

Bored Leaders of Society Start on Journey to Pole

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20. (UP)—Wealth and society bored by the tedium of city life, have resorted to the dazzling glare of the northern lights for the thrill of adventure.

A small band of wealthy sportsmen, society leaders and a scientist are heading into the far-flung waters of the Arctic on a cruise which may result in the taking of many rich specimens of wild life of the north, or the loss of life of some members of the party, for the trip is not without dangers.

The personnel of the expedition is made up of names which appear in Bradstreet's and Who's Who. The ship's crew was recruited in Greenland, Seattle and Chicago.

John Horden, Chicago millionaire, sportsman and clubman, heads the expedition.

Guests and members of the expedition include: Miss Frances Ames, San Francisco society girl; Mr. and Mrs. Rochester B. Slaughter of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Goodspeed of Chicago; and Ashley Hine, scientist of the Field museum at Chicago.

Up to the very edge of the polar ice pack the party will make its way. They carry a full arsenal of sporting arms for hunting bear, walrus and other Arctic game. They are to hunt, explore, and bring back live and mounted specimens for the museum.

They expect to reach the first Alaskan hunting grounds on Kodiak island about the end of May, having first touched at Seattle and Victoria. From Victoria the ship will sail up the inside passage to Juneau, thence west to Kodiak island, and Unga, off the Alaskan peninsula. At Unga, the party will obtain guides and hunt Kodiak bear on the island and on the Aleutians.

After leaving the Aleutians the expedition will head northwest to the Pribilof islands for fur seal hunting. The party will touch at Nome before going into the Arctic. The edge of the ice pack is expected to be reached somewhere between Point Barrow and Wrangell island.

Horden, owner of the vessel, does not fear accidents along the voyage. He is an experienced sailor and explorer and has made two previous trips into the Arctic. On one of his trips his vessel was wrecked but the crew reached safety.

The ship, the Northern Light, was built just previous to the start of the trip. It is outfitted with Diesel engines and although slim and graceful in lines and equipped with every luxury of civilization, it is a staunch and true craft built to buck the floating ice. Marble bath-rooms with gold-plated fixtures give an idea of the luxury of the little craft.

There are eight Sea Scouts, all under 20, in Captain William F. Joseph's crew. The boys are all from Chicago and have shown their proficiency in sea scouting, which is allied with the Boy Scout organization.

The crew includes a radio operator, two cooks, a steward and stewardess.

Mother of Local Attorney Passes

R. C. Groesbeck, Klamath Falls attorney, received word Friday morning, telling of the death of his mother, Mrs. Emily W. Groesbeck, 89, at the family home in New Orleans.

This word has caused Groesbeck to cancel a vacation, which he had planned to spend with his aged mother this summer.

Mrs. Groesbeck was a member of a pioneer family, prominent in the development of the Ohio country, where she moved in 1863. From Ohio the family moved to Allen county, Kansas, which was then a wilderness, and termed the "far west." Mrs. Groesbeck was a school teacher during the early part of her life, and she had always taken an active part in the interests and government of the communities in which she lived.

Mrs. Groesbeck's husband died two years ago, at the age of 90. Up until the time of her death, Groesbeck's mother was active, and her mind alert. The many friends of the Klamath attorney extend to him their sympathy.

HIGH BRED ANIMAL COMES TO KLAMATH

Hurd Tipton, of Olene, was the recent purchaser of a particularly well bred Shorthorn bull, from the herd of J. B. Cornett, recently of Shedd, Oregon, and now of Klamath County.

The bull was sired by Hercules Master, one of the greatest bulls of the Shorthorn breed, and out of a dam sired by Ruspier's Sultan out of Velumnia Countess.

Mr. Cornett is one of the oldest Shorthorn breeders on the Pacific Coast and one of the founders of the Shorthorn Show at the Pacific International. His herd is one of the best in the country.

The sire secured by Mr. Tipton is a good individual and has show type as well as production. This is a welcome addition to his herd, which at present is composed of some very fine blood of the Shorthorn breed.

RECORD SET—READY FOR JUMP

Having set a new world's record for sustained flight by remaining in the air 51 hours, 11 minutes, and 25 seconds at Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Clarence Chamberlin left, and Bert Acosta, civilian flyers, are now ready for their attempt to jump to Paris in a non-stop flight for the $25,000 Orteig prize. Below is the Wright-Bellanca monoplane in which they broke the record by nearly six hours, and in which they will attempt the transatlantic jump.

Civil Service Exams Held at Local P. O.

Under the direction of Mrs. Lulu B. Hutchens of the civil service board at the local post office, clerk carrier exams will be held on Saturday morning.

At the present time more than 15 applications have been filed at the local office and those taking the exams are asked to be at the local office not later than 8:30 in the morning.

If more than nine take the examination it is possible it will be held at the city hall, information to be given at the local office in the morning.

Prohibition May Have Caused It

LOS ANGELES, May 20. (UP)—Nearly 429,757 gallons of coffee, enough to fill 6,876,112 large cups, were served to diners on the Southern Pacific railway lines in 1926, according to a report of the dining car and commissary department.

Statistics compiled by the company show that for every cup of tea more than six cups of coffee were consumed by travelers. Only 68,562 gallons of tea were brewed during the year.

Watch Buried for 33 Years; Runs Now

KELSO, Wash., May 20 (UP)—A watch which was buried in a sand pit for 33 years is telling time here today. The watch was recently unearthed in a sand pit north of Castle Rock. It was a 21-jewel "high-ball special," and was identified by George Grant as a timepiece lost by a steam shovel operator in the winter of 1894. It was somewhat rusted but a few repairs but it is working condition.

Mrs. Conley Improves—

Friends of Mrs. Sy Conley of the Langell valley district, will be pleased to learn she is recovering from a major operation which she recently submitted to in Portland. Her son Cecil Conley has returned from the north, where he visited for some time with his mother.

Frank Woodward, well known business man of Portland, spent several days in the city, returning north on Thursday.

Klamath Residents Plan Summer Trips

That a great many Klamath residents are planning vacation trips to the mid-west and eastern United States, is shown by the fact that 25 persons here have ordered tickets from the Southern Pacific, for passage late this month and in early June.

Announcement of this came yesterday, following word that this company's tourist rates will be effective May 22.

Many of those who have engaged transportation to the east, will leave the first of next week, it was stated, while others will not go for two weeks. Despite flood conditions in the south at present, several tickets have been ordered for transportation to Louisiana.

Youngest Graduate Is Julian Lodge

To Julian Lodge, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lodge of this city, goes the honor of being the youngest student to graduate with the class of '27 from Klamath county high school this evening.

For the past two and one-half years, Julian has attended the local high school, coming west from Minneapolis, and is sixteen years and nine months old today.

It is the intention of the young graduate to enter Berkeley this coming fall where he will study law. His father, W. H. Lodge is affiliated with the Big Basin Lumber Company.
