

Paving Contracts On Two Units Are Let By Council

Irregular bidding by the Inland Construction company held up two more city improvement units upon which contracts were to have been awarded by the city council in an adjourned meeting last night. The delayed projects are units 59 and 69, comprising Pine, Eleventh and Esplanade streets, and Walnut and Oak streets respectively.

Dunn & Baker was declared winning low bidder on unit No. 64, Commercial and Walnut, with a bid of $13,422.69 on type A Concrete pavement, Unit No. 63, Spring and Wall streets, was awarded the Warren Construction company whose bid on two-inch top, four-inch base Warrenite Bitulithic pavement was $5,079.45.

The Inland Construction company bids were low on units 59 and 62 for Warrenite Bitulithic type pavement, but this concern failed to stipulate the thickness specifications. Fearing legal complications, in spite of Major William Arnold's declaration that the Warren Construction company would protect the city against a possible injunction, the council refused to throw out bids of the alleged erring company.

These four units constitute a part of a block of eight paving units which recently came before the council for consideration, and local paving contractors were forced to present a new set of bids on the hold-over units because of previous irregularities on the inland company bid sheets.

Both C. A. Dunn and Major Arnold addressed the council last night, urging that further delay be avoided on the jobs for which contract awards are to be held up until October 25, next meeting night of the council. The council, however, refused to throw out the inland bids.

In the absence of the mayor, Councilman Roberts, chairman of the body, held the official chair and conducted the business of the evening. Councilman Powell also failed to appear at the adjourned meeting. With Roberts, Stuckey and Balsiger present, there was a sufficient majority for the transaction of the paving business.

Al Jolson Wants To Remarry His Divorced Wife

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—(United News)—Divorce has taught Al Jolson, "mummy's big boy," that one should not go to court over a little family squabble, but should ask for a kiss and forget the differences.

The blackface comedian told the United News tonight that the family differences which led Ethel Delmar, his beautiful wife, to the French divorce court were nothing new compared with his love for her.

"From the minute I learned the divorce had been granted and I had lost her I knew I still loved her and now I want her back."

Whether the repentant comedian can have his wish, Mrs. Jolson will make known Sunday. If she is favorable, they will be remarried in New York then.

Petton, who was one of the signers of the international manifesto against tariff barriers; that Lancashire, England, should be permitted to produce fine cotton goods out of cotton bought from southern growers, and exchange these goods with American consumers for their raw product.

"At present American production in all lines points to the necessity of foreign markets for her surplus."
