

Peace Pact Proves Stumbling Block With Dominions

LONDON, Oct. 6.—(United News)—Dominion participation in the Locarno peace pact, the future diplomatic intercourse of the dominions with the outside world, and other questions as important, are to be threshed out at the assembly of Great Britain's league of nations—the imperial conference that meets Saturday, October 19.

The advance guard of dominion prime ministers is arriving for the conference, the first in three years. One fourth of the area and population of the world, comprising the British empire, will be represented.

Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, Newfoundland and the Irish Free State will be represented by their premiers. India will be represented by several Indian princes and by the earl of Birkenhead, Indian secretary in the cabinet.

The crown colonies, such as the West Indies, will be represented by Colonial Secretary Amery and his assistants, the under secretaries of colonial and dominion affairs.

None of the important questions to be discussed are likely to be settled finally at the meeting, except participation in the Locarno pact. The dominions are expected to say that they will not be parties to it, but there is little doubt that if Great Britain were drawn into another world war through her responsibilities in it, the dominions, with the possible exception of southern Ireland, would participate.

The question of diplomatic representation by the dominions in foreign capitals, such as Canada at Washington, is likely to remain unsettled. Great Britain will concede the right of any dominion to have its own representative at Washington or any other capital, Canada may decide at last to appoint the representative at Washington she has talked about for some years.

Australia and New Zealand are not likely to want to appoint any diplomatic representatives. They stand for unity in the empire with all units on an equal basis.

South Africa is concerned principally with the equality angle, but Ireland, at last a separate nation, is expected to support any effort to decentralize either the power or the voice of the empire, for years centered in London.

Among the questions to be discussed are radio communications, empire air and airship routes, defense by navy and air force. The peopling of the dominions with British emigrants and economic affairs, preferential tariffs, even the exchange of British films in an effort to break the American monopoly.

It is planned to adjourn the conference about November 4, when parliament meets. Included in the activities is a strenuous entertainment program, dinners at which important speeches of policy will be made after the secret sessions of the delegates, and above all the displays by army, navy and air forces at various centers that will show the dominion representatives something of the heart of the empire defense resources.

SALEM, Oct. 5.—(United News)—Harry Rolfe-Royce, who claims to be a former preacher, was sentenced to four years in the state prison here by Circuit Judge Kelly Monday on a charge of receiving stolen property.

Rolfe-Royce, when arrested in southern California several months ago, was said to have in his possession a saxophone and a typewriter taken from the First Christian church here.

BABE RUTH WAS STELLAR ATTRACTION

Hafey raced home with the first score of the inning. Torporcer, who is Hornsby's substitute batted for Rhem, and fled to Coombs. O'Farrel scoring from third after the catch.

Victim of Babe

The score was tied and the stands in an uproar. Taylor Doubit, who, a few moments before had been lying injured in the outfield, dented the right field wall with a double, Thevenow romping home. Southworth hit his third successive single in front of Babe Ruth and Doubit tried to score from second, falling a victim to the Babe's strong right arm.

Art Reinhart, the studious minded young southpaw, went to the box for the Cards. He began by walking Combs on four straight bad ones. Mark Koenig tipped a fly to right field just beyond the reach of Hornsby. Bottomley and Southworth, and Combs scored all the way from first while the Cards were locating the ball. It was scored as a double for Koenig. Reinhart then took no chances on another home run by Ruth. He promptly walked the Babe. Then he walked Meusel, filling the bases with none out. Then to complete his appearance in the afternoon's pastime, he passed Gehrig, forcing in a run.

Situation is Ticklish

Herman Bell came from' the bull pen to see what he could do in this ticklish situation. Lazzari hit a long fly to right, scoring Ruth. Dugan bounced one in front of the

to be taken here in connection with the plan, the county agent has secured the services of William Close, federal inspector in charge of the western division, to demonstrate the method of correct grading. A local inspector is to be appointed and given instructions on grading by Close, who will be here in the near future.

Growers will be required to do their own stenciling on sacks shipped within the state only. The stencil, in letters not less than an inch high, must include the grower's name, address and the grade of the spuds.

The aim of the grading law, placed in effect March 3, 1925, is to build up the potato industry in the state. Four grades are provided for, but it is not expected that any one crop of spuds will be sorted into four grades. A large percentage of the commercial crop in the country meets the requirements of a common grade which provides for most trade demands. Sizing as well as the elimination of defective stock, enters into the grading.

"It is extremely important that every potato grower in the county be familiar with the standard grades and grade his spuds accordingly," Henderson declared. "This should be a great help in the future marketing of Klamath potatoes, as buyers will be given an excellent opportunity to compare our potatoes of superior quality with those grown elsewhere," he stated, saying that the move has been popular in other parts of the state.

It is important also that every grower attend the Henley meeting, is Henderson's opinion, as conformation of shipments with the state law may save the grower future trouble.

