LEST WE FORGET

We leave all nonsense and all irreverence out of our talk and conduct today and hold sacred the memory of the brave boys who went to the war and never came back, but whose souls keep marching on.

Armistice day is the World's tribute to its heroes—living and dead—and the sentiment of it all ought not to be readily forgotten.

SEES LESS RUM

Andrew J. Volstead, author of the federal prohibition enforcement law, estimates that at the most 10 per cent as much liquor is in existence today as before prohibition.

He believes, however, that statistics would show possibly only 3 per cent, in existence.

In a church address last night, outlining his faith in the Eighteenth Amendment, Mr. Volstead, who is now engaged with the Northwest enforcement office in an advisory capacity, declared that prohibition is bringing longer life to the average citizen.

SLOGAN

An English professor of University College, Nottingham, discussing in The Observer the etymology and use of the word "slogan," confesses to a vague impression that the current use of this word "for a catchword sufficiently stentorian to drown argument or criticism" is of American origin.

life—namely, Great Britain and the United States. Mr. Chesterton thinks he has pronounced the final word on the British party system when he has demonstrated, to his own satisfaction, that parliamentarism and parliamentary elections are a good-humored pastime and exercise for a few noble families.

"UNCLE JOE" LOSES VOTE

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, for the first time since 1860, when he cast his first ballot for Abraham Lincoln, failed to vote on election day this year. The registration laws make it necessary for every voter to register in person, and on the last day of registration, Oct. 12, the day was so cold and stormy that the family would not permit "Uncle Joe" to leave the house.

HONOR WAR DEAD

Major Generals Charles P. Summerall and Robert Lee Bullard, two wartime leaders of the First Division, will dedicate today on Governors Island and the only memorial on American soil to commemorate the first three American soldiers who were killed in action in France.

The dead heroes, members of the Sixteenth Infantry of the First Division, (A) E. F. now stationed on Governors Island, fell Nov. 3, 1917, at Bathelemont on the Lorraine front. They were Corporal James B. Gresham of Evansville, Ind., Private Thomas F. Enright of Pittsburgh, and Private Merle D. Hay of Glidden, Iowa. All were in Company F, Sixteenth Infantry.

The memorial is in the form of a stately tree, standing at the head of Regimental Row. Chaplain Thomas E. Swan, chief of chaplains, Second Corps Area, will pronounce the dedication. World War veterans of the Society of the First Division and the American Legion will attend. Survivors of the first German onslaught and members of the Sixteenth of today will stand at salute. The exercises will begin at 10 o'clock.

General Summerall will deliver the principal address following the dedication. To conclude the ceremonies a bugler will sound taps. In France the sacrifice of these three Sixteenth Infantrymen has been honored by the people of Bathelemont with a monument, General Summerall said yesterday.

SALVAGING BURNED TIMBER PROGRESSES

900 feet of spur track is to be built at once, near Whitepoint, to facilitate loading.

As this constitutes the initial log movement between these two points, a new set of tariffs has been issued by the Southern Pacific to cover the shipments. Cost of shipping the timber will be $1.59 per thousand, according to the new rate.

TOMLINSON IS NAMED JUDGE MUNICIPAL COURT

PORTLAND, Nov. 19.—(United News)—Harry M. Tomlinson today was named by the city council as judge of department number one of the municipal court, filling the vacancy created by the elevation of William A. Ekwall to the circuit bench.

Armistice Day

Artillery and rifle cease; Right and Reason from War takes lease; Madness and hate and greed decrease. Inspiring hope, dispelling fear, Spreading out comfort, kindness, cheer. The dawn of a joyous day seems near. I hail the hour that brought release, Confident time will it increase, Even to everlasting peace.

LETTER BOX

Nov. 10, 1926.

Dear Sir: I wish to express my gratitude to you for publishing, to various individuals, and to the D. A. R. for satisfying my request for the names of those who laid down their lives in the great war. They have enabled a service of remembrance to be conducted and furnished data for a permanent record to be placed at least in a semi-public place in the near future.

As a further result of the replies I am now in possession of the names, also of those who gave their lives in the Modoc war and the Spanish American war. These, too, will be embodied on the above record, but it would be a thousand times better if some patriotic group would undertake to place these records in such a public place that "He who runs may read."

Truly yours, J. HENRY THOMAS.

SINNOTT SUBPOENED AT FALL-DOHENY TRIAL

THE DALLES, Ore., Nov. 19.—(United News)—Congressman N. J. Sinnott within a few hours of leaving for Washington, D. C., received notification of a subpoena calling him as a government witness in the Doheny trial, to open at Washington November 22. Sinnott had planned to be in Washington by November 15 for a meeting of the appropriations committee, so the subpoena did not hasten his departure. He declared today that he did not know what light he could throw on the Doheny case, which involves oil leases.
