Movie Folk Active In Hollywood Cal.

By DAN THOMAS NEA Service Writer HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Oct. 19. —Wandering around the cinema town: Tom Garaghty and his daughter, Carmelita, just driving. Carmelita, like her father, has done a lot around the movie studios... Her ambition is to become a Cecil B. DeMille star... Grauman's Egyptian theater, six months ago one of the most famous movie houses in America... only the best of Hollywood's products were shown there... Mary Astor and Ben Lyon going into the Montmartre... Mary's pictures certainly don't belie her beauty... she is a lovely creature, even though sometimes a bit uppity... Marion Davies driving toward her studio... wonder if another star will ever have as paternal a dressing as she has... Marion Nixon and Laura LaPlante going into Henry's... Henry, one of Charlie Chaplin's staunchest friends, has the second best-known cafe in the film hamlet... there go Jack Hoxie and Nita Cavalieri... Sally Hand talking to Jim Mitchell, a newspaper writer... Here comes Colleen Moore... who does insist upon telling me of her exciting vacation in New York... Colleen walked out on First National when her husband, John McCormick, quit... and she returned at a salary $2,500 a week higher than her previous one... few actresses in Hollywood could get away with it, however... Sally Ellers and Matty Kemp coming out of a neighborhood theater... they sure make a good looking couple... almost another Janet Gaynor-Charles Farrell combination... Dick Arlan and his bride of not long ago, Jobyna Ralston... Dick and Jobyna played the best love scene I have ever seen for "Wings" just three hours after they were married... and it all landed on the cutting room floor... Corinne Griffith going into the United Artists studio, Clara Bow with her red hair flying in all directions as usual... William Fox is continuing to show other film producers how to make money. Right now he has two pictures in preparation that will be sequels to two of the biggest money-makers in screen history. Laurence Stallings and Maxwell Anderson are now busy writing "The Cock-Eyed World" as a sequel to their "What Price Glory." Raul Walsh, who directed "What Price Glory," will again handle the megaphone and his cast will include Dolores Del Rio, Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe... Fox's second smart move was to pair Charles Farrell and Janet Gaynor for the second time in "Lady Cristallina." Frank Borzage, who directed them in "Seventh Heaven," will again do the directing. Borzage can get more out of those two "kids" than any other director in film-land... Everyone in Hollywood has a hobby. Robert Edson's is collecting hats. He now has more than 70 varied styles of headgear. And he has used all of them at one time or another in pictures... For sale—old papers. Call at Klamath News.

FRUIT SHIPMENTS AT PEAK

CHICAGO, Oct. 19. (AP)—Fruit and vegetable shipments are now at the peak for 1927, the government bureau of agricultural economics reported today. According to official figures, total shipments for the last week would make a solid train reaching from Chicago to St. Louis, approximately 275 miles. The train would consist of about 26,000 cars and would contain at least 18,000,000 bushels of produce, an average of five quarts of fruits and vegetables for every person in the United States.