FORMER PREACHER IS GIVEN PRISON TERM

SALEM, Oct. 5.—(United News)—Harry Rolfe-Royce, who claims to be a former preacher, was sentenced to four years in the state prison here by Circuit Judge Kelly Monday on a charge of receiving stolen property.

plate and before it came down Meusel was over the plate with another run. O'Farrel threw Dugan out at first, and Gehrig, who had gone down to second, continued to third a moment later on a balk. Bell then rang up a base on balls for Severoid, but Hank was forced out a moment later on Hoyt's bouncer, Hornsby to Thevenow.

With Combs on first in the sixth and one out, Ruth caught a fast one on the nose and drove it out past the flarpole in the centerfield, high into the distant stands for his third homer of the day. Meusel singled to right, but was thrown out at second. Southward to Hornsby. Gehrig doubled off the left field wall, but the scoring was over.

The fans began their first organized attempt to rattle an opposing pitcher when they set up an uproar in the Cards' half of the sixth. O'Farrel and Thevenow singled and Hornsby tried another pinch hitter, sending Flowers to bat for Bell. The din was terrible. So was Flowers' batting. He struck out tamely. With every fan in the park shrieking encouragement, Doubit tried hard for a hit, but Meusel caught his fly to right, Koenig threw out Southworth and the chance was gone.

Bill Hallahan was the fourth St. Louis pitcher fed to the ravenous Yanks. He got the side out after one run had been scored by a single by Severoid and a slashing double down the left field foul line by Earl Combs. The St. Louis fans gave up hope and began to leave the park, merely waiting to see if Babe Ruth would hit another homer. Young Hallahan, however, walked the Babe without delay and followed this up by passing Meusel. Gehrig twisted an ankle sliding into first after his infield tap had been tossed to Bottomley by Hornsby, but the Yank's first baseman limped to the bench, apparently not seriously injured.

Lazzari rapped a hot one to Bell, who tagged Ruth out off third base, the first time the Babe had been put out during the afternoon. Dugan walked, filling the bases, but a foul popped up by Severoid ended matters.

It was the first inning since the second that the Yanks had failed to score.

After O'Farrel opened the eighth with a single, Thevenow fanned, and Holm batted for Hallahan, and also struck out. Doubit's best was a fly to Combs.

Vic Keen finished the game for the Cards.

NEW EVIDENCE IS AGAINST McPHERSON

McPherson dramatically reappeared in Agua Prieta, Mexico, where she explained her absence of 36 days from this city by relating a bizarre kidnapping story.

Douglas is just across the international border line from Agua Prieta, and according to the telegraph operator, the message informed the Douglas man that the sender's automobile had broken down and that she and her party would proceed to Douglas by train.

Takes Political Angle

A political angle loomed on the horizon Wednesday, when it became known that the county board of supervisors has refused to replenish the fund of Asa Keyes to carry out the investigation.

Keyes, several days ago, issued complaints against the board and three other high county officials, charging embezzlement of county funds and they in turn retaliated by issuing a complaint against him charging illegal expenditures in the prosecution of the Kid McCoy case, and the William D. Taylor murder.

May Hamper Prosecution

The prosecution of the McPherson case will be seriously handicapped unless the board of supervisors rescinds its action.

F. H. McClellan, chairman of the board, became directly connected with the case today when it was charged that efforts had been made by him to obtain the clothing worn by Mrs. McPherson on her reappearance from the district attorney's office.

The clothing is regarded as important evidence by the state to support its accusation that Mrs. McPherson did not make a 20-mile tramp across the Sonora desert as she claims.

McClellan was quoted as saying that the reason he sought the "desert kark," was that Mrs. McPherson "didn't care to have her intimate garments kicked around a public office longer than was necessary."

Federation Labor Engages in Tilt Over Russ Affairs

DETROIT, Oct. 6.—(United News)—The resolutions committee of the American Federation of Labor was in the midst of a warm debate Wednesday night over a proposal to advocate American recognition of soviet Russia and a number of other so-called radical resolutions referred to it by delegates attending the labor convention here.

The line between radicals and conservatives was clearly drawn during the day when delegates from all parts of the country began pouring their resolutions into the hopper. The principal controversy over these proposals was expected to center in the committee, however, as leaders of the federation have no desire to see the issues fought on the floor of the convention.

Meanwhile the delegates were completely united in their resentment against Detroit civic organizations which induced the churches of the city to bar labor speakers from their pulpits, after inviting them to appear next Sunday. As the invitations have been withdrawn there is no appeal against the action and delegates accepted it as "bad manners on the part of an open shop city."

The proposal to recognize the soviet government of Russia came from a number of foreign fraternal delegates and drew immediately the opposition of President William Green.

"We have sympathy for the Russian workers," Green said, "but we cannot cooperate until they renounce their adherence to the soviet form of government and its fight against American methods."

Other resolutions referred to the committee include the following: Endorsement of the five day week; opposition to the world court; denunciation of fascist form of government; urging restoration of citizenship to Eugene V. Debs; asking a department of justice investigation of the Sacca-Vanzetti case; asking the release of all political prisoners throughout the world.
