MEMBERSHIP OF THE ORGANIZATION HAS CONSTANTLY INCREASED, HAGEN STATED, AND FAR EXCEEDS THE NUMBER ACTIVELY INTERESTED IN THE ASSOCIATION LAST YEAR. DURING SEPTEMBER, 51 PRODUCERS REPRESENTING 57,000 HEAD OF CATTLE JOINED THE ASSOCIATION, AND NEARLY AS MANY BECAME MEMBERS IN AUGUST.

"The spread between coast markets and those of the east, has been virtually eliminated," Hagen declared, pointing out that coast prices this year have been much better than in 1925. "Oregon and California cattle sold at prices equal to midwest markets and brought more than they would have either at Denver or Ogden," he said.

"And this," the assistant manager declared, "has been accomplished in spite of the fact that there were more cattle on the market this year and that eastern markets were lower than normally." Far better conditions would have prevailed had it not been necessary to meet non-member competition which tended to lower the general price, he said. Due to a wide connection with buying agencies and full information on the cattle situation, the association was able to establish the price in all communities in which it operates.

A number of local cattlemen will attend the annual membership meeting of the association in San Francisco, during December, it was learned at the conclave. Among those who declared intentions of being present for the big meeting, are A. S. Conner, Bly, local director of the cattlemen's association; Lindsay Sizemore, P. McCready, Frank Coburn and C. O. Clapton.

Meet Sarah Ann Duplicate You may never see Sarah Ann, though perhaps you might. Sarah Ann was pronounced the world's greatest Holstein last year—the All-American Aged Cow. And where did she appear? Why, at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition in Portland—where many, many world's champions appear! Sarah may be there again this year, October 30-November 6. But, if not, you will see thousands of the finest bred, best producing dairy stock in America—for they come from the four corners of the continent to be at this—the greatest combined livestock exhibition now known in the world. Also come the finest Beef Cattle, Horses, Hogs, Sheep, Goats and Foxes. Then there's the famous Horse Show and Land, Industrial and Dairy Products Exposition—all housed in the tremendous 10-acre exposition building. It is our sincere belief that there is not a farmer in this community who can afford to miss, or who will fail to profit by this opportunity.

CENSUS FIGURES TO PASS 12,000

entire city that we have an accurate figure on the population of Klamath Falls," he stated, "and I hope that all those who have not been called upon by census-takers, will clip the coupon in Sunday's News, and forward it to my address here with their names."

"I am in doubt" as to whether their name was properly taken, they can correct a possible error by making use of the coupon," Panzer further pointed out.

The figure last night, following a count of the names obtained yesterday by the 14 census-takers, was well over 11,000 Panzer stated, and by the time the cleanup is finished, it should reach 12,000 very readily. This figure includes Shipington, Pelican City and Altamont, as well as Klamath Falls proper.

At one time during the name-gathering festivities, the total reached 14,000, but many of these were weeded out, due to duplications by census takers. This is the first census taken in Klamath Falls since 1920 and with the rapid growth here in the past few months, need for an up-to-date census has long been felt, it is said.

ALASKA RAISES SOME GIANT VEGETABLES

SEATTLE, Oct. 23.—(United Press)—In Alaska, where men are men, turnips are turnips. One weighing 25 1/2 pounds, grown at Strawberry Point, was presented to the Seattle chamber of commerce. The gigantic vegetable was exhibited at the southern Alaska fair last month at Juneau. Strawberry Point supplies Juneau with root vegetables.
