

Search For Man Diogenes Sought Fully Rewarded

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 11.—(United News)—Diogenes, if he were living today, might with satisfaction extinguish his lantern. The man for whom he searched in vain with lighted lantern at noon-day, has been found.

He is E. A. Grogan, street car conductor, and he lives in Kansas City.

On a certain cold, rainy day when all human beings wish they were in the South Sea Islands, or had money enough to go there, Grogan reached the end of his run, and, according to his custom, made the rounds of the car to look for lost articles.

A shabby black handbag was lying in one of the seats and the conductor started to make out his report. Then, since he is required to make a report of contents also, he opened the purse to inspect it. Through open space between rolls of bills he saw the bright yellow gleam of gold. The man Diogenes never found would have glanced furtively about, tucked the purse between his coat and taken passage on the next airplane. But Grogan immediately called the lost article department and a man was sent out on a motorcycle to get the bag.

When it had been returned to the office and the woman in charge had almost finished counting the $1639, which consisted of a check for $1200, $43 in gold and $394 in currency, a woman of 80 summers rushed excitedly in and exclaimed:

"This is mine, this is mine." Mrs. E. S. Forsinger, owner of the purse, seemed more delighted over the recovery of a pair of spectacles, which were in the bag, than the money itself.

"I just couldn't get along without those glasses," she said. The money had all been given to her by friends during many Christmas holidays, and she had always carried it with her because of the sentiment attached to it.

Grogan was rewarded by officials of the street car company.

Oregon Aggies Go Down in Defeat Before U. S. C.

MULTNOMAH STADIUM, PORTLAND, Nov. 11.—(United News)—The Oregon Aggies suffered their first football defeat of the season here this afternoon at the hands of the University of Southern California.

The Trojans won 17 to 7. The Aggies' defeat put them out of the running for the Pacific coast championship, and left Stanford as the only unbeaten conference team.

The game was played on a muddy field, with numerous fumbles and misplays resulting from the sloppy condition of the gridiron. The O. A. C. touchdown was scored in the last few minutes of play.

With less than a minute to play Elliott of U. S. C. kicked. The kick was blocked by Dixon when less than 30 feet from Elliott's foot. Olmstead scooped it up and made the 26 yards across the line for the Aggie's only touchdown.

Maples converted. The thundering Lord scored when Taylor sent a place kick sailing between the goalposts. Larenta went over for the first touchdown in the second quarter. Taylor converted. Another touchdown was carried over by Kaer in the fourth quarter. Taylor converted. This ended the scoring until the fluke touchdown which the Aggies made in the last minute of play.

Although the field was covered with sawdust and had been rolled during the night and morning, little pools of water covered many portions of it and time was called several times to wipe the mud from the hands and faces of players.

A number of forward passes were fumbled, due to the wet and slippery ball, and several men slipped and fell while running with the ball.

O. A. C.'s only threat to score aside from the final touchdown came in the third quarter when the ball had been advanced to the eighty-yard line by forward passes and end runs.

Both teams used reserves freely. "Iron Horse" Scholmerich, Aggie fullback, was effectively stopped by the Trojans, but Dixon, Aggie tackle, was a constant source of trouble. He broke through the line frequently and forced Morton Kerr, Trojan quarter, to hurry his kicks.

General Wood Is Irritating Many Filipino Leaders

MANILA, Nov. 10.—(United News)—While Manuel Quezon, president of the insular senate and foremost advocate of Filipino independence was en route to the typhoon swept areas of Batangas, he received the most severe political blow of his career. At the request of hundreds of bereaved families, he had left Manila to direct relief when Governor General Leonard Wood issued a proclamation abolishing the Philippines board of control, a powerful governmental institution, created by Quezon and his co-workers for independence.

Through the insistent agitation and political activity among Filipinos, Quezon, Roxas and other leaders had this board established during the administration of Francis Burton Harrison.

It controlled the Manila railroad, Manila hotel and numerous business ventures supported by the government. It gave the Filipino leaders extensive power in the islands, for Quezon and Roxas with Wood composed the board. The Filipinos were in the majority.

Just an hour after the insular legislature had adjourned, Wood, armed with decisions from the United States army and the attorney general in Washington, abolished the board, and himself became the sole arbiter in matters affecting public utilities.

RAY SCHALK WILL MANAGE WHITE SOX

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—(United News)—Ray Schalk, veteran pitcher, was announced as the new manager of the Chicago White Sox Thursday by Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the club.

Schalk succeeds Eddie Collins, who has played in the American league 21 years, 12 of which were with the White Sox, whom he has piloted for the last two seasons.

Collins, reported to have been drawing a salary of $35,000 as player-manager, had been on the bench most of last season because of injuries and it was felt that his playing days were about over.

Before the end of the season it was indicated that Collins would not return as manager, and the change was not unexpected.

Schalk came to the Sox in 1919 from Milwaukee.

FLOWERS SENT TO BROTHER OF SUPPOSED SICK MAN

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 11.—(United News)—Although he was mistaken for his brother, Henry Berry, well known San Francisco capitalist and former baseball club owner, H. Frank Berry, today declared at the Sutter hospital that the mistake was not without its compensations.

The patient, suffering from an injured hand in a gun explosion, has been bombarded with flowers, special delivery messages and telegrams from all parts of the country, all intended for his brother.

Howard Maple, Aggie quarter, also played a good game, being the best ground gainer for O. A. C.

Morton Kerr carried the ball frequently and made consistent gains.

State Witness in McPherson Trial is Nearing Death

CARMEL BY THE SEA, Calif., Nov. 11.—(United News)—Howard C. Benedict, important witness in the investigation of Almo Sempie McPherson, cannot be expected to recover from an illness into which he lapsed three weeks ago, Dr. C. H. Lowell, his physician, said today.

His family is prepared for his death, which may be a matter of days. His son Courtney has returned to Northwestern university after bidding the elder Benedict good bye. Benedict is owner of the Carmel cottage in which Los Angeles prosecutors allege the evangelist and Kenneth G. Ormiston held a love tryst following her disappearance last May at Ocean Park, California, and during the period in which she claims to have been in custody of kidnapers. His death will be a serious blow to the state's chain of evidence, it is believed.

Ben Cohn, chief investigator of the Los Angeles district attorney's office, remained in Carmel today in hope that Benedict might momentarily recover from coma and be questioned. It was hoped that he would be able to look at a pair of satin slippers, included in women's apparel taken from a trunk allegedly belonging to Ormiston and forwarded to Los Angeles from New York.

Benedict was expected to attempt to identify the slippers as those worn at his Carmel cottage by "Mrs. George McIntyre." The Los Angeles district attorney claims "Mrs. George McIntyre" was Mrs. McPherson.

The nature of Benedict's illness was not made known. It was said to be a chronic ailment with which he had taken while in Los Angeles.

HOME OF BEE BEGIN DESTROYED BY FIRE

a fire hydrant and the local fire fighters were forced to leave their truck at this distance from the burning residence. It would have been virtually the same story had a fire hydrant been nearby, firemen stated, due to the fact that the house is almost on a level with the city reservoir and that there would have been no pressure.

Damage resulting from the fire is believed to be in the neighborhood of $5,000. Virtually nothing was saved from the burning dwelling. Only the rain which accompanied the windstorm saved other houses in the city from destruction, the firemen stated, as flaming embers were carried to many parts of the city.
