Markets PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 29. (AP)—Egg prices are steady today with the exception of standard firsts which were reduced a cent at the dairy exchange meeting yesterday afternoon to 34c, restoring the usual margin between firsts and second which were both 35c. The market is showing a heavy undertone as dealers anticipate lower prices due to an influx of a run of fresh eggs at any time now. Receipts yesterday were moderate. Butter prices today are also steady with the exception of standard cubes which are a cent lower at 45c. The market is inclined to dullness with demand light. No withdrawals were made from storage supplies yesterday. In the poultry division, prices are firm although demand is light. Turkeys are moving fair-

By well and indications are that the market will easily absorb the offerings which come during the next few days at steady prices. Shipments are considerably lighter than was anticipated and dealers do not expect to carry over any considerable supply over the week end. Country dressed meats are steady at yesterday's prices. The apple market is slow with buying at primary points dropping off as the season nears the end. Prices show no material change. Stocks of western cranberries are practically cleaned up on the local produce market and what little is offered is in big demand between $7 and $7.50 per box. Eastern berries are also higher, moving mostly at $23.00 per barrel.

Constable Cake Forgets Badge; Kegs Disappear

SANTA ROSA, Dec. 29. (UP)—It's exaggerated, he insists, but this story about Constable Homer Cake persisted in going the rounds anyhow: The driver of a couple was arrested for violating headlight laws. When he entered the garage at Geyersville, the motorist was asked by Constable Cake to explain the presence in the car of several kegs. "What's it to you? You're not an officer," said the driver. "Oh, is that so?" snapped the constable. "I'll show you." He flipped back the lapel of his coat, but where the badge usually reposes there was nothing but a broad expanse of chest. Constable Cake recalled that he had left it home, on another pair of suspenders. He went home for his badge.

AWAIT DEPORTATION

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 29. (UP)—Gregory Yanda, 44, writer said to have threatened to kill Pola Negri and himself because the screen actress failed "to reciprocate" his love, was waiting deportation today following his arrest by immigration inspectors. Yanda, according to the officers, was a bolshevist educator in Russia in 1921, and smuggled himself into the country through Mexico in 1923. His infatuation for the famous actress grew out of a rejection slip her agents sent him when he submitted a scenario to her. It was said.

PARIS, Dec. 29. (UP)—Three sailors of the French navy despatch boat Remiremont, enroute from Cherbourg to Brest, were killed today by steam escaping from a pipe which was broken when the vessel was buffeted in a storm.

Moose Bothering Oregon Families

ADA, Ore., Dec. 29. (UP)—The moose may be a wonderful beast in the north woods or in the stories of "northern folk" fictionists, but they are a nuisance to Oregon families. Nine head of state owned and protected moose roam the Oregon woods and, although more than half the state is wild and virgin territory, the animals insist upon being civilized, and destructive. Petitions for the removal of the moose are now being circulated here, it being contended that the moose destroy gardens, smash fences, ruin fruit trees and raised Old Ned in general. The petitions are addressed to the Oregon game commission. Portland—Old Atwater telephone exchange replaced by $412,000 investment in dial system equipment.
