WASHINGTON, June 7. (UP)—Charles A. Lindbergh's Pine Beetle Work homecoming Saturday is assuming the proportions of a presidential inauguration:

Railroads have scheduled excursions from Pennsylvania, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, New York, Delaware and Maryland.

Automobiles and interurbans will bring thousands more. Government departments will close at noon, permitting thousands of employes to join in the celebration.

Banks and business bouses have been requested to close.

Another honor was accorded to Lindbergh Tuosday, the Hubbard medal of the National Geographic society. It had been given only to even others, Commander A. E. Reed, command
