$10.00 Cash Prizes—Each Week-$10.00

A vital present need of Klamath County is intelligent settlement upon our vast areas of untitled lands. The Klamath Daily News believes that the best way to secure such added prosperity is by setting forth in printed form what our present farming communities have done with the land, and are now doing.

Human interest accounts told in a spirit of helpfulness towards others who may become our neighbors, will do more than anything else in solving our land settlement problems.

Hence, The Klamath Daily News, in co-operation with the business and professional interests whose advertisements appear on this page, offer $10.00 in cash prizes each week for the five best stories of farm life in Klamath County and environs.

One story may tell of a farmer starting a few years ago in a small way and of results achieved. Another may be about experience with milk cows, sheep, cattle, hogs, poultry, potatoes, alfalfa, bees, rabbits, etc. Experiences of farm women and children looking after pet stock, always provide interesting reading.

All readers of The Klamath Daily News are invited to compete, and are eligible for the cash prizes. Prize awards will be based upon what is told, together with the neatness and legibility of manuscript. The stories should not exceed five hundred words.

1st., $5.00; 2nd., $2.00; 3rd., $1.50; 4th., $1.00; 5th., 50c.

Address all communications to Farm Development Editor, care The Klamath Daily News. Prize awards and winning submissions will be published on this page each Sunday. Get your stories in by preceding Thursday.

Get busy folks, let us have more neighbors—when they hear the real facts they will come. After reading, mail this copy out of county or state.

All For You

In all that we do here, your interests are kept first in mind.

Because, we know that what profits you is sure to benefit us.

Science Advices Careful Picking Of Purebred Sire

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 26.—One purebred bull out of three increases herd production, and barely maintains it and the third lowers it, according to statistics compiled by the New Jersey cow-testing association, the U. S. Bureau of Dairy Industry and the New Jersey College of Agriculture.

The fact that only one out of three bulls is desirable is not presented to discourage the use of purebred bulls but as an argument in favor of more careful selection of dairy sires and the retention of these sires until their daughters come into production.

According to the college, if proved sires are used for five or six generations a dairyman can develop a herd of cows, everyone of which will be a heavy milker. All their daughters will be high producers and all their sons will transmit great production.

"Unfortunately," say the college, "nearly all bulls are culched after reaching the age of three or four years. Dairymen are beginning to see that this is a mistake."

"In order to prevent inbreeding, a plan is now being put into operation by a number of dairymen whereby bulls are exchanged every three years. Two or three years later the animals are swapped back again if the original owners want them."

FRENCH AUTOMOBILE TELLS ITS OWN STORY

PARIS, Nov. 25. (AP)—An automobile that talks is the latest Boulevard sensation. Strollers admiring a chassis in the show rooms of one of France's most popular makes were startled to hear a hollow, grating voice coming from the entrails of the machine. "Before you, you have the famous D14 1925 model," it said and proceeded to reel off a fine line of selling talk.

The management claims that the phonographic salesman is bringing more business than any two living experts. It has the additional advantage of costing nothing, for the makers of the phonograph are only too glad to provide it free for the sake of the publicity.

PRINCE OF WALES MAKES "VALE" DANCE POPULAR

LONDON, Nov. 25. (AP)—The Yale Blues has shored the Hebble Jubilee and all other dances off the floor now that the Prince of Wales has taken it up.

The Yale was introduced here months ago, but it did not exactly click in all society circles until the news got round that the Prince liked the newest American step, and then it immediately became the rage.

Now dances for the winter include what is known as "the rhythm," a new kind of dance for the English public. Unlike some of the other modern dances, it is considered to be graceful.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 26. (AP)—Ruth Remus, 29, slender and pretty brunette was called as today's star witness for the prosecution in the murder trial of George Remus, her foster-father.

In a beautiful Indian summer morning six weeks ago she saw the man who had legally adopted her, run down her mother, innocent Holmes Remus and shoot her to death as she tried to save her life by flight through Eden park.

Spend Lives With Poultry

Misses Margaret and Martha Strick have grown up in the chicken business near Grand Rapids, Mich., under tutelage of their father, Jacob Strick, 80, shown at right.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 26.—Two women have helped develop this region as the Petaluma of the Middle West.

They are Misses Margaret and Martha Strick, whose chicken hatchery near here is one of the largest and finest in the district. Several years ago Jacob Strick, their father, started the chicken business as a small sideline enterprise. Today, at 89, he's retired and his two daughters carry it on with great success.

From small beginnings, this region has developed one of the largest chick shipping centers in the country, say its members. They have formed the Michigan Poultrymen's association and cooperate their activities as one enterprise.

Today millions of new-born chicks are shipped to market in parcel post containers, going to practically every point in the country. The industry has grown so rapidly in the past five years that now it supports 85 big hatcheries, each with a million or more eggs capacity.

Three years ago the post office at Zeeland, from which most of the district's chicks are mailed, was a fourth class station. Today, thanks to great chick business, it has risen to first class rank. It reveals the rapid progress of this section in the breeding and sale of chicks.

From the latter part of March until June, when shipments are heaviest, the Zeeland office handles in the neighborhood of five million potential ingredients for salads and Sunday chicken dinners. The chicks are sorted according to size, breed and quality and are shipped 100 to the crate.

At the height of the season, it is estimated, approximately one million chicks are hatched each week.

Eleven years ago, Craig county, Virginia, had no purebred bulls. This year the county reports a 100 per cent purebred bull basis.

LOSE MUCH CORN

The black-bundle disease has cut the corn crop of Oklahoma this year considerably.

BIRTH RATE HIGHER

In a given population, for every 11 children born in the city, there is 15 born on farms.

MORE GERMAN CRIMES SHOWN BY STATISTICS

BERLIN, Nov. 25. (AP)—Latest crime statistics in Germany reveal a decided increase compared with the pre-war period. The peak seems to have been reached in the immediate post-war and inflation period.

Sentences for murder and perjury have almost doubled. Petty and grand larceny convictions tripled in 1921 as against 1912, but have now receded in double the 1912 figure. Arson is but half as prevalent as before the war.

Leniency with criminals is blamed for the increase which threatens to choke Germany in crime as those "human" methods have succeeded in doing in the United States, sociologists and editors here comment.

Farm Hints

The advance in the price of cotton, dairy products and poultry products are chiefly responsible for an advance in farmers' purchasing power, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. "The cotton belt, the cattle states, the northwestern apple districts are all in better shape," the report reads.

While the cotton crop is approximately a third smaller than last year, according to October estimates, the price is more than a third higher. Gauged by October prices, this year's crop could be sold for nearly $200,000,000 more than last year's production.

The best medium used by the government in the making of irrigation canals is a mixture of one-half adobe-shale and one-half sand and gravel material. The canals and laterals of the Rio Grande project conducted by the government are dug through silt. This type of conductor was found to lose 71 per cent of its delivery.

According to W. J. Morse, of the Department of Agriculture, soy bean growing is a branch of agriculture in which the national supply does not meet the demand. Last year we imported 31,000,000 pounds of soy bean oil, 12,000,000 pounds of soy bean cake and 4,000,000 pounds of soy beans.

Spring wheat growers of Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana have paid railroad companies $2,500,000 for "dockage" during the last four years. Weed seed, transported with the wheat through neglect of separating, caused this loss and made the cost of wheat per bushel about 1.5 cents lower than if the wheat had entered the market free from weed seed.

EAT MORE—LAY MORE

D. C. Kennard, of the Ohio experiment station, urges all poultry dealers to feed their hens more if they want winter eggs. The average hen requires 5 to 6 pounds of feed a month just to live. For profitable egg production she must eat about a pound more.
