XMAS PARTY AT CUMMINGS HOME TUESDAY NIGHT

A Christmas party, with all the pomp and gayety of the festive season, Christmas tree, gifts and all, was enjoyed on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. K. G. Cummings on Washington street when she was hostess at the annual holiday fete for members of the P. E. O. club.

A heavily laden tree stood in one corner of the prettily arranged room where Christmas candles, wreaths and holly were used.

Mrs. C. P. Chastain assisted Mrs. Cummings in her duties as hostess, as did Miss Margaret Cummings and Miss Joy Evans.

The evening's program, prior to the tree, was devoted to Christmas carols, the history, the arrangement and the composition with Mrs. Bert Call Thomas and Mrs. L. L. Traux in charge, Mrs. George McIntyre and Mrs. Thomas sang a number of lovely carol numbers.

Members present Tuesday evening included Mesdames W. R. Boyd, Alfred Collier, Andrew Collier, Junior Daggett, Fred E. Fleet, Frank F. Moser, George McIntyre, K. G. Cummings, H. D. Lloyd Stewart, J. I. Beard, Syd Evans, E. L. Crumblitt, C. P. Chastain, L. L. Traux, C. F. Mason, Bert Call Thomas, Harry Goeller, H. W. Rathbun, Fred Peterson, Caleb Jones and Miss Frances Henry.

Guests were Mrs. L. E. Decker, Mrs. Ash, Mrs. F. R. Hamblitt, and Miss Cummings and Miss Evans.

MISS HYATT IS HOLIDAY BRIDE

A wedding of interest among the younger set was that of Miss Melba Hyatt who became the bride of Mr. Alfred Anderson on Saturday evening at 10:30 o'clock before the beautifully lighted altar of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

Rev. J. Henry Thomas, rector of St. Paul's read the ceremony.

Mrs. J. F. White, the bride's sister, attended her and Mr. Kendall Grey was best man.

St. Paul's was beautifully decorated for Christmas with evergreens, tall candles at the altar, and chrysanthemums. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Ada Hyatt, 329 Jefferson street.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are now enjoying an extended wedding trip in the northwest, and the holiday season was spent in Portland and Spokane. They will be at home to their friends in Spokane after January the first.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. Ada Hyatt, Mrs. J. F. White, Mr. Kendall Grey, Mr. Lavers Carter, Mr. William Tighe, Mr. Emory Hyatt, Mr. Elmer Ash and the bride and groom.

ORGAN RECITAL AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

On Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock Mrs. Russell Bodley, her sister Beatrice Walton, assisted by her niece, Miss Katherine Walton, as violinist, will give an organ recital, at the First Christian church. MANY ATTEND CAROL SINGING

Outstanding during the past week was the four o'clock carol singing and tea by the fireside in the parish house of St. Paul's Episcopal church on Sunday afternoon when an old fashioned English carol concert was given by a group of talented musicians from various church choirs in the city.

Although not a social function in any sense of the word, society turned out en masse to spend an hour in the beautifully decorated parish house, to be carried back years and years, when carol singing first broke upon still Christmas morning air.

Those who interested themselves in the afternoon affair had arranged wreaths of red berried holly at windows and above the fireplace which was fragrantly banded with evergreen branches and cedar.

Bayberry candles burned at the mantle and large red Christmas candles at the tea table from where tea was served by a bevy of the younger maidens.

Those who participated in the singing included Mrs. Francis R. Olds, soprano; Mrs. George McIntyre and Mrs. Frank E. Moser, alto; Mr. Wayne Akers and Mr. R. E. Patterson, tenors, and W. W. Southwell and Mr. Lynn P. Sabin, basses.

FAMILY DINNER SATURDAY EVE

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Nate Otterbein on Ninth and Lincoln streets, was the scene of a prettily arranged family Christmas dinner on Christmas evening at 7 o'clock.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Otterbein, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hightek, Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Smith and son Donald, Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Sloan and son Junior of Medford, Mr. and Mrs. Levi McDonald of Langell valley, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Willits, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hoagland and daughter Marjorie Lou of Glendale, Oregon, and Mrs. A. L. Harvey of Ashland.

SEND BEST WISHES TO CHILOQUIN

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Davis of Chiloquin are receiving the congratulations from their many friends over the birth of a son, Jimmy Dixon, who was born Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock at the family residence.

Mrs. Davis will be remembered as Miss Ruth Dixon before her marriage, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dixon.

GREETING WELL-KNOWN VISITORS

Interesting holiday visitors in the city this season, are Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Lewis and Miss Constance Schallcock of San Francisco.

