 in the last eight years.

Realty Transfers Occur Frequently In Klamath Falls

Immediate construction will start on two modern homes on Melrose street, according to an announcement yesterday from the Tri-State Realty company, stating that Haynes Brothers, local builders, purchased two choice lots through the company for the new dwellings.

A four-room house now under construction by the same builders, was sold yesterday to George A. Eberhard of the Shaw-Bertram company, through the Tri-State company. This dwelling is being erected on Alameda and is said to be in the last stages of construction.

Among deals transacted by this company during the past week, was reported the sale of the Brookfield property on Eberlein, to G. W. Hicks of Fort Klamath. C. H. Losey, a former resident here and recently returned from Pendleton to again establish residence in this city, purchased a modern house on California avenue.

This firm reports that a good many lots have changed hands during the week, some of which were bought for investment, but that the majority was sold to newcomers planning to build homes.

McCormick-Deering Potato Digger

Built in Rod Link and Bar Grate Types

Let This Digger Root 'em Out for You

Users of the McCormick-Deering Potato Digger tell us that it is easier to pick up behind this digger than any other digger they have ever used. This is due to the fact that the McCormick-Deering shakes all the soil free from the potatoes and deposits them on top of the ground in compact rows, making it easy to get them. This feature is a great time and labor saver, and makes friends everywhere.

Another point in favor of the McCormick-Deering is its ability to lift potatoes out of the soil without bruising them. Everything else being equal, potatoes dug with a McCormick-Deering digger should bring a higher price on the market than those dug any other way.

The McCormick-Deering is designed to operate with light draft. This makes it possible to operate the digger at sufficient depth to make sure of getting all of the potatoes without overstraining the team or the machine.

McCormick-Deering Potato Diggers are available in types and sizes for the needs of this locality. Make it a point to see your favorite type and size here.
