

Auditorium Row is Settled by Court

SALEM, June 24.—(AP)—The Eugene auditorium bond measure will appear on the city ballot at the special election of June 28, by authority of the state supreme court, in an opinion handed down today, reversing the lower court for Lane county, where it was heard by Judge Bagley. The opinion today was written by Justice Belt, and concurred in by all other justices.

The title of the case was the state on relation of Attorney General Van Winkle, David M. Graham, J. H. Koke and R. A. McCully against George A. Gilmore, city recorder of Eugene, appellant. The suit was instituted to enjoin Gilmore from placing on the ballot an initiative measure to repeal that part of the city charter authorizing the issuance and sale of bonds aggregating $500,000 for the construction and maintenance of a public municipal auditorium, on or adjacent to the University of Oregon campus.

The question at issue was whether the recorder had a legal right to place the measure on a special ballot, or whether it must await a regular election.

After quoting the law applying in the case, the opinion says: "In view of the above we think it is the duty of the city recorder to place the proposed initiative measure upon the ballot for consideration at the special election, although the common council did not call it for such purpose. The right of the people to vote upon this measure should not be thwarted by technical construction."

Celebration Queen To Be Picked Soon

The Goddess of Liberty, who will have the honor of ruling over Klamath's Fourth of July celebration July 2, 3 and 4, will be selected by a committee of judges next Monday evening at the Pine Tree theatre, it was announced Friday morning by the celebration committee in charge of the contest.

Judges will not be named until after the contestants have taken the stage at the theatre, in order that no favoritism can be shown.

The candidates, together with the organizations they represent are as follows: LeLaine West, D. A. R.; Margaret Olds, Rotary club; Alissa Massey, Kiwanis club; Ruth Lindsey, Lions club; May Pospisil, Central Labor council; Bernice Hector, Business and Professional Women's club; Nora Sparks, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Ruth Cornish, American Legion.

State Board Meeting—
A meeting of the State Board of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be held in Albany on Thursday, June 30, according to announcement made here today.

Many Expected to Watch Well Start

Several hundred persons are expected to be present Sunday at the Southern Oregon Oil company's location, three miles southeast of Bonanza, at which time the well will be started.

According to an announcement by J. E. Loreman, in charge of operations, lunch, consisting of hot dog sandwiches and ice cold lemonade, will be served free, beginning at 12 o'clock noon, to all who are present. "Everyone is invited to come and bring their friends," Mr. Loreman stated. "The machinery is all in place, and the two boilers were steamed up today."

"A two and one-quarter inch spudding rope was received today from Los Angeles. A 21-inch bit will be used in spudding in. The bit and stem, when the tools are working, weigh 4800 pounds."

Four Persons Get Pasteur Treatment

Mrs. Clemens, another victim of the rabid dog which bit three other persons Wednesday, is now being treated by a local physician, M. M. Donelson, mail carrier, also being treated here, as is Mrs. Bratton and Mr. Jordan, all mad dog victims.

Rabies virus is the injection being used, and is administered easily in the home.

An attending physician declared that a dog need not be killed when rabid, but if vaccinated, can be saved. Vaccination on a dog is guaranteed to hold for at least a year, and in practically every case lasts longer.

"It should be a law," he said, "that every licensed dog be vaccinated for rabies every time its license is renewed. If this were to be done, rabies could be entirely wiped out."

Installation Ends Vets' Encampment

SALEM, June 24.—(AP)—With over 200 of the remaining 700 Civil war veterans in the state present, the 1927 encampment closed here last night with the installation of Major H. S. Lillagar, Portland, as department commander.

Major Lillagar was elected over Clayton B. Zeek of Bandon by a 72 to 40 vote. For seven consecutive years he has been commander of the Ben Butler post in Portland. J. J. Newmeyer, Salem, was named senior vice commander; Royal Taylor, Summer post, Portland, junior vice commander; Dr. James Lisie, Salem, chaplain; M. Daugherty, Springfield, delegate at large; and William Leman, Medford; Chas. True, Shorewood, R. C. Markee and T. Bruelette, Portland, delegates to the national encampment in July.

Joint installation of officers in Ladies of the G. A. R. and the Woman's Relief Corps was also held last night in connection with the closing of the encampment.

Boy Scout Drive May Last Longer

Indications were Friday that in order to attain the goal of $4975 which is needed to carry on Boy Scout work in Klamath county scout council, the present drive for funds for the movement will necessarily be continued into next week.

This is according to information from drive headquarters, where it was yesterday stated that despite the liberality of many who know the value to the community of the Boy Scout work, the goal set by the executive board is not yet in sight.

While eight committees of local business men are devoting several hours daily to the scout drive, with varying success, other committees from outside communities are covering their respective districts for funds for the movement.

The drive is being led by J. A. Gordon as head of the general committee, assisted by J. J. Miller and W. E. Lamm, both of whom hold responsible positions in the local Boy Scout movement. A final effort will be made today to reach the goal before closing business hours mark the end of the week, but if the workers are unsuccessful in this, they will continue their work into the coming week, it was stated.

Bonanza Folk Meet To Talk Measures

A large crowd gathered at the Bonanza community hall Friday night for an open forum on measures appearing on the special election ballot June 28.

Discussion centered on the various amendments to be referred to the people, with the Klamath county proposed road bond issue of $500,000 coming in for its share of recognition, both by speakers of the evening and the Bonanza community residents, who called the session to become more familiar with the measures.

Fred Rueck of Bonanza, officiated as chairman for the evening. Among those who spoke on the impending ballot were J. O. Hartaker, A. M. Thomas, Bruce Dennis and several Bonanza residents, Charles Brannin, of the Associated Press bureau of Portland, was among those who attended the community conclave from outside points.

An entertaining program of readings and musical numbers, in which the Rev. R. W. Anderson, a reader of ability, and Mrs. Fred Rueck and Mrs. Dorothy Evers, proficient musicians, appeared, was given.

Quantities of excellent ice cream, cake and coffee sent the crowd home in high spirits, following a successful session.