They are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Moe on Washington street and have been feted at numerous affairs during the past week.

LEONARD'S MASS HEARD CHRISTMAS EVE SACRED HEART

Scores of Klamath Falls residents journeyed to Sacred Heart church at midnight, Christmas Eve, to listen to one of the most beautiful of sacred music presentations when Leonard's Mass in E Flat was sung.

Miss Margaret Maguire directed the choir, with Miss Lydia von Berthelddorf, at the organ.

Following are the numbers which were sung, and those who participated:

Kyrie Eleison, duet, Walter Hannon and Fred Leonetti.

Christe, duet, Walter Hannon and Fred Leonetti.

Gloria, solo, Mrs. E. G. Wisocover and choir.

Gloria, trio, Mrs. Julian Abbott, Mrs. E. M. Igl, Miss Ethel Fenwick.

Credo, duet, Miss Alicia Marie Davenport and Miss Fenwick.

Credo, solo, Walter Hannon.

Credo, duet, Mrs. Igl, Miss Fenwick.

Credo, trio, Mrs. Abbott, Mrs. George Dougherty, Mrs. W. H. McPherron.

Sanctus, solo, Mrs. Lester Offield and choir.

Benedictus, solo, Mrs. Offield.

Agnus Dei, solo, Mrs. W. H. McPherron.

Domine, Nobis, choir.

The same music, Leonard's Mass in E Flat, was repeated at the morning services in Sacred Heart church and greeted with an equally interested number.

CHRISTMAS PARTY AT BRISNER HOME

One of the most interesting holiday parties of the past week was that at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Brisner when they entertained Thursday evening for a group of the younger married folk.

A huge Christmas tree, heavily laden, was arranged in one corner of the living room, and each guest received a gift from a quaintly dressed Santa Claus.

The guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brisner included Mr. and Mrs. Lee Parker, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Snodgrass, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Browning, Mr. and Mrs. John Robertson of Eugene.

CHRISTMAS DINNER AT LAMBERT HOME

A beautifully arranged dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lambert at three o'clock Christmas day for a group of the younger married set of Klamath Falls.

The Lambert home at Fourth and Walnut streets was attractive with holly wreaths, poinsettias and a gaily decorated Christmas tree.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Lambert, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Benson and son of Chiloquin, Mr. and Mrs. George Bell of Chiloquin, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lambert, and Lewlan Lambert.

MISS CRYSTAL HOSTESS THURSDAY

A prettily arranged party of the past week was given by Miss Connie Crystal Thursday evening when she entertained informally at bridge.

Supper was served at midnight from a buffet where Christmas candles and green were used.

Guests included the Misses Inez Jenkins, Sybil Bamber, Miriam Wortley, Dorothea Wortley, Mae Crystal, Connie Crystal and Mrs. Myrtle Sherman, and the Messrs. Dwayne Buell, Henry Gerber, Harry Wilson, Jimmy Henson and Ted Snyder.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PARTY IS GIVEN

The younger set of girls of the First Presbyterian church entertained on Friday evening, December 17, in the church rooms, for the boys class.

A prettily laden Christmas tree was used in the rooms and by flickering firelight from the gaily decorated fireplace, gifts were distributed from the tree.

Thirty of the boys and girls were present.

VISITING IN CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Moore and Miss Elizabeth McCurdy, of south Riverside, left this week-end for several months' sojourn in southern California. The trip is made frequently by the party although Miss McCurdy's health will be particularly benefited at this time as she has been ill for a number of weeks.

BEAUTY AND SUCCESS ARE ESSENTIALS

"A good appearance is a prime necessity for success. There may still be business women who believe that all efforts to beautify themselves are a waste of time and energy. However clever and capable these women may be, they are fighting against a universal conception," says Miss Lena Phillips, brilliant New York lawyer and president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women.

Miss Hildegard Pillmore, who interviewed Miss Phillips for the January McCall's, reports her as saying:

"In preserving her good looks, the business woman has a real problem. She hasn't the time to spend on this that home women have. And yet she is coming to realize sharply that, though it change with the seasons, an ideal of feminine loveliness never leaves us. Knowing this the wise young business woman will use her 'beauty time' to make every minute count.

"When we talk about clothes for business women we are talking about clothes that must meet peculiar conditions. My own advice is, always choose the kind of clothing that can be put on and then forgotten. This means dresses and suits, so beautifully fitted, so well assembled that they will look as smart at the end of a day as when they were donned in the morning.

