

Pigskin Chasers of Annapolis in Excellent Mood

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—(United News)—When the Middle weigh anchor and get sail for Chicago this week to battle the Army eleven revenge will be the thought uppermost in their minds.

The Annapolis pigskin chasers will go, not for the pleasure of winning the single game, but to rain redress for a string of annual defeats at the hands of their traditional rivals, since 1921.

Next Saturday's game, the Middle believe is the hardest game of the season, and they have defeated some of the most powerful teams in the country, including Colgate, Georgetown and Michigan.

With the possible exception of Brown the Navy is the best team in the east.

The Army's slate has been marked by the Notre Dame defeat, but the cadets are still standing on their laurels of the 33 to 0 stampeding of Yale.

It should be one of the most interesting games of the season.

The wide difference in the attack of the two teams, promises that a lot of dust will be raised on the Chicago gridiron when the rivals face each other.

Captain "Dix" Jones has drilled his cadet charges in a running attack. When they hit the enemy's line it is supposed to crumble and make way for a quartet of some of the best backs in the country. There is Harry Wilson, with seven years of college experience; Tony Whitt, Murrell, Trappel and Carle, and the soldiers believe there is no line in the world that can stop them.

But Bill Ingram, the Navy coach, is more modern. He favors the air attack and plenty of it spread between a running game. He may get the ball across the Army line with this mode of offense. Ingram will rely on Hamilton, Goudge, Hansford, Caldwell, Hanegan and Schuberte to deliver the "shock" attack within the Army's forty yard line, after the ball has been delivered there by the air route.

FEEBLE-MINDED IS GOOD WITNESS

audible asides, smiling broadly beneath his bushy moustache. Once he showed a flash of temper when he told of vigorous "third degree" methods used in the dead of night by the present investigators.

As the questioning proceeded Mrs. Frances Steven Hall's face, which had been tense with worry as her brother walked to the witness stand, relaxed into a smile. A look of confidence such as the accused widow has not worn since the trial began was upon her pale countenance.

Senator Case, suave defense attorney, conducted the direct examination, which lasted 25 minutes. "Did you have anything to do with the murder of Reverend Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, or have you any knowledge of it," asked Senator Case at the conclusion of his questioning.

"Absolutely nothing at all," replied the defendant, sitting upright and staring straight ahead.

Throughout nearly an hour of cross examination, which was interrupted by adjournment with Willie still upon the stand, Senator Simpson hammered at the witness without weakening the straightforward story of his actions during the fatal week in September, 1922, when the crime which threw its lurid lips on the tragedy in the haughty Stevens clan was committed.

Senator Simpson, who treated "Willie" with courtesy only exceeded by that of the witness toward himself, sought to show that the defendant had been coached in the story which he told of his movements and those of his sister "on the night of the murder."

This was the one phase of cross examination stressed by the prosecutor, but "Willie" came through with flying colors.

A note left to his father gave ill health and family trouble as the motive. Reames had been divorced from his wife for some time.

MEXICO IS NOTIFIED INTENT OF UNCLE SAM

and their application, with both insisting upon their interpretation and refusing to give way.

In his last note Kellogg reminds Mexico that it obtained recognition from the United States only on condition that copulatory provisions of its 1917 constitution and later laws would not be applied retroactively. He closed with this warning:

"The issues have been plainly defined and my government, in conclusion, reasserts that it expects the government of Mexico, in accordance with the true intent and purpose of the (Warren-Payne) agreements of 1919, culminating in the recognition of the government of Mexico by this government, to respect in its entirety the acquired property rights of American citizens which have been the subject of our discussion and expects the Mexican government not to take any action under the laws in question and the regulations issued in pursuance thereto, which would operate, either directly or indirectly, to deprive American citizens of the full ownership, use and enjoyment of their said properties and property rights."