"The ideal outfit should be becoming in color, simply but gracefully made, with its accessories so constructed that they require but one adjustment. If a girl is continually patting at her costume, tucking in stray ends of hair, or fiddling with this or that part of her dress, it takes one's attention away from what she is saying. And it gives the impression that she is lacking in ease and assurance.

"This means getting clothes of good quality. Women in their homes may wear 'any old thing' around the house. But in business our clothes must suit fair weather and bad weather, they must 'stand up' under trying conditions. A good secretary may be called upon at any time to look up papers in a dusty file. She must be prepared to do it, though a few minutes later her employer may expect her to receive an important call.

"This forgetting of one's personal appearance applies also to make-up and coiffures. There is something wrong with the way you use your 'beauty time' if you must dab constantly at your face, or be continually patting or smoothing down your hair. Check up on your appearance at certain stated times during the day. It is your most obvious weapon in the business world and must be kept bright and shining."

CHRISTMAS DINNER AT TURNER HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Turner entertained at a prettily appointed Christmas dinner on Christmas day at four o'clock, when members of their families gathered at their attractive home on Vine street.

Covers at dinner were laid around a lovely centerpiece of poinsettia and holly. Gaily red Christmas candles shed a pretty glow.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. R. DeLap, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Aree, Mrs. D. P. Kernan, Miss Orisvia DeLap of Richmond, Calif., Miss Wilmoth DeLap, Henry Kernan and Mr. and Mrs. Turner, the hosts.

BUSINESS WOMEN TO MEET JANUARY 10

With the Christmas banquet of the Business and Professional Women's club last week, the activities for 1926 ended, and not until January the tenth will the threads of the past year be taken up again by the organization with a renewed vigor that presages an interesting year.

Just what form the meeting for the new year will be, is not known, but plans are under way now by the officers to put on a worthwhile entertainment.

EMILY POST TELLS HOW THEY SPEAK

"The most distinguished society in London, New York, Boston, etc., use simple Saxon phrases such as 'go to bed,' 'get up,' 'live in a house,' in preference to the pseudo-elegant phrases 'retire,' 'arise,' 'residence,'" says Emily Post, authority on etiquette, in McCall's for January.

Answering a letter about the proper use of these words, Mrs. Post says:

"The objection to such words as 'retire,' 'arise,' 'residence,' etc., is that they are more pretentious than plain Saxon 'go to bed, find out, buy, and house.'

"The verb 'reside' has a pseudo-elegance about it that is on a par with the crooked little finger holding a tea-cup and the hand-shake at face level. In London, New York, Boston, etc., these words are never used in best—meaning most distinguished—society. It is true that as a New Yorker, I write (even though I try not to) from a New York point of view. If in cities and towns elsewhere, the 'best people' like the terms which all those who are prejudiced by strict social conventionalities abhor—they are perfectly justified in following the customs of the community in which they live! Only if I am asked to be arbuter, I have to state that in best—meaning by the word 'best,' cosmopolitan—society no one arises or retires or resides in a residence. One gets up, goes to bed, and lives in a house. In other words, everything that is simple and direct is better form than the encumbered and pretentious.

"Socially a widow should always use her husband's name. In business she may be (sometimes must be) Mrs. Ethel Brown, but on her visiting card, or as a patroness of a

SCARLET WILL BE FEATURED THIS SEASON

"The scarlet thread will run through women's clothes this winter," says Anne Rittenhouse, America's leading fashion expert, who discusses winter styles and colors of women's clothes, in the January McCall's.

Says Miss Rittenhouse:

"In places it is patches, not threads. Red gowns and hats are good, worn separately or together. Red sleeves in black or dark blue frocks remind us of Rome under the Borgias. Ragged red flowers are pinned on lapels and furs. Red lacquer buckles ornament belts. Embroidery in vest effect, a new touch this season, may be either all red or a mixture of blue and red.

"There is much that flies and floats from our new gowns. We are no longer severely simple. Nearly all belts end in flying loops and streamers. Necklaces of roses are as frequent as in the South Seas, but our are embroidered. Lace ruffles again fall from elbows. Flouncings lengthen our wrists. Bows are tied smartly at wrists."

CANTATA GIVEN SUNDAY EVENING

Under the direction of R. E. Patterson, "Chimes of the Holy Night," one of the most beautiful cantatas known to the American public will be given tonight in the Methodist church. The men and women of Klamath Falls are cordially invited to the concert of sacred music.

Solo parts will be carried by Miss Dorothy Womet, Miss Norma Doege, Mrs. Glenn Kent, Chris Borneat and R. E. Patterson.
